At about 12 o'clock Monday night there was considerable noise in the vicinity of the city jail, and from the tone and language used it could not have been a Sunday School affair. On the strength of a dynamite proposition the noise subsided, but we understand someone spent a part of the night in jail.

A reunion and picnic dinner of the following relatives and friends was held in the city park last Sunday: J. W. Irwin and wife, W. S. Irwin and family, Ed. Miller and family, Wallace Miller and family, Dave Miller and family, E. F. Surface and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Duke and others whose names we were unable to learn.
