

For Lung Troubles

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral certainly cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, consumption. And it certainly strengthens weak throats and weak lungs. There can be no mistake about this. You know it is true. And your own doctor will say so.

"My little boy had a terrible cough. I tried everything I could hear of but in vain until I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first night he was better, and he steadily improved until he was perfectly well."—Mrs. S. J. STEELE, Alton, Ill.

The Search for Paul Jones' Body.

Back of the coming home of the body of John Paul Jones, to rest in the crypt of our new Naval Academy, lies the story of General Horace Porter's six years' quest, impeded by many obstacles, successful at last, with overwhelming evidence in favor of the identification of the body. The full story of this research General Porter tells for the first time in the October Century.

"Upon assuming charge of our embassy in Paris and finding myself among the old landmarks which are still honored there as recalling the many historic incidents in the sojourn of Paul Jones in that brilliant capital," says General Porter, "I felt a deep sense of humiliation as an American citizen in realizing that our first and most fascinating naval hero had been lying for more than a century in an unknown and forgotten grave and that no successful attempt had ever been made to recover his remains and give them appropriate sepulture in the land upon whose history he had shed so much luster."

Among the illustrations of the article is one showing the face of the recovered body, compared with the Hudson bust.

Laughs at $5 Each.

"Insulting behavior" is a very elastic charge in Australia. It may cover anything from pitch-and-toss to manslaughter. Its latest application comes from Bendigo.

In that golden city, where the late Marquis of Salisbury tried his luck as a digger, the authorities of a Methodist Church, decided to suppress juvenile giggling. They introduced a policeman in plain clothes, and he detected a couple of small boys laughing during the evening service.

The boys were brought into court on a charge of "insulting behavior" and fined $5 each.—London Chronicle.

SERMONS OF THE WEEK

Life—God helps and perpetuates those who endeavor to learn how to live and to know the laws of life.—Rev. F. O. Hales, Episcopalian, New York City.

Earnestness—Moral earnestness is the outgrowth not only of clear views, but also of a certain serious attitude toward life and truth and opportunity.—Rev. H. M. Slocum, Episcopalian, Colorado Springs, Col.

Wealth—Wealth is power, but power must be swayed by humanitarian purpose or its exercise tends to make one a heartless tyrant instead of a kindly and lovable human being.—Rev. David Utter, Unitarian, Denver, Col.

Character—Mental quickness counts, natural shrewdness counts, a retentive memory counts, physical strength counts, but the thing that counts most, I say, is character.—Rev. W. R. Huntington, Episcopalian, New York City.

Needs of the Times—The needs of the times are men who will devote themselves to the higher ideals of art, education, good government and living, and not simply to commerce.—Rev. W. S. Marquis, Presbyterian, Rock Island, Ill.

Selfishness—Selfishness has made men indifferent to the rights of others and careless that the innocent must suffer. Out of this selfishness has grown a half conviction that might makes right.—Rev. P. H. Swift, Methodist, Chicago, Ill.

The Unselfish Church—The only organization that unselfishly loves humanity and never gets discouraged and will not rest until mankind is saved is the time-tried and persecution-tested Christian church.—Rev. F. E. Hopkins, Congregationalist, Chicago, Ill.

Heart Impressions—We must guard every avenue through which the heart may receive debasing, false and immoral impressions, as we would guard against adulterated food, poison or infectious disease.—Rev. Dr. McMillen, Methodist, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Value of Life—History shows that the real value of life comes from the growth of the soul. This is the testimony of the rich as well as the poor. No life is strong which does not grow in moral attainment.—Rev. J. M. Taylor, Presbyterian, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Home Life—We would recommend a cultivation of those homely virtues that make the family life attractive. It is the loss of home life that makes the white light, yes the red light districts of this city so pleasing.—Rev. G. W. Grinton, Methodist, New York City.

To those doctors, ministers, railroad employes and others who must work Sundays let another day be assigned for their day of rest, so that no man in all our country will be compelled to be without his period for recuperation.—Rev. W. H. Wilson, Presbyterian, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Independence—Independence is more popular to-day than interdependence, but absolute independence is an impossible relation; that the law of intimate connection and mutual dependence binds the whole human family in an inseparable bond of unity.—Rev. K. B. Tupper, Baptist, Philadelphia, Pa.

Russia—Russia has been the only obstacle to the full realization of modern European ideals in enlightened government. It shows the last vestiges of the barbaric age, from which the rest of Europe has happily emancipated itself. If 1492 saw the beginning of a new era, the year 1905 will hereafter be known as the year when the last traces of the mediaeval spirit disappeared with the crushing of Russia's Power.—Rev. A. C. Rubenstein, Hebrew, Baltimore, Md.

A Hard Question.

Modern Maid—I wish some advice. Old Lady—Certainly, my dear. What is it?

Modern Maid—Shall I marry a man whose tastes are the opposite of mine, and quarrel with him? or shall I marry a man whose tastes are the same as mine, and get tired of him?

How She Landed Him.

Edith—Papa told me to tell you you mustn't come here any more. He says you are a dangerous man.

Edward—Dangerous man! What does he mean?

Edith—He says you're the sort of a fellow who will hang around a girl for years and never marry her.

Careless application of the whip has blinded many horses.
