Miss Ida Harkinrider came home and remained during Christmas.

Its dollars to doughnuts you don't feel a bit better for having that good time.

Estacada experienced a very quiet Christmas, and everybody was on good behavior.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Barr and Max Aroldt left Estacada last Saturday for Portland.

Mrs. R. C. Herring and daughter spent Christmas time at James Gutridge's, Springwater.

F. M. Lantz and wife went down to Gresham and spent the day with Mrs. Lantz's people.

The city schools will resume the winter term again Tuesday morning of next week.

J. R. Townsend, the village shoe artist, ate Christmas dinner with his family at Boring.

Mrs. G. H. Lichthorn has nearly recovered from her illness, under the care of a physician.

George Shultz won the gun that was raffled Monday. Now George will soon capture a deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Walsh went to Portland and ate Christmas dinner with Mrs. W's parents.

Willard Grabel, who buys grain for Balfour, Guthrie & Co. in Eastern Oregon, is here spending a few days with his family.

Mrs. W. A. Heylman departed last week for Spokane where she will spend a few weeks with her son, Harry, and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Young were out from Portland and spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. H. A. Williams, and family.

Mayor Reed stopped work on his numerous business blocks, residence buildings and flats in the city and spent his Christmas at home.

H. W. Green and Al. Heavens are going to give a big masquerade ball in the Estacada park pavilion on Monday night, January 1, 1906, New Years.

Eva Kissler went to Woodburn, where her parents reside, and spent Christmas. Estella Womer took care of the postoffice and hello post during her absence.

Miss Cora Yocum, who is home from Corvallis, returns to her school work next week. She is pleased with the school, and has successfully passed all her examinations.

The short strip of road between the high bridge and the railroad has been planked by the city, and those who have occasion to drive that way are more or less thankful.

The Estacada Oddfellow lodge is going to have an oyster supper on Saturday evening of this week. All visiting members are invited. The dinner is for the lodge members only.

A very pleasant Christmas party took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Simmons on the D. F. Warner place. Friends were out from town and with neighbors they had one of the enjoyable events of the season.

The News home received a present Christmas which was good enough for the president's family. It was a basket of beautiful Baldwin apples; red, luscious fruit, such as Oregon can produce. They were the gift of John Stormer.

We want two houses and lots, must be cheap. We have the customers.—The Bank of Estacada.

Found—Near the I. O. O. F. hall a pair of gold-bowed spectacles. Owner can find same at The News office.

W. Gehrkens, the German-Swiss watch maker, has been rushed to the limit with work. If you have work to be done make an early appointment.

Work at the brick factory and the wood-working factory has been shut down the first of the week to give the people employed there a rest and time to enjoy the holidays.

Milton Oakley dropped in town Tuesday on a visit to relatives and friends. He was on his return from Seattle where he spent Christmas with his sisters, Mary and Eonia, who are teachers in the Ballard city schools.

Do all the good you can, and give others all the enjoyment you can, still adversities and disease are liable to overcome you. Mary Johnston, author of "Janice Meredith" and "To Have and To Hold" is dying of Bright's disease.

There is not much time left for you to finish and close up the work and great schemes which you promised yourself you would accomplish in 1905. Time has no patience to wait for the one who is behind, and the only thing to do is to try to overtake it.

The rag and hard time dance in the pavilion Monday night was well attended and a success. More than forty-five couples were out in their fine, old rags, tattered and torn. The prizes for the best ragged costumes were given to Miss Judd and Mr. E. Heiple.

And Ed. Hunt is back. Mr. Hunt went to Iowa, his old home state, a couple months ago. He has enjoyed his visit back there, but the weather was too much for one used to Oregon's mild, salubrious climate, and he came back. However, Ed. looks fine, and the girls must have treated him well, though his friends are pleased to see him back—single.

In speaking with a prominent citizen of Estacada it was learned that he has known M'Kinley of land fraud fame since the latter was a kid knee high to a grasshopper. It seems that M'Kinley is a natural born gambler, and was never known to honestly earn a dollar. Yet, this man, with Puter, another just as bad, is permitted to have his freedom, when in fact they deserve the same kind of treatment as was meted out to the Daltons, the James and Younger boys.

Don't ask a girl to marry you after dark when she is dressed fit to kill. Call on her and when you go inadvertently drop a glove on the piano. Return for it next morning at 7. If she comes to the door with one shoe and a slipper on, her hair done up in curl papers, dressed in an old Mother Hubbard, our advice is to take to the woods. But if she appears in a neat house dress, her hair done up and a rose in the top of her hair, grab her quickly.—Marionville Free Press.

A woman living not so very far from here commissioned her husband while in the city to buy a motto for the Sabbath school. After he had left it suddenly occurred to her that she had not told him the desired inscription nor the proper size of the card. Going to the telegraph office, she wrote out a message to her husband containing the necessary information, and handed it to the operator. It was as follows:

John Anderson, Portland, Oregon "Unto Us a Child Is Born,—eight feet long and five feet wide."

George Stratton has taken a position as store manager in J. W. Reed's store. Mr. Stratton is an experienced merchant, having been in business in Belle Plains, Minnesota, previous to coming here. He is a druggist also.

Prof. E. F. Surface is taking advantage of the holiday vacation to have a little country sport and recreation playing hide-and-go-seek with the denizens of the mountains.

The city council met Tuesday evening as usual. Mayor Reed and Councilmen Haviland and Howe were the only ones present. There not being a quorum present the meeting was adjourned without any business being done.

The local merchants have enjoyed a very good holiday trade. As is always the way a great number put off their holiday purchasing until just before Christmas. This always causes a rush, and oftentimes creates the impression that there is more business than there really is. However, the trade was very gratifying.

School Bonds Are Sold

The Bonds to Raise Money To Build School House For Estacada Sold

The bonds which Estacada school district voted for a few times last summer have been sold. County Treasurer Enos Cahill opened the sealed bids for the purchase of the bonds last Saturday, and found the bid of County Judge Thomas F. Ryan the highest and most acceptable offer. Mr. Ryan paid a premium of $51 for the bonds which are for $5,000 to run not longer than ten years and to bear interest at 5 per cent. Morris Brothers, brokers, of Portland, were bidders, and they offered par value for the bonds. The money realized from the sale of these bonds will be used to build a new, modern four-room school building for Estacada and to furnish the same. It is not at all likely, however, that construction work on the new house will be begun until after the summer weather again sets in. The money lies with the county treasurer and is subject to the order of the Estacada school board.
