long dry season up the valley gave the young birds time to put on good size. A hunter's license costs $1 and its a good idea to have your license before starting out.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Williams and daughter, Miss Bessie, of Norton, Kan. were here this week renewing acquaintances with their old friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Holder who used to live near Norton.

Last week Mrs. E. S. Womer and family arrived from La Troube, Pa. and the genial ex-assistant postmaster is all smiles. They are already housekeeping and are going to make this their permanent home. Mr. Womer has secured a three years' lease to the Shafford place. With Mr. Womer's famiy also came Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dale and family from La Troube. Dwelling accomodations will be erected so that both families can live on the Shafford property. Mr. Dale is a cousin of Mr. Womer. The members of both families number sixteen, eight in each, and constitute quite an acquisition to the young city's population.

E. L. Meyers has resigned his position as local ticket and freight agent in Estacada for the O. W. P. & Ry. Co. to take place on Saturday, this week. Roy has been with the company for three years and a half, having by faithful and efficient service worked up to his present, responsible position which he has filled with satisfaction to the company and to the business men of Estacada whom he has served in an obliging and able manner. He opened the Estacada office April 1st, 1904. Mr. Meyers goes to Spokane where he will occupy a better position in the Chicago, Milwaukee & St Paul's contracting freight office. Roy has many friends among the social and business world here who regret to have him leave, but who wish him success and preferment in his new field.

Help make it 100,000.
There was no meeting of the city councilmen Tuesday evening.

Miss June Oakley has been engaged as teacher at Lind, Wash.

Mert Obert is at home again assisting in the care of his mother.

Quite a number of Estacada people spent last Sunday in Portland.

John Stormer is having an addition built to his residence on the farm.

Irons are being laid along the E. B. & T. Co's tramway ready to be put down.

A new supply of men's gloves for fall and winter wear has just been put in at Reed & Barr's.

Plans are under way for a play house for Estacada, and a 10-cent, continuous vaudeville may soon be in the town.

Mrs. H. W. Edwards is suffering from a painful accident. She accidentally stepped on a nail and received a bad hurt.

Estacada's young lovers will find the new sidewalks fine for promenading when the rains set in and the countryside is wet.

Fd. Hunt went down to the picnic given by the grange at Barton, last Saturday, and dispensed sweet strains of happy music thru the air.

E. Ridgeway has a patch of Burbank potatoes that is giving a yield of 12 pounds of fine spuds per hill. That is in the famous Springwater country.

R. A. Stratton is building a new residence at the corner of Broadway and Fifth streets. The house is a five room one-story cottage 24x28 with spacious porches on each end. Contractors Lindsey and Gilstrap are doing the work.

The hunting season for Chinese pheasants opens next Sunday. It is said there are more of these birds this season than ever before. The
