GARFIELD

Wm. Straight of Estacada was a recent Garfield visitor.

John Patterson of Portland and Wm. Perry of Salem are visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Mrs. Dr. Charlton has returned to Portland.

A Mr. Taylor of Hood River was in Garfield a few days since. He was viewing the country in the interests of his fellow townsmen who are contemplating a change. He was well pleased with this section, and spoke of it in a meritorious manner.

James Hatton, who is interested in the Ogle Mountain mines in this county, was a recent Garfield visitor. He reports progress at the mines, and thinks that they have a paying proposition. So far the results have exceeded their expectations. The development of this, and other mining properties on Ogle Mountain, means much to Clackamas County.

The Garfield Sunday school have elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Walter Lemon Supt., Mrs. C. Looney, Asst. Supt.; Mrs. W. Shriner, Sec.; Miss Olive Wagner, Treas. In the selection of these officers the Sunday school have secured an efficient corps of workers.

Ray Wilcox has returned from a visit with relatives in Oaksdale, Washington.

The Grip

"Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves." No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, or which so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy, not one case has ever been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that hasn't recovered. For sale by the Estacada Drug Store.

DODGE NEWS

Messrs Jas. Marrs and Wm. Myers were out hunting cougars Tuesday.

Rev. Blair of Springwater visited Dodge one day last week.

Ray Marrs and Neil Gordon have been sawing wood for Jas. Marrs.

W. E. Myers has his dam almost finished. When completed it will be a great improvement to his mill.

Frank Bittner has been seen in the vicinity of the Dodge school house quite frequently lately.

There will be an entertainment at the Dodge school assisted by local talent. All are cordially invited to attend. Admission free. Behold Dodge Develop!

Coyote Escapade

New Year's morning Mrs. F. Wehrheim was the heroine in a meeting with a coyote. She was on the way to her brother, J. P. Steinman's, near Currinsville when she came face to face with an animal, the likes of which she had never seen. It was about thirty feet away, but upon seeing Mrs. Wehrheim the beast quietly crept away. Upon arriving at her brother's she told of her strange meeting, and three of the bravest hunters in the county, Severin Kircham, Philip Steinman and Norman Linn, with the latter's two hounds, started in pursuit of Mr. Coyote. The dogs soon had the scent and then followed a chase of an hour and a half. Finally the coyote happened too close to Norman who sent a ball from his never-failing rifle straight to the animal's heart. It was a fine shot as the coyote was passing the marksman. Noah Stingley will now be considered a back number as the best rifle shot around here.

These Are Willing to Serve Their Country

D. R. Dimick is also a candidate for the office of sheriff along with the rest of the numerous aspirants for the place. For county clerk, Fred W. Greenman, the present incumbent of the office, wishes election. Mr. Greenman was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Frank Sleight. Milton Lake of Boring is also a candidate. He was in the field two years ago.

C. E. Ramsby, the present deputy, will ask for the nomination of county recorder. There are also E. P. Dedman of Clackamas and J. L. Waldron of Oregon City who may ask for the recorder's office.

There is to be one commissioner elected next spring, and among the candidates are W. H. Mattoon of the East end of the county, W. H. Council of the county seat, and J. C. Brobst of Wilsonville, one of the present board.

So far three have been mentioned for treasurer—J. C. Paddock of the town of Clackamas, J. A. Tufts of Oregon City and Commissioner J. C. Brobst.

For coroner, an office that can be worked profitably with the undertaking business, there are J. W. McNulty and W. M. Shank of Gladstone, Frank Newton of Oregon City, and Doctors H. Hickman and H. S. Mount.

J. W. Meldrum will perhaps be retained in the county surveyor's office.

Elected Officers

The Union Sunday School held their semi-annual election of officers last Sunday morning. The meeting was well attended everyone taking an active part, which made the election a very spirited one. The Sunday School has been growing quite rapidly for the past three months and there are very few vacant seats. Every body has a cordial invitation to come and help by their presence. The Sunday school is held every Sunday morning at 10:15. The officers elected are—Mrs. H. A. Williams, Supt.; Iva Dale, Asst. Supt.; Vida Dale, Sec.; Edna Womer, Treas.; Organist, Mrs. E. F. Surface. The classes chosen teachers as follows: Bible class, Mrs. N. Welter; Young People's class, Mrs. T. J. Reagan; Boys' class, Stella Womer; Girls' class, Iva Dale; Primary class, Mrs. J. T. Page.

The Shafford-Eckerson Electric Co. of Portland is a new firm that has started doing business at 230 Second street, Portland. The company is composed of C. C. Shafford and A. W. Eckerson, both young men who got their start in Estacada. The new firm is already doing a thriving business. Mr. Eckerson's family will move to the city as soon as they can find a renter for their property here.

C. G. Cathcart, who has been filling the position of railroad surveyor for the O. W. P. & Ry. Co. at Cazadere, has been promoted a round or two in the ladder of fame, and will have full charge of the survey work on the Cedarville to Troutdale extension. They will make Portland their home.

The council met in regular session, Tuesday evening, Mayor Reed came in from the city Portland and presided. The only important business transacted a few bills allowed. Discussion was had in regards to the water system right-of-way and several other minor questions.

M. Padoshek, who purchased M. C. Adkin's saloon business and fixtures, received word last week Thursday that his wife had died very suddenly in Portland, and Mr. Padoshek left at once for the city.

It is understood that he does not intend to return to Estacada and that the brewery company backing the business will look after it.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Martinez, formerly of the Hotel Estacada have taken the Perkins Restaurant at the Hotel Perkins in Portland, to manage. It was their intention to have gone to San Francisco, but Portland friends persuaded them to remain here. They will always be pleased to see their friends from Estacada at their new home when in Portland.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Some men who would delight in standing in the lap of luxury can't find even standing room there.

It is indeed a sin to steal a pin, particularly if a diamond is attached to one end of it.

When looking over his bill you decide that the ice man is a chilly proposition.

It is much easier to be a philosopher if a man has his board paid a few weeks ahead.

When the temper of an old bachelor begins to soften you may lay long odds that the life of some girl is impugning on his.

If the woman who didn't marry because she didn't get a chance could be found she might get a good job in the museum.

There may be something worse smelling than secondhand spring onions, but it is not in general use.

We read about the king of England having a breakfast at 6 o'clock in the evening, but he can have breakfast whenever he feels like it, for it is always sunrise somewhere in his domain.

Reform should begin at home, but it is much more comfortable to have it start a block away.

When a man says nothing and saws wood you may take it for granted that he cannot find words to express his disgust with the job.

Wooded Features.
 Where the ground in little hillocks
 Crumples up and rolls away
 Wild flowers lift their fragrant faces,
 Smiling at the king of day.

Deep ravines are fringed with blossoms,
 Dainty, fragile, sentiment things;
 Johnny-jump-ups peep from mosses
 Through their winter coverings.

Clumps of cowslips in the meadows
 Flaunt their heads of gleaming gold,
 Dazzling bits of flashing color,
 Lighting up the meadow mold.

Buttercups their painted chalices
 Hold to catch the drops of dew,
 But the sweetest of the blossoms
 Are these willing pansies blue.

For their tender little faces,
 Gold rays shooting through the blue,
 Always seem to whisper, sweetheart,
 Of the trusting eyes of you.
