Annexation Plan Sees Opposition

Multnomah Officials Doubt Ad-visibility of Enlarging County

Of direct interest to the taxpayers of this county, particularly of this city, is the proposal to annex to Multnomah County that part of Clackamas County lying north of the Clackamas River and west of the Willamette River, between the mouth of the Clackamas and the mouth of the Tualatin.

The territory proposed to be added to this county equals the present area of Multnomah. The district described represents assessable values of only $13,000,000. In other words, say prominent Multnomah County officials, it is proposed to add to this county, which has assessable values of about $250,000,000, territory equal in area and representing assessable values of only $13,000,000.

It is insisted that if the annexation scheme is carried through, the area of Multnomah County will be doubled, virtually, and the expense of maintaining roads will be more than doubled. On an average between $180,000 and $200,000 annually have been expended for road construction in this county. To make and maintain these improvements in the territory proposed to be annexed, it is estimated would cost a greater amount for the reason that road and bridge construction in that part of Clackamas County is far more expensive than in any section of this county as it is now constituted.

The bulk of this increased expense in taxes would be exacted from the taxpayers of Portland, who now pay 92 per cent. of the taxes raised for county purposes, including the building of roads. If the additional territory is annexed, the taxpayers of this city will be required to pay even a greater proportion of the cost of these improvements in that district for the reason that the territory to be added will not carry the same proportion of the cost as is carried by the same character of land in this county.

Attempted secession by the residents of the northern part of Clackamas County will be resisted vigorously by the voters of that part of the county south of the Clackamas River. The boundaries of the district which would withdraw from the parent county have been so drawn as to include the big paper manufacturing plants in Oregon City. It is in these mills that the greater part of the $13,000,000 of assessable value exists.

"The total assessable values of Clackamas County are about $22,000,000," said J. E. Jack, Assessor of that county, yesterday, "and the value of the property in the district seeking to secede is probably $13,000,000. While probably nine-tenths of the people in this county, north of the Clackamas, favor annexation to Multnomah; their move, I feel satisfied, will be opposed in the election by a majority of the voters of the entire county. I have been informed that an organized effort will be made in opposition to the campaign of the annexationists."

"Multnomah County is now spending annually between $180,000 and $200,000 on its roads," said a county official yesterday. "If the additional territory is taken in this expense to the county will be more than doubled, since there are only a few improved roads in Northern Clackamas, while at the same time there are a great many costly bridges to be maintained. Property owners in the City of Portland now pay 92 per cent. of the taxes raised in this county. They will be required to pay more than that proportion of the increased tax for these improvements, which will be necessary if the additional territory is annexed. "This annexation agitation, I am convinced, had its origin with some property owners who hope by joining their holdings with Multnomah County to reap the benefits of increased valuation, which would follow that action. In view of the vital concern this situation bears to the taxpayers of the City of Portland, the true facts should be brought to their attention.

"Annexation of the proposed area can only mean increased taxes to Multnomah County property owners and a maximum of improvements for a minimum of taxes for the residents of the district seeking annexation. Having this knowledge before them, the interested voters cannot be excused if they vote blindly or indifferently on the subject."—Oregonian, Feb. 21.

Sock Social A Success

The Ladies' Aid "sock social" held in the club rooms of the Commercial club in the evening of Washington's Birthday was well patronized, in fact standing room was at a premium. The entertainers on the program were, for the most part, out of town people. Cazadero came in with a very entertaining portion in their full chorus and individual pieces, which was much enjoyed by those present and for which the aid society desires to thank them. Mr. Horner and Miss Keller, of Dodge, who came the long distance in the kind of roads we are having, the Aid feels very grateful to, as well as Mr. Flynn and Duncan for their impromptu parts in the entertainment. The local orchestra, Miss Jones, and the children deserve special mention also the young men who disregarded the door the size of their sock and made a liberal contribution are especially mentioned by the Aid as being appreciated attendants. Again we repeat, that these entertainments in our community are not only beneficial to a worthy cause financially but are a source of social enjoyment to all and meet the encouragement they deserve. The ladies report their receipts to be $36.59.

EAGLE CREEK
By a Freshman

The Eagle Creek Farmers' Telephone Co. has been snow bound at Henry Gibbons and the Dover line at Henry Udells for some time, but hope to get into town soon. L. Baker reports that his company has decided to "do nothing." It is reported that the other line now running into Eagle Creek will go to Estacada.

Mr. Morris, who owned the new store at Eagle Creek has sold out to H. T. Lee. Mr. Lee says he intends buying everything we have to sell and selling his goods at right prices. That is the kind of man needed and we wish him success.

Report says parties have bought the small building just east of Wilber's store and intend fitting it up as a poll room. Couldn't they find better business?

The wrestling match between Rivers and Douglas was an interesting affair. Douglas winning the first and third falls the majority of the lookers-on and both the wrestlers were dissatisfied with the decision on third fall. F. Ely was referee. Ivor Erickson challenged the winner but Douglas, like Sarver, seems satisfied with honors already won.

Miss Muriel Crouch finished her term of school in District 50 two weeks ago. School began again last Monday with Miss Mann as teacher.

Elsworth Clester is in Lake county looking after a homestead. Mrs. C. is visiting her mother Mrs. Longwell and Tracy has gone to his father's. Scott and Charley are keeping house.

The Good Templars lodge is doing well. A good degree of interest is shown. Three new members were initiated at the last meeting. Two delegates were chosen to represent the infant lodge at Grand Lodge next Saturday.

Mr. Walter Douglas sold his place of 20 acres, which he began improving about two years ago, for $5000. It pays to improve.

Several land buyers have been seen in our vicinity.

Mr. Chas. Murphy is very much interested in the Sacramento Valley and expects to move his family there in the near future.

Why do not Estacada and Garfield have Good Templars lodges?

The parties who were moving household goods from George to Eagle Creek on Monday certainly had bad roads and bad weather. They have our sympathy.

The weather the past few months has been a surprise to the natives, being comparatively bad, worse, worst and now by way of consolation the wisecracks tell us March is always the worst month. Never-the-less, we are optimistic enough to hope this will prove the saying that "there are exceptions to all rules."
