Mr. Vance, of Portland, was visiting with Miss Ellen Erickson last Sunday.

There was a mask party New Year's eve, but owing to the rowdiness of some of the "smart set" the first part of the eve. was not enjoyed by the order loving young people. Some of the younger folks, and a few of the older folks, think that an invitation to a mask party gives them a license to raise a "rough house." It is too bad their training was neglected when they were very small. Well, the latter part of the evening was enjoyed by all. Coffee and cake were served at 12 P. M., thanks to Albert Kitching and wife.

Mr. Congdon is building a new barn. Must expect a crop.

Splendid examples of fir finishing, said to be the most elaborate ever sent from the Northwest, will be shipped this week to Washington, D. C. Where they will enter into the new building being erected by the Bureau of American Republics, under the direction of John Barrett. The wood will be used in the reception room of the new building, which will be completely finished in fir. This will result in a big advertisement for this wood as finishing material.

The wood has been prepared for shipment East and goes as a gift from the Oregon & Washington Lumber Manufacturers' Association. The finishing consists of panels, stools, medallions, desks and brackets of the most elaborate hand-carved design. The grain of the wood is shown to splendid advantage and is stained with an oak finish.

One big fruit growers union for the entire Rogue River Valley district is planned by orchardists of Southern Oregon. A movement is under way for merging the Medford Ashland and Grants Pass fruit growers' unions into one organization and it is proposed to give over to this body the packing and shipping of all fruit grown in the valley and also the buying packing, spraying and other orchard materials direct from the factory in carload lots. The formation of such an organization will insure the uniformity of the pack and maintain the high reputation of Rogue River fruit. The proposed union is to be incorporated and its affairs will be handled by a board of directors and a manager.

Loggers of the Columbia River expect the new year will see more raw material handled in their camps than ever before in the history of the industry within a similar period. The lumber trade is said to be booming and the coming year promises great activity. Many mills are short of logs and camps will resume operations in February instead of waiting for Spring. New mills in the Columbia River district have drawn heavily upon the usual log supply until it is less than usual at this season of the year. Mills are said to be filled up with orders that will keep them busy for the coming three months.

A general revision of rates on the North Bank road that is favorable to the shippers of the Northwest has been announced and will go into effect February 1. The new rates will apply between points on the road in Washington and between all stations and Portland. New and more favorable rates will be made on packing house products and fresh meats in carloads. These concessions by the Hill line will add to the business of Portland livestock plants and increase the prestige of Portland as a packing house center.

Preparations are being made for the annual convention of the Northwest Retail Harnessmakers' Association of the Northwest, which will be held in Portland January 10 and 11. The sessions will be held in the auditorium of the Portland Commercial Club and delegates will be in attendance from the states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho. About 200 harness men from the three states are expected. The big attraction of the convention is an elaborate banquet that will be held on the closing night.

Receipts at the Portland Union Stock Yards since September 15th, at which time business was commenced, have been 23,006 cattle, 32,016 sheep, 34,328 hogs, and

The ready support given by the live stock raiser and shipper of the Pacific Northwest to the market established at Portland is an evidence of the utility and need of such an institution as the Portland Union Stock Yards. Established along open and competitive lines, this healthy young market will continue to grow until it will take its place among the big live stock centers of the United States.

School Notes

Increase Of Five In Past Week. Literary Society Gives Interesting Program

Five new pupils entered school this week. The report for the month ending Dec. 31 shows a gradual growth in the whole school to date 170. 153 of those are now in actual attendance. The actual attendance in the rooms is as follows: high school 28, seventh and eighth 26, fifth and sixth 32, third and fourth 35, first and second 40. There are now over 200 school children in the district. This makes us a second class district. Last year at this time we had enrolled in all 122; this year 170.

The following program was given by the High School Literary Society at their last meeting: Christmas quotations by members; Recitation, Lulu Congdon; Reading, Prin. H. M. James; Recitation by the Society; Recitation, Maggie Lingelbach; Debate, Resolved: That friends are more to be desired than money. The affirmative debaters were Warren McWillis, Martin Baurndend, Echo Githens. The negative debaters were Bert Page, Harold Wooster and Rachael Reed. The debate was warmly contested, both sides covering themselves with glory, but the weight of argument was for the negative.

Each room had a Christmas tree and then Mr. Stubbe, in the garb of Santa, visited the school house and treated all of the teachers and children.

Pres. Campbell of the University of Oregon has promised to come to Estacada and deliver an address under the auspices of the school.

Watch Night Party

Last Friday evening quite a number of Estacada's young people gathered at the M. E. Church to "ring out the old year and ring in the new." Games were enjoyed till late in the evening, when refreshments were served then games resumed again. At five minutes till twelve the church bell began tolling for the dying year but soon the rapid ringing announced the arrival of 1910. Everybody had a splendid time and left in the wee small hours of the morning regretting that it would be a whole year before another New Years watch night party could be held, but rejoicing that the evening had been so great a success.

Riverside Mill Busy Loading Piling

Mill Company Ships Long Piling To Portland For New Power Plant

The Portland Railway, Light & Power Co. at their plant at the Riverside Mill, have about eighty men employed, some are clearing ground but most of them are getting out and loading piling, of which they ship one hundred pieces per day. This requires fifteen cars daily to ship to Portland, where the company is using them in the construction of the new steam power plant being erected. It is said they expect to get out eight thousand pieces for that work. E. M. Miller has his entire force of men at work on the Marquam tract getting out piling for the same company. He is to get out one thousand and fifty and sixty feet long. It requires two cars daily to ship them. At the Riverside Mill they are taking them out up to ninety foot lengths.

Notice To Members

Members of the Estacada I. O. O. F. Lodge No 175 and Centennial Rebecca Lodge No. 147 are requested to be present in their hall on Saturday evening to attend a joint installation of the two lodges. Bring something to eat, as a basket supper will be served.

At Home For New Years

On New Years day at the Womer home were represented three generations and "daddy" and "mammy" Womer consider themselves "kids" with less than a five year experience in Oregon. There were at dinner Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Womer, Marv. Paul, and Chester of Estacada, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Spurlin and daughter Sarah Elizabeth of Hood River, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Woodward and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilcox and daughter Thelma of Oregon City. It was a gathering of home folks at the holiday season which has never yet been broken in the family, except Christmas of '04. Mr. Womer being in Oregon and the balance of the family in Pennsylvania. This is only the third time in the history of the family that they were not all together on Christmas day. It was not possible this time for all to be home on Christmas so New Years day was fixed as the time to gather. The other time the family was broken at Christmas time was two years ago when R. S. Womer was detained in the mountains by high water and did not reach home until the day following Christmas, after spending the night in a storm on North Fork mountain in an effort to reach home by Christmas.

staff, of Elwood, to Estacada and took them to Oregon City. From there they will be sent to Salem to the asylum. This is a sad case as they are quite aged and have been simple minded from birth. They have made their home in Elwood for a number of years living with their brother and mother. On Sunday last their mother died from a stroke of paralysis and this left them helpless so the people of that locality had them sent to the asylum, where they can have the needed care they should have.

Add New Turbine To Cazadero Plant

The Portland Railway, Light & Power Co. are at work adding another turbine to their Cazadero plant. They now have four, this will make the fifth. A number of men have been put to work at the power house and J. S. Reagan, of stone quarry fame, has a number of men at work getting out crushed rock for this work. So the new year is starting off in elegant shape. Everyone was busy last year and the indications are that we will be more than busy this year.

GARFIELD

The Clackamas County Pomona will meet at Garfield's grange hall on Wednesday, Jan. 12. The regular Grange meeting will be held this month on Saturday, January 8th, in order to make lavish preparations for receiving our guests on the following Wednesday. It is requested that everybody attend this meeting on Saturday and come willing to work, so that our out-of-town friends will look with pleasure to the time when they may again get off the train at Estacada enroute for Garfield.

SPRINGWATER

Talk about your progressive neighborhoods! A Springwater bachelor gets married, the grange puts window panes in its hall, there is four inches of snow, about twenty inebriates, a play party, and a dance all in the same week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Howell arrived home Thursday afternoon. That evening about twenty-five men and boys of the community dropped around to congratulate the happy pair. After partaking of refreshments and cigars and listening to a beautiful rendition by Roll Herring of that charming song "Three Thousand Miles Away," the company and the refreshments adjourned to Louy Rath's. Later the procession wended its way to the new shed attached to the grange hall, where the remainder of the evening was spent in telling stories, playing games and finishing the refreshments. Wasco told the best one.

Lost.—Between Howells, Rath's, the store and the grange, one pair of shoes. Finder please return before the next dance.

Shibleys held a party at their house on Christmas night, but as the Springwater correspondent was not invited we can give no details.

Genseroskis gave a small dance and card party on New Years eve., by way of watching the new year in.

Mr. Gerald Wilcox, who has been spending the holidays with his parents in Springwater returned to Corvallis, where he is attending college.

Mr. Cromer returned last Friday from a visit with her folks in Oregon City.

Uncle Mace decided he couldn't stay away from Springwater any longer so he left his wife and sons at Oregon City and returned home. He and Roll Herring are batching it, and keeping pretty late hours too.

George Lewellen, from Prineville Ore., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lewellen, of Springwater.

Mr. Kandle's brother-in-law, Mr. Anderson of Salem, has been visiting him this week.
