THE WORK OF THE EXPERTS

You would not undertake to fix your telephone when it gets out of order. Nor would you risk your own hands to mend the broken plumbing.

It takes an expert to do an expert's work.

The work of searching titles takes a special knowledge as well as a special skill. A clerk cannot safely undertake it; neither can a lawyer. There are so many little technical points to be noticed, so many knots to untangle in a complicated title that the work has developed as special talent—the title man.

He is an expert in his line just as the plumber or the electrician.

Hallbert-March

R. M. March, the popular creamery man in charge of the Hazelwood Creamery in Estacada, has made good his assertion that he was going to get married. Ray, or "Creamery Bill" as he is familiarly called, came into Estacada over a year ago, a stranger, and took charge of the creamery and he has conducted the business so well that he has received an increase in salary and cognis his friends by the score.

He has been jokingly, as his friends supposed, telling of his intention to get married. So, on Friday he went to Portland returning on Sunday on the evening car with his bride, who was Miss Mary A. Hallbert, of Chaffey, Mo.

Mr. March and Miss Hallbert had been friends back East, Mr. March leaving there two years ago for the West and when the proper time came Mr. March sent for the lady to come to Portland where he met and brought her to Estacada as Mrs. March. The ceremony was performed in Portland by Rev. Thos. H. Walker, pastor of Calvary Presbyterian Church.

A number of his friends called on the bride and groom on Sunday evening at the Possen home, where Mr. March has been boarding for some time, to congratulate the newly married couple and to welcome the bride to our midst. Mr. and Mrs. March will live in Estacada.

John Zobrist went to Portland on Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving Day in the larger city.

A Thanksgiving church service was conducted by Rev. Kuhlman to day at 10:30. It was the pastors desire that all christians and friends of all the churches participate.

EAGLE CREEK

By a Freshman

The entertainment and chicken supper given at Wilbern's hall by the Sunday School and Athletic Club Saturday night was a decided success. Mr. Lee, the Y. M. C. A. instructor in athletics and physical culture, of Portland, gave an exhibition with Indian clubs and in hand balancing. All had a good time. Proceeds were about $20.

Holden and Mangrain, the enterprising young men in charge of the Gold Medal Shingle Co's mill, are certainly experts in their line. They have had a great deal of trouble, caused by the high water, but they are of the class who never say "fail."

The man living on the Bohn farm drove down to Eagle Creek just above the bridge and attempting to cross a tributary got into deep water. He managed to cut one horse loose, but the other is still attached to the wagon, in the water. Rescuers, attracted to the scene by Adolph's lusty shouts, found him clinging to a willow bush, and the other horse where it had drifted down to the rail road bridge and there got his feet on Mother Earth again. Both were "roped" and drawn to shore.

There are good prospects of a new public switch being put in just below the bridge, near the Grange hall.

Shall we gravel more roads or wade in the mud?

A crew of men, with an engine, were at work Monday evening removing the drift from above the railroad bridge at Alsbaugh.

While we may tire of the rain let us be thankful we have no blizzards, tidal waves or earth quakes.

SATURDAY SPECIAL SALE

ESTACADA MERCANTILE COMPANY

The main thought back of this Saturday Special Sale is to keep the Store Fresh. The incidental bargains are important to those who buy them. This is our thought always, Summer or Winter. But the mind of the great body of people is constantly on the fine, fresh stock that we show every day in the year. If we were like the old merchant who said, "I'll be switched if I buy any more of this ribbon, it sells so fast I can't keep stock" we might have a fine clean stock all the time without any worry over odds and ends or "bumps" of merchandise. But with the many individual sales daily, there must be a constant watchfulness and cleaning out of things that are not absolutely fresh, that are broken in size or styles getting ready to turn the corners.

LOCAL NEWS AND PERSONAL MENTION

Trespass notices printed on cloth ready to put up, at the Progress.

Miss Waivo Levellen, who has been at The Dalles with her sister, returned to her home in Springwater on Saturday.

P. T. Davis, of Webster & Davis realizing that Estacada and vicinity must eventually be a big place to live in, has purchased ten acres from D. F. Warner and we understand it is his intention to improve the same.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lewellen, of Springwater, went to Salem on Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving day with Mrs. Lewellen's mother. They expect also to go on to Harrisburg to visit her sister, Mrs. Spurlin, before returning home.

D. F. Warner has purchased from the Marquam tract twenty-four and one tenth acres of section 21, T. 3 S., R. 4 E. and has subdivided it into three portions, two of ten acres and one of four and one tenth acres. He also bought the timber on this portion and resold it to Webster & Davis.

Mr. Upton, our townsman, has recently been doing work at his trade out of the city, that we have not noted. He built a boiler furnace at Alsbaugh for the Gold Medal Shingle Co., plastered a house across the river for Mr. Hunt, and was down at Barton a few days ago building a fire for someone.

The high water on the Clackamas has prevented two pack trains, delivering supplies to the Southern Pacific's camp at Three Links, from getting out from the camp after taking in their pack last time. Curtis Wilcox and Wm. Davis are the two packers shut in. The trouble occurs at the big slide above Roaring river, the water covers the trail and the horses are unable to pass over it. They have plenty of provisions and horse feed, however.

At Springfield, Ore., two hundred people were forced to abandon their homes by the high water, which flooded the district. The experience of Mrs. M. A. Parker and her four children was most thrilling. They resided in the river bottom, when their home was flooded they took refuge in the barn it becoming unsafe they climbed from a fence into a tree where they remained until daylight when they were secured by boatmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Lindsey, who have been at Corvallis for a couple of months, surprised their Estacada friends by dropping in on them suddenly on Monday evening. They spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Branch Tucker, of Springwater, parents of Mrs. Lindsey. They returned to Corvallis on Tuesday.

Saw Mill To Resume Operations

E. M. Miller has bought the timber from about one hundred and thirty acres of the Marquam tract and has leased the Western Lumber & Fuel Co's saw mill in Estacada and will commence at once to haul the timber to Estacada. Feaster Cadonau has the contract to cut and log to the township road, from there it will be hauled on trucks to Estacada. Saw timber, piling and ties will be taken off and the balance cut into cordwood. This will give employment to a number of men and teams and will start up one of Estacada's idle plants. We are informed by Mr. Miller that work will be commenced at once.

CURRINSVILLE

Mr. Iver Erickson and Mr. Vance of Portland spent Sunday with the parents of the former.

Messrs Martin and Ray Congdon have returned home.

Cliff Sarver had a little bad luck last week, two of his horses were cut in the barb wire fence along the track.

Mr. Jim Linn has met with another accident. He was hit in the leg by a cable and pretty badly cut.

There was a good crowd of Good Templars at the convention at Arleta last Saturday. Well, Currinsville is always there with a jolly bunch.

Mrs. Congdon is very sick. Several pupils were absent from school last week on the account of high water. Why don't someone build a canal boat?

Miss Bessie Hughes and her parents have gone to Portland. Miss Bessie intends going on to Seattle where she will spend the Winter.

It is reported that Mr. Coop was seen prodding around in his yard with a pole, when asked "Why?" he said he was looking for the well to get a drink.

Mayor J. W. Reed made a business trip to Portland on Wednesday
