Oregon dairy interests are up-to date. President F. L. Kent, of the Oregon State Dairy Association has just returned from New York where he has been in attendance upon the National Convention of Dairy Instructors, under the sponsorship of the United States Government.

The Managers of the Goldenwest and American Industries Exposition to be opened at Earls Court, London May 1 1909, and continue for six months, have asked the co-operation of Oregon through Governor Chamberlain. It is the first industrial exposition of this character held since 1887. The business carried on between the United States and the United Kingdom comprises one-fifth of the entire commerce of the world, and it is constantly increasing. It is expected that this exhibit will bring together all the present-day achievements in science invention, handicrafts and trades in the United States.

Every community in Oregon should be represented at the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress in San Francisco October 6 to 10. Each of the commercial bodies of the state should have at least one delegate; the mayor of each city and the judge of each county have been asked to name delegates. This Congress, whose sessions are second in importance only to those of the National Congress, and whose deliberations have much influence on National legislation, has held one of its most important gatherings in Oregon, while citizens of this state have held the highest offices within the gift of the organization.

The Portland Country Club and Livestock Show opens next Monday and continues all week. It will be the largest showing of livestock ever gathered together at one time in the Pacific Northwest, not excepting the marvelous exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Exposition. The speed contests will be extraordinary; the great mile track is without a parallel on the American continent; the transportation facilities to and from the grounds will be excellent, as both steam and electric roads will carry their thousands. The beautiful amphitheater built upon steel trusses, the first of its kind in Oregon, is already completed.

A Fair will be held at Harding Grange Hall Logan, Oregon, Oct. 6 and 7, 1908. A long list of prizes for the various exhibits show that the Harding Grange is encouraging in their midst the best efforts of their ranchers to produce in stock, grains, fruits and vegetables. How to prepare and keep them with the least amount of labor possible as well as to the best productions in the schools and home of its people. This is as it should be for it is for the best with the least labor, we are striving for. That is progress, advancement, and it is just as necessary for the rancher in these times to take advantage of the best methods as it is for the merchant, mechanic, manufactor or teacher, so we say again this is doing things along the right line. Restaurant meals will be provided at a reasonable price. Admission for the two days, Adults twenty five cents. Children under ten years free. A general invitation is extended to all to be present.

Mrs. J. T. Page entertained the members of her Sunday school class at her home Saturday afternoon Photographer Bonney came up and took a class picture, after which refreshments were served. Those present were—Emma and Geo Barr, Elmer, Carrie and Albert Hannah, Lester and Ercel Carrol, Ellen, Tena and Kenneth Leray, Oral, Earnest and Clyde Stormer, Bernice and Bryerly Morrow, Myrtle and Iva Bonney, Hattie and Emma Brecht, Ester Paroumagian, Lillian Dale, Russel Reed, Stanley Belfils, Velma Helfrich and Minerva Page.

The Store of Quality

Quality and Price

Are the two factors a buyer should consider. Almost any kind of a price can be made on goods if Quality isn't taken into account. We want to emphasize the fact. We do not at any time buy poor goods in order to make an apparently low price on them. All our goods are the regular standard grades which bring satisfactory results to the consumer.

A Typical Ranch-Holiday

Buffalo Bill's Wild West Will Include a Scene Showing the Plainsmen's Pleasures

Varied scenes of Western life will be presented with Buffalo Bill's Wild West during its forthcoming visit to Portland. There will be an exciting Indian battle, an attack upon an emigrant train a hold-up of a railroad train and, as a particular typical Western scene, "A Holiday at T-E Ranch." The pleasures and pastimes of the plainsman will be re-enacted with the same fidelity to real life as marks all the features with Buffalo Bill's exhibition. T-E Ranch is the mountain home of Col. W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) in Wyoming, near Coby, a bustling city of five thousand inhabitants which has been named after him. The ranch house and its surroundings will be depicted as faithfully as circumstances will permit and the amusements of the frontiersman will be shown.

Will exhibit at Portland Sept. 25, and 26.

Miss Mary Edgarton arrived here last Saturday from her home at Roseburg. Miss Edgarton is teaching the Garfield school this year, and is boarding at Mrs. Coyd Looney's.

Howard James the new principal arrived in Estacada on Saturday last and at once commenced to get busy with details connected with school work and arranging for a home for his family who are temporarily located with friends at Oregon City. He has rented the Scott home and expects to occupy the same just as soon as his goods arrive from the East.
Mrs. James and youngest daughter paid a visit to Mr. James Wednesday.

G. H. Lichthorn, the baker, is making rapid progress with his new building next to the one occupied by him now. Some time ago he started one part of the building and has continued as he felt able until he now has almost completed buildings sufficient of his own to conduct his bakery. The building has a frontage of twenty feet, and comprises a store room front, a bake shop in center and a kitchen in the rear. It is also Mr. Lichthorn's intention to build a bake oven. Chas. Ferry is now engaged in papering the front building, and Mr. Lichthorn feels happy to know that he will soon have a building of his own and thus save the rent he now pays.

Are Pursued by a Cougar

W. A. Jones and his party of mighty nimrods who had been up at the Narrows and Roaring river on a hunting expedition returned last week. They were not as successful capturing game as they expected to be; but they enjoyed their outing very much. One of the most exciting adventures they encountered happened to Millard Sarver and Jones. In company with each other they had been hunting hard all day and night overtook them before reaching camp. While traveling along the bank of Roaring river they discovered they were being followed by a cougar. As the shades of night had fallen over them, and these weary huntsmen knowing the slyness of these ferocious beasts of prey soliloquized in this manner:

Bill said to Millard: "Now I don't like to take chances in the dark of being pounced on from some overhanging tree with that critter. Let us get into the river and wade down thus preventing the cougar from knowing where we went and making a meal of us." So acting on the suggestion they started to wade. The boys in camp say there was considerable anxiety for awhile in camp over what might have happened to the pair, but at last they came in, having had a taste of real, genuine hunting even, if they did not kill anything.

DODGE

Bert Parks has returned from the harvest fields.

Jim Parks is teaching school near Salem.

Jim Marrs returned from the huckleberry patch last Friday. He praises the government trail saying it's about the finest piece of work he ever saw and he has been around some.

A relative of Mr. Horner is visiting him from England. He says this part of the country is perfectly delightful.

Dodge can boast of its mail service. A letter delivered at the postoffice on Thursday afternoon arrives at Estacada the following Monday, it taking three days to cover seven miles.

In passing the domicile of T. Paulsen, author of the popular song "Cooking Makes the Heart Grow Weary," we couldn't help but notice the odor of burnt potatoes.

George Keller is going in the dairy business.

—A Dodger.

The Fourth Quarterly Conference

The fourth quarterly conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church for the Estacada charge, which was omitted in our last issue, by an error, was held on Monday Sept. 7, at 10 A. M. Rev. B. F.
