Clackamas Growing

The Morning Oregonian of Monday has the following special from Oregon City: Consequent upon an increase in population from 23,000 in the spring of 1905, as shown by the assessor's canvass, to 30,000 which is considered a reliable estimate of the county's population at the present time, Clackamas county is experiencing a new era of growth and development. Several agencies are contributing to this material development of the county and its resources, foremost among which is the building of electric railway systems. Idle capital recognizes as a desirable investment the building of transportation lines into Clackamas county, where the various resources are yet undeveloped and merely awaiting the encouragement that will follow direct communication with market. The interests back of the Oregon Water Power & Railway Co. which has already done a great deal in building up this rich county, are recognized in the proposed building of an electric line from Canemah to Salem, and this enterprise is assured, rights-of-way having been secured and surveys made over the entire route. These same interests, it has lately developed, caused the mysterious survey to be made between this city and Molalla and Willhoit Springs some 3 months ago. This will be a branch line operated by the same company and will penetrate one of the richest sections of the valley. Assurance is given that this line will be built. The survey is now being made for another proposed electric line from this city and Molalla, with the celebrated Willhoit Springs as an ultimate terminus. This is being done by the Oregon City & Molalla Ry. Co., a corporation in which Oregon City business men own a controlling interest. Its route is up Beaver creek thru a rich timber and agricultural section, and the promoters of the enterprise promise to begin construction work within a few weeks. Oregon City is becoming metropolitan. A free mail delivery service for the city has been ordered started December 1. An improved telephone system is being installed by the Pacific States company, and the Home Telephone company will begin installing its system soon, it having completed the construction of its line to the Clackamas river, just north of this city. In addition the public has absorbed the sentiment that was initiated by the Women's Club for the public library and a meeting has been called for November 16, when steps will be taken towards providing the city with such an institution. The great increase in sales of realty is added evidence of the growth of the county. Large farms are being subdivided and sold in smaller tracts, with the result that a larger acreage is being placed under cultivation. The result is an increased production that requires improved marketing facilities. It is this need that warrants the building of the several electric lines that are planned.

John Barrett comes pretty near being Oregon's greatest active Oregonian just now.

The Federation of Labor has begun to work against Uncle Joseph Cannon in Illinois. Cannon has always been a menace to liberty.

Hearst has a great advantage over his opponents in the contest for governor of New York. The hotter it gets, the more money his papers make for him.

And now a few who supported the primary nomination law have begun to try and defeat the one whom this law said should be borne to the United States senate.

The Oregonian says: A Clackamas county woman asks for a divorce and alleges that, although she raised 11 children and milked the cows and did other outdoor work on the farm, her husband accuses her of being no good except to spend money. Here's hoping the court show her alimony equivalent to a $1 a day for every day she milked the cows.

LOCAL NEWS

Rev. McPherson preaches at Dover next Sunday at 11:30 a. m. At Zion at 3 p. m. and in Estacada at 7:30 p. m.

Ladies are thinking of Fall and Winter Underwear. Mrs. Crane has what they want. Also Ladies' and Children's dress goods, skirts and fancy collars.

Work on the Broadway drainage ditch is progressing quite rapidly, but workmen are scarce. Mr. E. E. Block has taken the job of tunneling under the railroad tracks at $1 a lineal foot.

The change from arc to incandescent lights for the streets is no improvement. It is claimed that the arc lights were too strong for the power that is to feed the lights.

Since last Thursday Rev. McPherson has received additional subscriptions to the church fund as follows:

The Cary Hardware Co., A. Havens, and L. J. Simpson of North Bend, $25 each; M. H. Richards, Al Lindsey, A. E. Sparks, F. E. Boner $10; A. M. Johnson, Frank Morris, Edward Huut, S. E. Antrim, P. C. Boulton, and L. J. Harkenrider $5; J. H. Lichthorn, $2 50.

A Ladies' Jacket Found

Much interesting and important business was transacted at the council meeting Tuesday evening. Ed. Miller was elected to fill the vacancy on the board caused by E. C. Belknap's absence. Several small bills were paid. The board decided to exchange the city's lot on Zorbrist street for lot 3 in block 10, on Broadway, on the suggestion of G. W. Morrow. This will be a better location for the fire apparatus. The lot purchased of Mr. Labricque is for sale at a bargain. Some time was spent in getting up ordinances to pass at the next meeting.

The railway company is having a little trouble in getting permission of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Burnett, of Eagle Creek, to buy and cut down the timber on their land which will be dangerously near the new wire line which the company is putting up to transmit electric power from Cazadero along the line. Suit has been started in the district court by the company asking that the right and easement of the defendants on the land along the line of the plaintiff be condemned. The railway company has had men at work for several weeks cutting down trees along the line, and this is one of the instances in which satisfactory arrangements could not be reached with the property owners.

Curriaville

The boys of Curriaville have been trying their new roller skates. Miss Freda Duus has gone to Portland to work for a short time.

Rescow and Martha Zeck and Tom Barker of Barton were the guests of Lydia and Minnie Steinman Sunday.

Carl Duus has gone to Eastern Oregon to live on his homestead, a few miles from Shaniko.

Last Saturday night Oct. 27, a very pleasant party was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Steinman. Games were played till midnight, when a dainty luncheon was served after which the young people danced for an hour or so and then departed for their homes. There were fortyeight present.

A few days ago Frank Thomas and Ed Strunk killed a large black bear on the farm belonging to E. and E. N. Bates, not more than one third of a mile from their residence. The bear weighed over threehundred pounds and had evidently been out late nights visiting the orchard of Messrs Bates. Mr. Thomas gave generous pieces of bear meat to many of his friends, who say bear meat, when fattened on prunes, is the best they ever tasted.

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Than of all Others Put Together. Thos. George, a merchant of Mt Elgin Ontario, says: "I have had the local agency for Chamberlain's cough remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelf put together. Of the many dozens sold under guarantee I have not had one bottle returned. I can personally recommend this medicine as I have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results." Sold at Estacada drug store.

In Time of Peace In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantages of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather," the virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before has been settled in the system. Chamberlain's cough remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for that "cold" day. For sale by the Estacada drug store.

You get a guess on the number of beans in the jar for each $1 paid for repairs at Johnson's.

Ten Cars of Oats Shipped

Commission Merchant Lovelace has been doing a pretty fair oat business this fall. He shipped his 10th car of oats Wednesday. Oats are of a good quality this fall, and the price has been about 10 a pound. Each car contained 400 sacks.

Districts that did not make their own selection will get what the commission selected for them.

Died of Heart Disease

Word was brought to town Tuesday morning of the sudden death of Henry Minkey, a farmer living near George. Mr. Minkey was at work cleaning wheat when he began feeling bad, and went into the house and took a dose of medicine which seemed to ease him, but he suddenly died in about 20 minutes. The funeral was at Ge, Wed. Dr. Smith was called out to examine the corpse, and pronounced it a case of heart failure. The deceased had been afflicted with heart trouble for several years. He was a man of 66 years of age, and was well respected in the community where he lived. Mrs. Minkey survives him.
