PRIMARY ELECTION DAY QUIET

Nominations, In Most Cases As the People Expected

There was very little difference between primary day in Estacada and any other day. Except for the numerous groups of interested talkers on the streets, one would not suspect that we were experiencing our first trial of the primary election law. Hardly more than one half of the registered vote was cast, many of the farmers being too busy to leave their work and come to town to vote. The vote for Estacada's precinct was,

Of the vote cast 102 were republican and ten democratic. The regular democratic candidates received the full party vote. There were ten voters who were denied suffrage because of some irregularity in the registration.

A. E. Allspaugh for justice and A. Gerhardus for constable were nominated on the democratic ticket.

We still have our candidate for county commissioner, and are liable to keep him—raising spuds.

Dr. Smith—There's one consolation in knowing I am too busy to go to state legislature, any way.

John Talbert—I knew it but I wanted to see the other fellows run a little faster.

John Gibson—Well, I'm happy, because others are happier because I ran.

Dick Scott—I can get along some way till the pumpkins are ripe, for my note is good at the stores.

Judge Ryan—I would rather not have it than to have to Steel it.

L. L. Porter—I can see now who Clackamas county's favorite son is.

George Randall—That whipping post law will have to wait another session for me to repeal it.

F. W. Greenman—Well, I'm not so green or slow as my name would indicate, am I?

R. L. Greaves—There's nothing to grieve over, I still have the anvil, brawn and brain.

Chamberlain's Salve is good for any disease of the skin. It allays the itching and burning sensation instantly. Sold at the Estacada drug store.

A carload of household goods etc belonging to W. L. Stafford and George Kule arrived here last week from their former homes at Trinidad, Colo., and Ratoon, New Mexico. They are going to remain in or near Estacada.

I have suffered for five years with kidney and liver trouble, which caused severe pains across the back and a blinding headache. I had dyspepsia and was so constipated that I could not move my bowels without a cathartic. I was cured by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets and have been well now 6 months." says Mr. Arthur S. Strickland, of Chattanooga, Tenn. For sale at Estacada drug store.
