Joseph Pinkley Dead

Mr. Joseph Pinkley, who died at his home near Estacada at 1 o'clock Sunday, July 19, 1908, was born in Pennsylvania on Nov. 26, 1826. He came across the plains with an ox team in 1850, and has spent the most of the time since then in Clackamas county. He was one of the pioneers who "ate his salmon straight without salt." He was married to Miss Elizabeth L. De-Shields in 1857, and to this union eleven children were born, six girls and five boys; four of the latter have preceded him to their better home. These are living—Mrs. Julia Messa of Richland, Mrs. Manda Davis of Garfield, Mr. Elijah E. Pinkley of Gresham, Mrs. Emma Keith of Estacada, Mrs. Dorothy Woodard of Oswego, Mrs. Effie Hore of Portland, and William Pinkley of Estacada. He also leaves five sisters and three brothers who are scattered in different states. In 1858 Mr. Pinkley and wife became members of the Mt Zion M. E. church of which Mr. Pinkley has been a faithful member and officer. He enlisted as a volunteer in the army in '56 and served in the Indian war, being the last member of Co. E. He had a very retentive memory, and his religious experience was bright until the end. During the past 14 months Mr. Pinkley suffered continually, but always said: "I have nothing to complain of." The funeral and burial took place at Mt. Zion Monday afternoon, Rev. M. B. Parounagian preaching. And thus ended the life of an affectionate husband and kind father.
