Stoppage of Milk Flow. A very common trouble in every dairy is to find an animal with the point of the teat closed, either due to a bruise of teat itself or to infection of the milk duct which causes a little scab to form, and unless this is properly handled with care and cleanliness the infection is apt to cause a loss of the entire quarter. Thoroughly wash the part in an antiseptic solution: then dip a teat plug into a healing ointment and insert it, allowing same to remain from one milking to another. In this manner closure can be overcome in a very simple and satsfactory way. A milking tube should not be used if it can possibly be avoidthis ed as there is much danger of infect. ing the entire quarter by its use.-Denver Field and Farm.

Vigor in the Flock.

The period of usefulness of good sheep varies much with the breed as well as with individuals of the same breed. Some become unprofitable at three or four years of age, others at ten or twelve or even older. Whenever a sheep begins to show signs of weakness, evidence of disease or lack of thrift and vigor it should be removed from the flock. "All is lost that is poured into a cracked dish;" all is ost that is put into an unthrifty sheep-worse than lost often, for a diseased sheep may do great damage to the flock, and when one loses thrift it loses its natural power to resist disease. Nature has marked suc'i a one for destruction, and the shepherd should forestall nature by disposing of It .-- Orange Judd Farmer.

Certified milk sells in all large cities for about twice the price of other milk. It is absolutely clean, no im purities being allowed to get into the milk. A layer of fine cheesecloth is stretched over the milk pail, a layor of absorbent cotton is placed upon that, then another piece of cheesecloth. There is no sediment in the bottom of the milk vessels of milk treated in this way. It is not expensive either.

War on Bad Seed.

Good work in detecting adulterated seeds is being carried on by the Department of Agriculture. Of 1,471 samples of seeds taken last year 102 samples were found adulterated or misbranded. The department publishes the results of the test, together with the names of the firms that sold the seed. It is claimed that since this work began the trade in adulterated seeds has fallen off greatly.
