

FRENCH AVIATOR ASTOUNDS PARIS

Count de Lambert Reaches Height of 1,300 Feet.

Travels From Juvisy to Paris and Return, Making 31 Miles—Circles Around Eiffel Tower. Performing Greatest Feat Since Memorable Flight of Santos Dumont.

Paris, Oct. 19.—Count de Lambert, French aviator, just before dark to night accomplished one of the most remarkable and daring feats yet credited to heavier-than-air machines. Starting from the aerodrome at Juvisy, he flew to Paris, about 13 miles. After maneuvering over the city at an average height of 400 feet, he ascended in gradually diminishing circles, and passed several hundred feet above the Eiffel tower. He then returned to Juvisy. Thousands who watched him hardly could credit their senses when they saw the aeroplane, a tiny object, gliding swiftly far above the tower, and the sensation created was more profound than when Santos Dumont circled the structure in his dirigible balloon in 1900.

Count de Lambert was given a tremendous ovation on his return to Juvisy. Orville Wright rushed forward and wrung the hand of the aviator as he alighted. He was led to the pavilion, where his health was drunk, the crowd meantime cheering lustily and crying: "Long live Count de Lambert!" "Long live Russia," De Lambert being of Russian extraction. The count held up his hand and shouted: "I cry long live the United States, for it is to her that I owe this success."

The aviator said that the only inconvenience he suffered was from the throbbing of the engines and from difficulty in seeing toward the end of the gloom.

The official time of the flight was 49 minutes, 39 seconds. The distance was roughly estimated at 31 miles, and the height varied from 300 to 1,300 feet.

Count de Lambert and Mr. Wright left the field together in the afternoon. Dragons were obliged to clear a way through the crowd, in which there were many enthusiasts, who showed a desire to carry the aviator in triumph on their shoulders.

ROADS ADOPT PLAINER TICKETS.

Simplicity Main Point—Stopper Privileges Cut Out.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—A feeling of relief has been experienced by the Western roads over the way the question which for more than four years has baffled all attempts at solution, seems at last to be approaching a settlement through the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Interstate Commerce Commission has adopted a standard form of ticket contract to cover all contingencies. The roads of the Western Passenger association have finally signed their acquiescence to a revised form of the contract on standard ticket contracts, and steps will begin immediately for the gradual substitution of the new forms of tickets.

It is understood that Central Passenger association roads have likewise taken an affirmative action in the matter.

The new ticket will be conspicuous by its simplicity. Efforts will be directed to eliminating every useless word and making the ticket as plain and brief as to be understood by any passenger. It is proposed to cut out nearly all stopper privileges now permitted; to cut out all verbiage and make the ticket a plain contract by the railroad and its connective lines, and to give from one point to certain other points for a certain sum of money with a certain time.

Tafts Will Tour Mexico.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 19.—Tentative plans for a tour of Mexico by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Taft, upon the close of the president's term of office, were discussed Saturday night by President Taft and President Diaz. Mr. Taft said that at the close of his term of office he expected to tour Mexico with Mrs. Taft. President Diaz replied he would look forward with pleasure to meeting Mr. Taft again. Mrs. Diaz, he said, would be Mrs. Taft's hostess, and he would be delighted to receive Mr. and Mrs. Taft in Mexico City.

Blood Spilled in Battle.

Cape Haytien, Oct. 19.—News reached here tonight, but somewhat delayed on account of bad weather and roads, giving brief details of a sanguinary engagement between the insurgents and the Dominican government troops at Canongo. The insurgents were in an ambush behind a hill and made a surprise attack upon the advancing troops. There were heavy losses on both sides. Making a feint to re-enter Dajabon, the insurgents then proceeded to Canyabon and Sabana, where they captured without resistance. The loyal forces proceeded into Dajabon.

Czar to Shun Bavaria.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 19.—An important and unexpected change of itinerary has been made on the eve of Emperor Nicholas' departure for Italy. It is understood the change was due in part to recent criticism of the emperor in the Bavarian landtag, but as well to other and deeper reasons which, according to the best information obtainable here, resulted in the emperor's decision to avoid Bavaria and Switzerland and make a long circuit through Eastern France to reach his destination.

Cossacks to Awe Finns.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 19.—Two regiments of Cossacks and a battery have been dispatched to Finland to overawe any opposition to the new measures which will be put in force if the situation in the duchy justifies it. The Finns are maintaining a passive attitude. The only positive step taken has been the refusal of six senators to comply with the emperor's mandate that they retain their posts.

Suicides Alarm Russia.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 19.—The acting prefect of police for St. Petersburg has applied to the ministry of the interior for permission to apply restrictive and precautionary measures to the sale of certain drugs on account of their widespread employment for purposes of suicide.

GREAT FAIR IS CLOSED.

Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition Ends With Many Ceremonies.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 18.—At midnight Saturday the 150,000 electric lights of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition were extinguished, closing the prosperous life of the world's fair of 1909, which, from every standpoint, was more successful than its most zealous friends had dared to hope.

The final moments of the fair were as dramatic as its beginning on June 1, when 40,000 people gathered at the natural amphitheater and waited for President Taft's signal. The last day had been devoted to saying good-bye. The sun shone bright, the flowers were never more beautiful, and the whole exposition looked as new and fresh as on the day of the opening.

The attendance was large, and, while the carnival spirit possessed the young, there was sorrow for the passing of the brilliant show.

The exercises of the closing hours began at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon with a display of Japanese fireworks. The exposition band paraded from building to building, scattering seeds. The United States Government building was reached at 5:30 o'clock, its daily closing hour. A cornet sounded "taps" and the band played "Auld Lang Syne." The flag was hoisted down, the life-saving crew on Lake Union fired 21 guns, and the buildings' doors were locked.

At eight a great throng of people assembled at the natural amphitheater, beside Lake Washington, and listened to a classical concert by a band which played waltzes for the frivolous and Chopin's funeral march and other somber pieces for the sorrowing. At 11:30 o'clock the exposition officials and employees marched from the Administration building to the amphitheater to await the stroke of midnight.

On the stage, Josiah Collins, chairman of the committee on ceremonies, presided and spoke briefly. President J. E. Chilberg made an address of thanks and farewell, and exactly at 12 o'clock opened a switch that darkened the whole fair. A single bugler blew "taps," and then in darkness, but for the stars overhead, the vast audience sang "Auld Lang Syne," accompanied by the band. The street lamps were lighted and the people went home.

FERRER WAS ONLY AN EDUCATOR.

Sought Revolution Only in Education, Say His Friends.

London, Oct. 18.—"Francisco Ferrer was my personal friend," said W. T. Berkehoff, Russian liberal and newspaper writer, today. "He was the modern Pestalozzi of Spain. He was ardent with enthusiasm, yet regular and a hard worker. This was the secret of his success in creating in Spain, especially in Barcelona and Catalonia, a great popular movement for free national day schools."

"I first met him and his beautiful young wife in Brussels, in the home of the great geographer, Elisee Reclus. Professor Ferrer then said: 'It is evident that I shall not be allowed to conduct our national schools in Spain, but in Brussels, in Paris I shall continue my pedagogic work. Capable and devoted friends will take my place in Spain.'

"Professor Ferrer hastened back to Spain, owing to illness there of a little while."

MAN IS TOSSED BY RHINO.

Adventure of Roosevelt's Porter—Much Big Game Killed.

Nairobi, B. E. A., Oct. 17.—The Roosevelt party arrived here this afternoon from the north of Guaso Nyiro. All are well. A porter accompanying the party was tossed by a rhinoceros, but he is recovering.

Colonel Roosevelt has killed three more elephants completing the group intended for the Smithsonian Institution at Washington. He has also killed a bull elephant for the American Museum of Natural History, in New York.

Other game bagged included a rhinoceros with excellent horns, a buffalo, a giraffe, an eland, a zebra, an ostrich and an oryx.

Some skins have been preserved for the Smithsonian museum.

Kermit Roosevelt killed two elephants and an exceptionally large rhinoceros.

Barrie Offers Sacrifice.

London, Oct. 18.—J. M. Barrie, novelist and playwright, did not enter suit for divorce, it is now asserted by his friends, and Gilbert Cannan, whom he named as co-respondent, took a solemn pledge to marry Mrs. Barrie after the decree had been granted. Moreover, as Cannan is not well provided with money, Barrie made a handsome settlement on his wife before he filed his petition for separation, making her financially independent. Throughout the whole affair Barrie acted with the greatest generosity although he was grievously afflicted.

Mulai Haqid Goads Spain.

Paris, Oct. 18.—The Matin's correspondent at Oran, Algeria, telegraphs that Mulai Haqid, the sultan of Morocco, has sold the Rif mines, which were the cause of the trouble between Spain and the Moors on the Rif coast, to a German company. The correspondent explains that such a transaction was now perfectly feasible, as the Spanish held the mines by reason only of a payment of $15,000 to Roghi, the pretender, who was recently put to death by the sultan. Consequences of the gravest character would appear inevitable.

Presidents Meet.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 18.—The long-expected meeting between President Taft and President Diaz, of the Republic of Mexico, occurred here today. Outwardly it was attended with a display of soldiery, a flare of trumpets, a boom of cannon and a pomp of ceremony suggesting supreme authority, but in the actual handclasp of the two executives and in the exchange of courteous words that passed from lip to lip there was simple but cordial informality.

Storm's Fatalities Grow.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 18.—The total death list of the destructive wind storm of Thursday was increased today by the belated reports to 46. Eleven more dead were discovered.

FARMS AND FARMERS

Raising Chickens.

The greatest drawback to the chicken business is that there is not a day's rest in the steady routine of work from the time an egg is plucked until the ax closes the hen's history. It is natural after the pullets are feathered out and weaned and the roosters separated from them to let up a little in the care bestowed on them. This is a great mistake if winter eggs are expected. If there is one thing more than another that the average poultryman is liable to err in it is lack of fresh air in the coops at night. Slip out some hot night about 11 o'clock and you will perhaps hear the thump, thump of restless chickens crowding around against each other, fighting in vain for a cool, airy spot to sleep in comfort. Or in the morning take a whiff of the fetid, unwholesome air before letting the chickens out, and you will realize that night spent under such conditions must prevent the steady, healthy growth necessary for best results. This condition of affairs is liable to be worse with incubator chickens, because they are raised in larger flocks and the tendency is to crowd them more after taking them from the brooders.

When Hens Are Moulting.

One of the difficulties in poultry raising is to get the hens to molt early, so that they will be ready to lay in the fall and winter, when eggs are high. Left to themselves, hens will take a long time to molt, and will not finish until cold weather sets in. They will not then lay until early spring and all the profits for the winter months are lost. At the poultry institute held in Denver by the Colorado Agricultural College, W. J. R. Will is a poultry man of long experience, gave his method of controlling the molting of hens. As soon as the hens are through laying he turns them on alfalfa, feeding them dry bran only, in addition. Under this treatment they get thin. Then he feeds them a mixture of grain and meat, giving a light feed in the morning and all they will eat at noon and night. Under this treatment they finish molting quickly, get new feathers and begin laying in September. By October 1 they are in full laying condition and make a profit through the fall and winter.

Alfalfa for the Dairy.

Successful dairy farming depends a great deal on growing the necessary feed on the farm. City milkmen can buy high-priced feeds and make a profit, but farmers who ship longer distances require all the advantage they can get. Alfalfa is getting to be one of the most important dairy feeds. It can be grown in almost any part of the country where there is sufficient moisture within reach of the long tap root, provided that there is no rock to interfere with its growth. If you never tried alfalfa, commence now by fitting a small piece of ground very carefully and make it very rich on top. The new plants are delicate and require careful feeding until they get started. Most failures are caused by insufficient preparation of the seed bed.

Testing Breeds for Milk.

In testing several breeds of cows, the Virginia Experiment Station found that "in profits on milk the Holsteins led with $4.92 per individual per month; the grades were second with $4.27. The most profitable cow was Buckeye Dork, who milked twenty-one months, gave 12,498.4 pounds of milk and 524.23 pounds of butter. The profit on the milk was $201.05 and on the butter $41.51."

When Hogs Cough.

Hogs not living in dusty houses, that have persistent coughs, are, as a rule, suffering from worms. An excellent remedy is to dissolve one-half pound of copperas in warm water and mixing in the slop for 100 head of pigs. This dose should be given for five mornings; then wait a few days, and repeat if necessary. For a smaller number than 100 head give a good dram to each head.

Dairying Profits.

Profits in dairying do not depend so much upon the number of cows kept, but upon the kind. This fact is being realized more and more as the dairy industry increases. One way to increase the acreage of a farm is to increase the fertility of the soil of a farm; similarly, one way to increase a dairy herd is to increase the cows' producing power.

Grafting on Willow.

A horticultural curiosity is to be seen in the garden of Gloucester Lodge, Portsmouth Road, near London. A gooseberry bush, a currant bush and an elderberry tree are growing high up on a willow tree, to which they have by some means become grafted. All are flourishing and fruit is forming on the gooseberry and currant bushes.

A Cheap Insecticide.

Some gardeners use lime and tobacco water for destroying many insects which prey on plants. A half bushel of lime is emptied into a barrel of water, together with a bucketful of tobacco stems. This is well stirred up, and after it has settled for a day or two the clear water is syringed over bushes, killing all insects that come within its reach.

Ants and Lice.

When ants are seen running up and down fruit trees an examination will usually disclose the presence of plant lice on the branches and leaves. As it is well known to expert orchardists most plant lice are attended and cared for by ants, and the presence of ants may serve as an indication of infestation of plant lice. Under such circumstances the ants do no harm to the plant except in the way of assisting in the distribution of plant lice.

COUGHED ALL NIGHT

Till This Recipe Was Tried. Cure Followed in Five Hours.

A prominent medical man who suffered with a severe cough and cold on the lungs, often being kept awake all night, and weakened by loss of sleep, finally discovered a simple formula which will cure any cough in five hours by the clock. It is a laxative tonic cough syrup which can be made at home by any one and the formula is here given for the benefit of those who pass sleepless nights in pain and anxiety. Those who have tried it say it is magical and beats any high-priced, slow-acting cough medicine ever sold.

Mix in a bottle, one-half ounce fluid white cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardui, and three ounces syrup white wine compound. Take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then take one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day. Give children less according to size. This will tone up and rid the system of deep-seated coughs every time.

Took Him for Tom.

"George Moore, the author of Esther Waters, likes to talk," said a magazine editor of New York, "about his own obscurity, very obscure. Lunching with me one day at Claridge's, he said he had recently met a young American girl whose warm praise had pleased him much."

"We think a heap of your writings out Kansas way, Mr. Moore," the young girl said.

"How jolly!" cried the novelist.

"And what story of mine do the good people of Kansas like best?"

"Oh, Lalla Rookh, far and away!" said she.

He Did.

"We are told," said the Sunday school teacher, "that we should love our neighbor. Now, who is your neighbor, Tommy?"

But Tommy Tucker merely shrugged, hung his head, and said nothing. He didn't want to tell the little girl's name.—Chicago Tribune.

Just as Deserving.

"So you were deeply touched by the poem young Mr. Guffman wrote to you?"

"Yes," answered Maymie.

"But it was not a good poem."

"I don't care. It was just as much trouble for him to write it as if he had been Shakespeare."—Washington Star.

Consistent.

"Senator, may I ask you what you really think of the new tariff?"

"As to that, young man, I must refer you to my record."

"But you haven't any record, Senator. You voted on both sides of the question."

"Then I should probably talk on both sides of it. Good morning."

Confidence of Genus.

"You say your dirigible balloon is a success?"

"Yes," answered the inventor.

"But it came down to the earth with a terrible bump."

"True. But it hit very close to the spot I was aiming at."

Separate Ideals.

"Why did you never marry, Tom?" inquired the young Benedict of the old bachelor.

"Well, you see," replied the single one, "when I was quite young I resolved that I wouldn't marry until I found an ideal woman. I was difficult to please, but after many years I found her."

"Lucky beggar! And then—"

"She was looking for an ideal man," replied the bachelor, sadly.—Tit-Bits.

Dangerous Odds.

"If you go about giving odds like that," said the patient, "they'll put you in here with me."—London Opinion.

Settlers.

"What do you consider the best of all the so-called 'best sellers'?" inquired the caller.

"Well, I have always liked old Col. Mulberry better than any of the others," answered the information editor, turning again to his work.

Ailments of Men Happily Overcome

SUCCESSFULLY TRIED BY MANY.

Indubitably the following prescription will work wonders for that great class of men who, through dissipation of their natural strength, find themselves in their "second childhood" long before their three score and ten allotted to life's pleasures and enjoyments are reached.

It is presumed to be infallible, and highly efficient in quickly restoring in "nervous exhaustion," weak vitality, melancholia and the functions.

First get fifty cents' worth of compound fluid balsam of capivi, one ounce and three ounces syrup sarsaparilla compound, take one-half ounce after each meal and one when retiring, followed by a drink of water.

By mixing it at home no man need be the wiser as to another's shortcomings, and expensive fees are avoided.

Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment, even when the public least suspects it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full bounding health, and all the happiness accompanying it, the above home treatment is given. It contains no opium or habit-forming drugs, whatever. Mix it at home and no one will be the wiser as to your affliction.
