J. E. Defebaugh, editor of the "American Lumberman" of Chicago, who has bestowed such marked praise on Douglas fir, has the following to say editorially in the current issue of the "Lumberman": The Pacific Northwest makes a wonderful appeal to every visitor. It is a land of living waters, of golden soil, of mineral wealth beyond comprehension, of forests which will bless mankind when other lands are desolate, a land of mountain, plain and valley, of a people great in intellect, energy, endurance and kindliness. In this golden Northwest, in a climate without the harshness of the North or the enervating softness of the South, these people are building an empire. They have harnessed the streams for power, on ponring them over the plains, have produced fruitful fields and gardens; they are wresting from the earth its mineral wealth; they are converting the forests into forms of utility and beauty; they are building schools and colleges; the Bible version af every man dwelling under his own vine and fig tree is realized here, where his every bodily need and intellectual want may be gratified. The natural wealth of the country is great and great are its achievements, but better than all this are the people themselves, a chosen race growing in numbers and in all the accomplishments and graces which make a people mutually useful and happy

The convention of the Oregon State Dairy Association at Salem tast week was the most successful ever held by that body. Washington and California were represented in both attendance and exhibits. The grand prize for best display of dairy products was awarded to F. A. Schubinger of Salem for an exhibit comprising 26 varieties of cheese. The Douglas Creamery Co. of Roseburg won first award for highest scoring creamery butter F. C. Mattke of Sweet Home, for highest scoring dairy butter, and T. J. Ballantyne, of Hobsonville, for highest scoring cheese. The dairymen pledged a fund of $150 per month for the employment of an expert to bring dairy conditions throughout the state up to the highest possible standard. An appropriation of $6000 will be asked from the Legislature. President F. L. Kent of Corvallis was re-elected, with Carl Abrams, of Salem, Secretary. The time of next year's meeting will be chosen to harmonize with the date selected by the Washington Dairymen, who meet at Chehalis this week. Hon. C. L. Mitchel, of the Dairy Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, is in Chehalis for this meeting.

One of the most important gatherings to be held on the Pacific Coast during 1909 will be the convention in Portland of the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations, brought here through the instrumentality of President W. J. Kerr, of the Oregon Agricultural College. The American Association of University Presidents, the American Association of Farmers' Institute Workers, the Agronomic Society, and the Association of Agricultural Chemists always hold their conventions at the same place and time as the Agricultural Colleges and Ex- in the German Burn.
