

The Fifth Anniversary edition of the Oregon Journal eclipses anything in the special edition line that has appeared in the West. It is the most exhaustive in "booming" facts, and the neatest typographically we have ever seen. It covers 160 pages of interesting reading and beautiful cuts. The price of $1 is cheap, and everyone should have a copy.

Proof of the halt in the promotion of new enterprises, compelled of conservative views and close money is supplied by figures presented by the New York Journal of Commerce. During the month of August in the Eastern States the total authorized capitalization of new enterprises amounted to no more than $64,250,000 against $85,300,000 in July, $165,450,000 in June and $267,340,000 last January. It is the smallest monthly record made since July in 1905. In this exhibit only undertakings starting with a nominal capital of $1,000,000 or more included. Money isn't as "easy" as it was; that's certain. But industry and business are substantial as ever.—Oregonian.

The Beaver State Herald, Gresham, one of the best country newspapers in the state, will raise its subscription price beginning Nov. 1, next to $1.50 a year. All the newspapers of Washington county, and all the newspapers of Yamhill county are doing the same thing—going to $1.50 a year. Paper stock of all kinds and grades have raised the past year, until most publishers have been forced, on good business principles, to advance their subscription price. If a publisher sends out more than a seven column folio paper his rates must be above the dollar. Until it becomes necessary to increase the size of it The Estacada News will remain at $1 a year, but should paper stock take another raise the subscription price would have to change. Our readers should realize, however, that at $1 a year they are getting a bargain and the subscriptions should roll in and aid us with that new office and equipment.

State Fish Warden VanDusen, in his August report, has the following to say of the Clackamas: "The Clackamas river experimental station below the dam at Cazadero is proving to be a complete success. The salmon have been retained and held in a contented condition throughout the entire season and we are now succeeding in collecting a fine lot of spawn. They are, without doubt, all from the very earliest variety of spring Chinook salmon and entered the Columbia river during April and early May, for we have watched the situation very closely and have had them in sight within a couple or three miles since the first of June, and for two months have had them between racks. We began taking spawn Aug. 6 but in no great quantity, for only a few of the Salmon became mature so early. The principal work in this line began Aug. 20 and since then a fair supply of spawn has been taken every day. From recent reports they have collected nearly a million and a half of spawn and have salmon on hand between racks that should give them two or three millions more.

Fire came nearly destroying the railway company's power house at Boring Tuesday night. Some box cars also caught fire, but no great damage was done.

A half dozen original Americans arrived in Estacada Monday evening from across the mountains with huckleberries and a drove of ponies to sell the pale faces. The band came from the Warm Springs tribe.

The Reverend Chas. T. McPherson will preach next Sunday as follows:

At Dover at 10:30 a. m. at Zion at 3 p. m. and at Estacada at 7:30 p. m. This will be the last service at Zion and Dover before conference which will meet in the White Temple, in Portland on Sept. 25.

S. J. Plant has gone up the Willamette valley looking for a brick factory bed.

Ed. Miller is having a visit with a cousin, Mr. Stevens, of Newburg this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dale spent Monday and Tuesday in Portland, on business and pleasure.

Mrs. Nellie Ballou was taken to a Portland hospital Monday to receive treatment for typhoid fever.

Mrs. O. D. Babcock goes to Portland Saturday and will spend the next few months completing her medical course.

It is the same with business institutions as it is with the individual, open honesty and square dealing is essential to success.

A letter from Prof. J. E. Stubbs says that they are nicely located at Hood River, that school has begun and that they are well pleased with the situation.

Mrs. C. T. McPherson and little daughter arrived home last evening from their stay at the seashore, and the Reverend Chas. T. has resumed the usual smile.

A special car taking several boys to the fire at Boring Tuesday night collided with the night freight, and was smashed. The occupants got off soon enough to avoid the crash. Earl Wilson landed softly in a bunch of willows several feet down the embankment.

Visit Estacada

A party of Portland's representative business men visited Estacada last Saturday. President Ben S. Josselyn of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company had the party in towage. They visited the entire portion of the big electric power plant on the Clackamas river above here and were shown the possibilities that may yet be developed from the river. The party had dinner at the Hotel Estacada. Proprietor Laurry served dinner in the parlor, which was beautifully decorated. In the center of the table was a very large float of Caroline Testout roses, and miniature electric lights were partly hidden by fern, ivy and roses. In the party were, B S Josselyn, Fred Holeman, Harvey Scott, Wm. Ladd, Dr. A E Rockey, A L Mills, E M Brannick, A S Jackson, J C Ainsworth, J F Carroll, J P O'Brien, Chas. Carey, and Whitney L. Boise.

Gill-Dale Wedding

Mr. Francis M. Gill and Miss Iva May Dale, two well known and respected young people of this place, were married at 11:30 a. m. Monday at the Hotel Perkins in Portland. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Hiram Vrooman, the noted author, lecturer and minister. Only members of the families of the contracting parties were present.

The bride is the oldest daughter of the Hon. and Mrs. Wm. Dale, formerly of Latrobe, Westmoreland county, Penn. The groom is the oldest son of Ephram Gill of Dufur. He is well known to the grangers throughout the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Gill will spend a few days at Newport on Yaquina Bay, then go to Dufur and stay a few days with the groom's father. They will make a short stop at Hood River on the way up, visiting Prof. and Mrs. Stubbs. They will make their home upon their return on a farm about four miles east of Estacada. Mrs. Gill will teach the Tracy school while her husband will teach the school at George.

Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by One Dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

I was so weak from an attack of diarrhoea that I could scarcely attend to my duties when I took a dose of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy. It cured me entirely and I had been taking other medicine for 9 days without relief. I heartily recommend this remedy as the best to my knowledge for bowel complaints.—R G Stewart of the firm of Stewart Bros, Greenville, Ala. For sale by Estacada Drug Store

A terrible commotion took place in Oregon City Tuesday when Senator Charles W. Fulton dropped in that town, and hobnobbed around with the boys.

For a free entertainment the lecture and picture show given by W. K. Merrill in Fraternity hall was a good one. With the aid of stereoscopic pictures Mr. Merrill told of the beginning of the telephone, its growth, usefulness and of the wonderful possibilities yet to be realized from it. But few took advantage of the evening.

The newspapers and those who know him speak in the highest and best terms of W. H. Moore, president of the Oregon Trust Company that failed. He is a man of good purpose, and strives to do the right thing.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy One of the Best on the Market
 For many years Chamberlain's cough remedy has constantly gained in favor and popularity until it is now one of the most staple medicines in use and has an enormous sale. It is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases, such as coughs, colds and croup and can always be depended upon. It is pleasant and safe to take and is undoubtedly the best in the market for the purposes for which it is intended. Sold by Estacada Drug Store.

The Spirit Of Socialism.
 By Congressman BOURKE COCKRAN of New York.

THE same problem is presenting itself for solution in Europe as in America. It is the question which has been developed under what I may call Christian civilization. IT IS THE PARAMOUNT ISSUE. You may call it socialism if you please. It is how to distribute in proper proportions the result of labor and the employment of capital. In other words, can Christian civilization CONTROL ITS OWN SUCCESS? In America we call it the trust question.

In France, at the present moment, it manifests itself as the right of government employees to combine, and we see a socialistic premier fighting the extension to government servants of the doctrines he has always preached. In England the problem is rather simpler, as the English have always managed to keep their government practically free from COMMERCIAL INFLUENCES, but there, too, we have an independent labor party, led by Mr. Keir Hardie, which is frankly socialistic.

The situation in England reminds me very much of the Populist situation in America a few years ago. Many people thought that the Populists would never exert any influence east of the Mississippi, but they were mistaken. I should not be surprised to see the labor or socialistic element capture the Liberal party in England. In this event there will probably be a REALIGNMENT of political parties and the discovery of new leaders.

I do not think there is any great increase in the strength of the AVOWED socialistic party in Europe. The serious matter is that more is being done to promote socialism BY THOSE WHO DENOUNCE SOCIALISM than by the avowed Socialists.

A spirit of socialism is fostered by the indiscriminate cry for the regulation of corporations. I believe that the state has the right to regulate, if necessary, the corporations which control public utilities, and on this ground Roosevelt's rate bill is perfectly sound in principle, but to extend this doctrine TO ALL CORPORATIONS INDISCRIMINATELY is not only unwise, but dangerous.

Another very serious question in America at the present time is the loss of public confidence in the JUDICIARY. Look at the Perkins case. Was there ever such a travesty of justice? Instead of being tried on the facts of the case he was invited to write a letter setting forth HIS view of the facts, and then by a majority of one a decision is rendered that the facts submitted do not disclose any criminal intent.

SUCH DECISIONS HAVE CAUSED THE PUBLIC TO LOSE CONFIDENCE IN THE JUDICIARY, AND IT IS VITALLY NECESSARY THAT PUBLIC CONFIDENCE IN THE INTEGRITY OF THE BENCH SHOULD BE RESTORED.
