CAUTION AND COMMON SENSE

You either own land now or expect to some day, or at least you may loan money on real estate security.

If you will take the pains in advance to be assured of the title before you lay out your good money, you will save a peck of trouble.

The trouble that often grows out of a neglected title-litigation expense, annoyance, delays-is out of all proportion to the caution and common sense which might have prevented the trouble if exercised in time.

And the proper time for caution and common sense in land transactions is before the deal is closed. Demand an abstract.

Many of the largest deals in Clackamas county land in the last sixteen years have been closed by the use of our abstracts.

LOCAL NEWS AND PERSONAL MENTION

Trespass notices printed on cloth ready to put up, at the Progress.

Mrs. A. T. Thompson, of Roseburg, Ore., is visiting at the Belfils home.

B. C. Looney is "papa," a little baby boy having come to their home in Garfield last week.

Mrs. Simmons of Springfield, has gone to Portland to help care for her father, who is ill.

G. B. Linn, Cleve Heiple and Norman Linn went into Squaw Lake on Monday to take a hunt.

Cashier Belfils spent part of Sunday and Monday in Portland on business.

Elford Sherman and family, who have been visiting with his brother in Springfield, have returned to their home in Durand, Mich.

D. C. Sherman, of Springfield, spent Thursday last in Portland. He accompanied his brother and family that far on their home trip.

Prof. Grout, assistant superintendent of public schools of Portland, with his family spent a day last week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Adix.

Mrs. T. Yocum went to McMinnville on Wednesday to see her mother who is suffering a severe illness, her advanced age makes it all the more serious.

A. E. Sparks is suffering from a boil on the back of his neck that is pulling his anatomy all awry and while you might think so he says it is not a laughing matter.

The painters are putting the finishing touches on the Hotel Estacada this week. It certainly does look well and is in much better appearance than when newly built.

P. T. Brannon, of Portland, is the new barber having purchased from Dearing last week. Mr. Dearing has gone with the Swift Company and has moved to Portland.

The Misses Smeadlies and Mr. Lawrence, of Portland, spent part of last week visiting with their aunt, Mrs. D. C. Sherman, of Springfield.

Mrs. M. E. Douglass, of Eagle Creek, who has been an invalid for the past fourteen years, suffering from diabetes, died at her home at that place on Saturday Oct. 23rd.

Two deer were seen by the mill men of the River Mill Co. on Sunday, between here and their camp. They say they presented the appearance of having been run by dogs as they seemed very tired.

Mr. A. D. Schmidt brought his daughter Miss Levina's housekeeping goods back to Estacada on Monday. We predict Schmidt and the family will also return some day.

We have been reliably informed that Dr. Adix has aided the stork in adding to Estacada and vicinity's population during this month seven little newcomers. That seems to be carrying out the Roosevelt idea.

Henry Schmidt, of George, brought to the Estacada Commercial Club a box containing about forty pounds of splendid potatoes. All are of a size, long and smooth. They are on exhibition at the Club rooms. They were raised by him on his ranch.

John Belfils, a brother of L. E. Belfils has accepted a position with the Eiler Piano House of Portland, and expects to learn the business of handling, selling, tuning, in fact he desires to know the business from the ground floor up of what is said to be one of the largest houses of its kind in the world.

J. B. Linn, while at work at the River Mill Co. on Monday cutting a cable, had the misfortune to have a small piece of wire or steel strike him in the hand. Dr. Adix has probed for it but was unable to locate it, and as a result of the accident he is compelled to carry that member in a sling.

Sunday School Convention

Two Day's Session Closed
Last Saturday Afternoon--
Many Good Addresses
Delivered

The Clackamas County Sunday School Convention convened in the M. E. Church on Friday last for a two day's session.

Promptly at 11:00 A. M. Mrs. T. J. Reagan, Supt. of the M. E. Sunday School here, opened the exercises in her usually pleasing and business like manner. This was followed by Rev. Chas. A. Phipps in an address on "How to build up a Sunday School," after which adjournment was taken until 2:00 P. M.

The committee arranged for the entertainment of the visiting delegates at this time and they were assigned to the various homes among our people. There were 67 delegates present at the convention. An interesting program had been prepared. Rev. Chas. A. Phipps, of Portland, Gen. Secretary and Field Organizer, gave a number of interesting addresses, and general Sunday School instruction, which were very practical and up-to-date Sunday School methods, and those who heard him, if they will practice in their school the work as he outlined it, will undoubtedly have better schools.

Mrs. Lucia F. Addison, in an address on "Good Citizenship," made a good talk to the Convention. Reverends J. L. Jones, A. H. Mulkey and H. W. Kuhlman all were on the program and were present to do their respective parts.

Mrs. C. A. Nash, president, presided so well that at the new election of officers she was again chosen president of the Convention. Oregon City, her home town, secured the next convention. The other officers elected were as follows: Vice President, C. L. Chambers, Eagle Creek; Sec. and Treas., Mrs. W. A. White, Oregon City; Supt. Teacher's Training, Mrs. H. N. Smith, Jennings Lodge; Home Dept. Supt., Mrs. D. C. Latourette, Oregon City; Elementary Supt., Mrs. John Page, Estacada; Temperance and Good Citizenship, John K. Ely, Currinsville; Adult Dept. Supt., L. S. Tenny, Springfield.

The time for holding the next convention will be decided at a later date. Good audiences were in attendance at all the meetings, but the actual residents of Estacada were not among the number as often as the importance of such a meeting in our midst demanded and this was particularly true of the men of the city. From a purely business point of view, here were sixty-seven delegated persons who would naturally carry back to their homes not alone the new ideas gained in their convention work but impressions of Estacada and its citizens.

We are a busy people and all have plenty to do but our lack is not so much that we were not there as it is that we were not interested enough to think anything about it. The convention was a good, interesting convention and those who took part are gainers. The country districts of Springfield, Currinsville and Garfield were well represented.

Wagner-Davis Wedding

A quiet wedding took place in Garfield at the home of P. M. Wagner on Saturday at 8 o'clock when Miss Olive Wagner, the daughter, and Mr. Herman Davis were united in marriage. Rev. Kuhlman officiating. The bride was dressed in white and the groom, the conventional black. A number of invited guests were present at the ceremony. An elaborate dinner was served at the home. The bride was the recipient of numerous presents. These young people, while they belong to Garfield, have both been in Portland for some time.

Southern Pacific To Open New Office

The Southern Pacific Company has rented the Hall over the Estacada State Bank and the same is being fitted up by them for a permanent office in Estacada.

The office formerly used by Mr. Blockley at the Hotel Estacada will be given up as there could not be room enough secured to accommodate the new conditions. Mr. W. A. Cox is the new office man and will have the care of the same. They expect to get moved into their new office by Nov. 1st.

A New Enterprise

The bachelor girls co-operative board and rooming house is a new institution in Estacada that starts out under favorable conditions. The Cooper apartments over the Estacada Furniture Store, have been selected and fitted up by the following: Misses Maude Sturgeon, druggist; Eva Pruner, instructor; Levina Smith, cashier, for this new adventure. We predict a bright future and expect to see the enterprise grow and expand. We have endeavored to find out how membership in this co-operative plan can be secured, and was informed that the individual had to agree to do their share of the work and put up their cash proportionment. I could not learn who was to be the judge of this or how many blackballs were necessary to keep you out. A lady at my elbow suggests a broom stick or brick-bat is sufficient for the latter.

The correct way to pronounce it is Es-ta-ca-da, accent on the third syllable, a having the sound of a as in ah in the two last syllables.

Davis Divorce Case

In the divorce suit from Garfield tried out last week in Oregon City, Davis vs Davis, the court decided in favor of Mr. Davis having the divorce and the custody of the eldest child, the other being under three years of age was given in care of the mother. A property division was also rendered by the court giving Mr. Davis one third of the real estate that belonged to Mrs. Davis and allowed him to retain all his own personal and real property. The case drew a goodly number of Garfield citizens as witnesses and spectators.

Jury Finds Cary Not Guilty

Jury Out But Fifteen Minutes Returns Verdict Favorable To The Defendant

In the case of the state against W. F. Cary, John Jones prosecutor, a jury, composed of J. P. Woodell, L. Hale, S. E. Antrim, C. W. Seymour and J. S. Osborn, heard the case on Wednesday afternoon before Edwin Bates, Justice of the Peace. Livy Stipp, district prosecuting attorney prosecuted the case and the defendant was represented by Senator Hedges. The taking of testimony soon revealed that the only contention was as to its being a concealed weapon, as it was freely admitted that Cary had the gun. When the testimony was all in, the case was submitted to the jury without argument by counsel. This was at four o'clock. The city hall was cleared to allow the jury time to consider the case. It took less than fifteen minutes for them to decide, the verdict being not guilty.

Mrs. R. G. Palmateer, of Garfield, met with quite an accident at her home on Tuesday when she slipped and fell, throwing her hand on a rusty saw from which she received an ugly cut. Dr. Adix dressed the wound.

A C. Jowdy, in the Lockerby building is receiving his goods and has been delayed by their non-arrival from the East, but if you need shoes, ladies and gents furnishing goods, underwear, and notions, give him a call. He can save you money.

H. E. Boen, who has been ranching on the Wm. Palmateer place, is busily engaged in hauling hay and spuds to Estacada and storing them for the purpose of shipping the same, as he is leaving the place.

A. J. Califf and wife, while driving to Oregon City on Monday, met with quite an accident. Their horse took fright and ran away, throwing the occupants out. Mr. and Mrs. Califf were both badly shaken up and bruised. The buggy was wrecked.

Geo. Townsend is the successful goose slayer in Estacada thus far this season. George heard the numerous flocks fly over Estacada and especially on Saturday night. He accordingly took an early 'hike' on Sunday morning and was back again before most of its citizens were a-stir, with three brants that he had shot on the Cazadero reservoir.
