"These shoes will be all right," said the salesman, "after you have got them broken in." The young man, who had been hesitating between that pair and one a size larger, took the salesman's word for it, and purchased the shoes. A week later he came back to the store with a perceptible limp.
"I wish you'd stretch these shoes," he said. "They hurt my feet terribly."
"Haven't you got them broken in yet?" asked the salesman.
"Oh, yes," said the young man. "The trouble is that I can't get my feet broken in."

Was Too Honest.
Honesty is one of the leading principles taught in the public schools and the teachers begin early to impress the value of this trait in character on the minds of the youngest pupils. A South Chicago teacher had a pupil who gave her much sorrow by his unfortunate habit of fibbing on every possible occasion. One day she kept him after school and gave him a serious "talking to." "Just look at the life of George Washington," she said, "he couldn't tell a lie." "Huh," remarked the unregenerate youth, "what was the matter with him?"

His Main Fault.
"But why should you worry over your son?" said the incubator drummer. "You said he was cut out for something great?"
"That's just the trouble," sighed the old farmer. "He is so slow that every time he gets an opportunity somebody jumps ahead an' cuts him out."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or buzzing in the ears, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; and it is out of the ear caused by a catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Could Not Trust Him.
After a wordy argument in which neither scored two Irishmen decided to fight it out. It was agreed, says the Washington Post, that when either said "I've enough" the fight should cease.
After they had been at it about ten minutes one of them fell, and immediately called, "Enough, I've enough!"
But his opponent kept on pounding him until a man who was watching them said:
"Why don't you let him up? He says he's got enough."
"I know he says so," said the victor, between punches, "but he's a word a liar you can't believe he says!"

RHEUMATISM

BODY RACKED WITH PAIN

No other bodily suffering is equal to that produced by the pain of Rheumatism. When the poisons and acids, which cause this disease, become entrenched in the blood there is hardly any part of the body that is not affected. The muscles become sore and drawn, the nerves twitch and sting, the joints inflame and swell, the bones ache, every movement is one of agony, and the entire body is racked with pain. Rheumatism is brought on by indigestion, stomach troubles, torpid liver, weak kidneys and a general inactive state of the system. The refuse matter instead of passing off through nature's avenues is left to sour and form uric acid, and other acid poisons which are absorbed into the all alike. In some cases it takes a wandering form; it may be in the arms or legs one day and in the shoulders, feet, hands, back or other parts of the body the next. Others suffer more seriously, and are never free from pain. The uric acid and other irritating substances find lodgment in the muscles and joints and as these deposits increase the muscles become stiff and the joints locked and immovable. It matters not in what form the disease may be the cause is always the same—a sour, acid condition of the blood. This vital stream has lost its purity and freshness, and instead of nourishing and feeding the different parts with health-giving properties, it fills them with the acids and salts of this painful and far-reaching disease. The cold and dampness of Winter always intensify the pains of Rheumatism, and the sufferer to get relief from the agony, rubs the affected parts with liniments, oils, lotions, etc., or uses plasters and other home remedies. These are desirable because they give temporary ease and comfort but have no effect on the real trouble which is in the blood and beyond the reach of such treatment. S. S. S. is the best remedy for Rheumatism, it goes into the blood and attacks the disease at its head, and by neutralizing and driving out the acids and building up the thin, sour blood it cures the disease permanently. While cleansing the blood S. S. S. tones up the stomach, digestion and every other part of the system, soothes the excited nerves, reduces the inflammation, dissolves the deposits in the joints, relieves all pain and completely cures this distressing disease. S. S. S. is a certain cure for Rheumatism in any form. Muscular, Inflammatory, Articular or Sciatic. Special book on the disease and any medical advice, without charge, to all who write. Books Written in Prison.
A publisher was talking about Oscar Wilde's strange book, "De Profundis," with its pathetic decoration of a bird beating its wings against the bars of a cell.
"Wilde's is not the first good book to have been written in jail," he said. "Jail, in fact, seems to be a good place to write books in. Literary men surpass themselves there."
"John Bunyan wrote 'Pilgrim's Progress' in jail."
"Cervantes wrote 'Don Quixote' in prison."
"Defoe laid the plans for 'Robinson Crusoe' during a term of confinement imposed on him for the writing of a pamphlet called 'The Shortest Way with the Dissenters.'"
"Leigh Hunt wrote 'Rimlin' in jail."
"Sir Walter Raleigh, during his fourteen years' imprisonment in the tower of London, wrote his excellent 'History of the World.'"
"Silvio Pellico and Tasao both did their best work in jail."

Losses From Insect Pests.
C. L. Marlate, the Department of Agriculture in Washington, has prepared a statement as to the loss by insect pests in the United States each year. He notes that the losses each year in all the plant products of the soil, both in the growing and in the stored state, together with those in live stock, exceed the entire expenditure of the national government, including the pension roll and the maintenance of the army and the navy. Placing the value of these products at $5,000,000,000 per year, he notes an annual shrinkage due to insect pests of fully 10 per cent—in many cases of 50 per cent; but at 10 per cent, $500,000,000 is "the minimum yearly tax which insects levy upon the products of the farm." This does not include loss to farm products in storage, $100,000,000; or to natural forest and food products, also $100,000,000; making a total annual loss of $700,000,000 directly traceable to insect pests.—From W. S. Harwood's "Saving California's Fruit Crops," in the February Century.

A Good Check.
As he took off his coat his wife said to him gently:
"You remember those eight letters I gave you to post three days ago?"
He started.
"Yes, I— I remember."
"But you didn't remember to mail them, did you?" she said sweetly.
"No, I didn't. How did you find it out?"
"Among them," she explained, "was a postal card addressed to myself. Since it didn't reach me, I knew you hadn't posted my mail. I shall always see this scheme in future. It only costs a cent, and it makes an excellent check on you. Now give me my letters, and I'll post them myself."

At Least a Help.
"Uncle David" was an Oldtown character, some of whose sayings have been put into black and white by Mr. Norton in his "Sketches" of that vicinity. David used to run rafter of lumber down the Penobscot, and was wont to boast that he "always sold to one man, and when he didn't sell to him, he sold to somebody else."
One day Uncle David was standing on the river bank when a stern-wheel steambot passed. He gazed long and thoughtfully at the vessel, and then, turning to a bystander, said, in a tone of deep conviction:
"That wheel is a great service to that boat."

Not as a Dish.
"Our English cousins," remarked the woman who has just returned from the land of John Bull, "do not wait until the arrival of Halloween to become interested in the tasty and nutritious nut. I was particularly impressed with their manner of serving conchuts, which are similar to though larger than our hazelnuts. For lunch or for tea these nuts were quite the most delicious things I ate. They were served fresh and green, with delicious brown bread and butter and a salad made of crisp white lettuce leaves, with a French dressing. Over these conchuts come, as a rule, from the neighborhood of Kent, England may be lacking in fruit, but she certainly takes advantage of many of her other products."

Wants Philippine Secretary.
Manila, Jan. 23.—T. H. Pardo de Tavera has resigned his position as a member of the United States Philippine commission, assigning as a reason his belief that the Philippines should have a portolito. His resignation has offered an opportunity for one of his colleagues to express a desire that in the future there be a Filipino delegate in congress. Commissioner Ide is receiving thousands of congratulations on his appointment as governor, which is universally approved, though many regret the transfer of ex-Governor Wright.

Trade With Russia.
Washington, Jan. 30.—Trade of the United States with Russia, including the Asiatic part, during the fiscal year of 1905 as shown by the record of the bureau of statistics of the department of Commerce and Labor, amounted to $28,800,000, of which $11,800,000 represented imports into the United States and $17,000,000 the exports of the United States to Russia. The figures are somewhat lower than the figures for the preceding year, when the total trade figures were in excess of $31,300,000.

Will Test Dry Farming.
Washington, Jan. 31.—While the department of Agriculture does not deny there is merit in what is known as the Campbell system of dry farming and while it is willing that all credit for that comparatively new system shall go to its instigator, there is a strong belief in the minds of irrigation officials of that department that the system should be carefully studied by the government in order that its limits also as well as its benefits may be discovered.

Irrigation Engineers Confer.
Washington, Jan. 22.—Irrigation engineers of the department of Agriculture, under the direction of Alwood Mead, are in conference in Washington to outline the work for the coming season. A. P. Stover, of Oregon, and H. O. Raebacher, of Idaho, are attending the meeting. These engineers are not connected with the Reclamation service, but make a special study of water resources, the use of water and drainage problems.

IN THE NATIONAL HALLS OF CONGRESS

Monday, January 29.
Washington, Jan. 29.—The Chinese boycott and the administration of the forest reserves divided the attention of the senate today. The Chinese question came up in connection with a resolution of Tillman, directing an investigation by the committee on immigration. Tillman modified the resolution by omitting the major portion of the preamble, and, after considerable discussion, it was referred to the committee on contingent expenses.
Heyburn raised the question regarding the reservation of forests. He sharply criticized the methods of the forestry bureau and charged it with maintaining a press bureau for the purpose of attacking him. He declined, however, to hold the president responsible for this course. He said that the course was calculated to retard the development of the West.

Wednesday, January 24.
Washington, Jan. 24.—When the smoke of the liveliest legislative battle of the session had cleared up in the house today, Speaker Cannon and his organization were in complete control and the joint statehood program of the administration had been adopted.
Previous to the vote the debate on the rule had proceeded under high tension. The speeches were short but the word uttered were hot and full of sting.
The rule adopted provides that the bill granting statehood to Oklahoma and the Indian Territory as "Oklahoma," and Arizona and New Mexico as "Arizona," should be debated until 3 o'clock tomorrow and then voted on without opportunity for debate. The house adjourned at 5:30 o'clock, after agreeing to meet at 11 o'clock tomorrow.

Thursday, January 25.
Washington, Jan. 25.—The house passed the urgent deficiency appropriation bill, carrying $15,216,103, incorporated in which is a provision that the eight-hour law shall not apply to alien laborers on the Panama canal. In addition it passed 262 private pension bills and read the Mann general bridge bill, making it the unfinished business for Monday.
Chairman Hepburn today reported to the house his railroad rate bill with the favorable recommendation of the entire committee. The bill will come up next week.

Friday, Jan. 26.
Washington, Jan. 26.—The first attempt at filibustering during this session occurred in the house today on a Democratic endeavor to defeat the provision of the urgent deficiency bill waiving the eight-hour law for foreign laborers on the Panama canal. The amendments were placed in the bill in committee of the whole after the house had divided many times on every pretext which Williams could make the cause for a vote. When the bill was finally finished, late in the day, a demand for a separate vote and roll-call on that amendment was made and ordered, at which time the house adjourned. The amendment will occur tomorrow. The amendment was ruled out of the bill on a point of order on Tuesday, and its insertion today was effected under the provisions of a special rule brought in from the rules committee for the purpose.
The only other controversy of the day resulted from an attempt to increase by $115,000 the amount for meat inspection by the department of Agriculture. The increase was refused after an animated debate.

Thursday, January 25.
Washington, Jan. 25.—The house passed the statehood bill according to schedule today. The Republican opposition spent its entire force yesterday and no effort was made to defeat the bill on its final passage, only 33 of the insurgents voting against it. The bill passed by the vote of 194 to 150. The debate which preceded this vote began at 11 o'clock and was practically featureless so far as any hope was entertained of changing the measure in the slightest degree.

Unite on Rate Bill.
Washington, Jan. 23.—After a conference lasting all the afternoon, the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce today agreed upon a rate bill to be known as the Hepburn bill, and to be reported to the house with the unanimous recommendation of the 18 members of the committee. It is the main bill in the original Hepburn bill, but a number of concessions were made to the Democrats, and their less as set forth in the Davey bill were freely incorporated in the perfected measure.

Light on Boycott.
Washington, Jan. 31.—The senate will begin the week with the consideration of the Chinese boycott. The question will come up in connection with a resolution offered last week by Senator Tillman, directing the committee on immigration to investigate the reports concerning Chinese opposition to American manufactures. When the question was presented Mr. Tillman asked for immediate consideration, but Mr. Aldrich objected. It is understood that he and other Republican senators dislike the preamble to the resolution.

Names Three Ambassadors.
Washington, Jan. 23.—The president today sent the following nominations to the senate: Ambassadors extraordinary and plenipotentiary—Luke E. Wright, Tennessee, to Japan; David E. Thompson, Nebraska, to Mexico; Lloyd C. Griscom, Pennsylvania, to Brazil; governor general of the Philippine Islands, Henry Clay Ide, Vermont; vice governor of the Philippines, James F. Smith, California; assistant attorney general, Josiah A. Vanorsdel, Wyoming; postmaster, Charles A. Berg, at Livingston, Montana.

Head-Pressed Oil of Lemon.
"This oil of lemon," said the spice merchant, "is an exquisite thing. It is hand-pressed—pressed by hand out of lemon rind. Smell it."
The odor of the clear oil suggested sunlit lemon groves miles in extent on a mountainside overlooking the blue sea.
"I'll tell you how the oil of lemon is extracted," he said. "A man sits with a sponge in one hand and a piece of fresh lemon peel in the other. He presses the peel against the sponge, giving it finally a certain difficult and dexterous twist, and this breaks the cells in the rind, and the oil—there's only a half drop of it—comes reluctantly out upon the sponge."
"When the sponge has taken up the dribblings of about a hundred rinds, it is wet enough to be squeezed out. An ounce or so of clear and fragrant oil then flows from it."
There is no way to extract this oil within a lemon rind except by squeezing and twisting the rind by hand. It takes the rinds of about 1,200 lemons to make one pound of oil.

Revenge.
The rain fell monotonously from the gray sky, like tears from a sorrowful face.
"No, Jerome McWade! No, never!" Her cruel words wrung a groan from the strong man's lips, but he was not yet daunted.
"Can you not," he faltered, "learn to love me?"
"No. A thousand times no," she replied.
A wild, cruel light flashed in his eyes.
"And yet," he sneered, "they say never too old to learn."
And, pausing only to select the best umbrella, he rushed forth into the wet, cold night.

A Superb Defense.
Manager Jackal (of the Jungle University eleven)—We're going to let "Quills" Porcupine play half-back this afternoon.
Monkey—"I hear he's a mighty dangerous proposition."
Manager Jackal—Well, he never gets sat on more than once during a game.—Puck.

So Glad.
