JAN. 4, 1906

The "Board of Trade" of Oregon City recently made a report on what "it" accomplished for "Clackamas county" during the past year. If the honorable board could see farther than the limits of Oregon City, it might be becoming for it to talk about what it has accomplished for Clackamas county, but under the present circumstances, the board's bragging is ridiculous.

Was Insured for $3000

Clayton Wentz of Portland was a business visitor to Estacada last Saturday. Mr. Wentz is one of the Special Agents of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. Immediately upon receipt of the news of the death of Al Cary of Springwater, Mr. Wentz brought the necessary blanks and had them filled out and certified to so that there may be as little delay as possible in the payment of the insurance. Mr. Wentz informs us that he secured Mr. Cary's application for a policy on his life with the Mutual Life late last Sept. Those who have known Mr. Cary for any length of time are not surprised that he purchased a policy when the subject was properly presented. In fact they would have been surprised if it had been otherwise, since he has always been a kind husband and a careful provider. He did, however, contemplate waiting till next spring, feeling that he would not take very great risk in waiting. Mr. Wentz persuaded him that to delay a matter of so great importance for even a week was unwise. The sad facts in the case prove the wisdom of the argument which induced Mr. Cary to insure when he did. The Mutual Life Insurance Co. is noted, among other things, for its prompt payment of all death claims. Mr. Cary carried a $3000 policy on which he paid but one premium.

Dangers of a Cold and How to Avoid Them. More fatalities have their origin in or result from a cold than from any other cause. This fact alone should make people more careful as there is no danger whatever from a cold when it is properly treated in the beginning. For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been recognized as the most prompt and effective medicine in use for this disease. It acts on nature's plan, loosens the cough, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Sold by Estacada drug store.

The Grip. "Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves." No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, or which so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy, not one case has ever been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that hasn't recovered. For sale by the Estacada Drug Store.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

The reason why women don't keep a secret is because they cannot see the good in having a secret if you don't make the most of it. If the ordinary man had his way, everything with which he had to do would be as one sided as a jug handle. Some people find it easy to make fools of themselves because they have such excellent material to work with.

The reason that you find a thing in the last place you think of looking for it is that when you find it you quit looking.

There are some women who can see why their husbands the less to play golf all day than they do to mow the lawn, but not many.

It is not always just to judge a woman's cooking by the appetite that her husband takes out to dinner.

The difference between a crank and an eccentric person is that the latter has money.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN H. SMITH. PERT PARAGRAPHS. Some people are curious to hear the truth told just to know how it sounds.

It takes two to make a bargain unless it is at the bargain counter; then the head of the department makes scores with one sweep of his pencil.

Men's inhumanity to man makes countless feminine creatures flirt for all that's out with any man that comes along.

A bat doesn't look large enough to carry a man, yet you often hear of a husky 200 pounder going on a bat.

There is a class of men who would like information on how to appear to be working though idle.

People who are fond of vague elusive reminiscences should always order hash.

He Knows All About It. The city boy, turned Farmer John. To end the tricks is catching on. He knows a chick'en from a cow. A three horse binder from a plow. And his ears tell you right away. He'll gather all his haystacks in. And whitewash his potato bin.

When he has taught the calf to squeal And fed the pig-killer on oatmeal And milled the cows three times a day 'Cause butter's high and such things pay, He'll really feel he knows a lot. That he can tell you what is what.

He'll wear his whiskers pretty long. He'll lay his muscles tough and strong. He'll come to town his roll to blow. He'll view the sights and see the show. And some wise guy that's smooth and slick Will sell to him the same old brick.

He Took the Hint. Fortune Hunter—There are some people who are just crazy on the subject "How to make a fortune." He'll—Yes, but I am only interested in how to keep one.
