LOCAL AND PERSONAL NEWS.

Regained your equilibrium?
The wood working factory is operating with a full crew.
City Treasurer Shafford was in Portland today on business.
Grant B. Dimick was orator of the day, July 4, at Wilsonville.
The Estacada Sabbath school and its friends held a picnic in the park today.
Ray Havens and William Jones were on the special police force the Fourth.
The Lemon boys, today, bought four valuable Southdown sheep of the local meat market.
Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Surface have been employed by the school board to teach in the Estacada school the coming school year.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rich went up the Willamette valley last Sunday to visit Mrs. Rich's people. Ed. returned a widower, Wednesday.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landwehr are again in possession of the Park hotel, and are preparing to make it the headquarters of the public and traveling fraternity.
Mrs. W. A. Cunningham has been in the doctors' care the past week, for typhoid fever. The physicians report her improving which her friends and neighbors are pleased to hear.
The ferns and wild daisies which grow so luxurantly on the vacant lots about town lend an entrancing beauty to the city's looks. Everything in this world seems to have been produced for a purpose, and this growth of wild weeds serve as cover to the piles of old lumber remaining about the town. Clean up! Clean up, and use as fire wood the old rubbish left from building.

E. C. HUNT, Estacada, Oregon

cured on the evening of July 2, 1905 at Fir Lodge, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Heylman in Estacada, when their son, H. W. Heylman and Mabel Pearl Warren were joined in wedlock, Rev. H. E. Stubbs officiating. The ceremony took place in the evening on the lawn which had been beautifully arranged and decorated with wild flowers and ferns. During the ceremony the bride and groom stood under a large bell made of fern and flowers and hung from the fir trees. The lawn was lighted by lamps hung about the trees and in the darkness of the evening the effect was most beautiful. The bride was dressed in embroidered net over white silk and carried a bouquet of Marguarites, Fox Gloves and Ocean Spray, all wild flowers of Oregon. After the wedding the happy couple received the good wishes of all present, and then a lap luncheon was served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Heylman, Mr. and Mrs. S. Heylman, D. C. Heylman, Mrs. E. B. Kendall, Mrs. B. O. Boswell, Mrs. H. E. Stubbs and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Williams. Monday, the young couple left for their home in Spokane where Mr. Heylman has a position as head of the carpet department in the store of Pratt, Robbins & Co. large furniture dealers.
