The correct way to pronounce it is Es-ta-ca-da, accent on the third syllable, a having the sound of a as in ah in the two last syllables.

That high prices for food products are driving many people back to the farm is the belief of those who have given the matter attention. It is contended that not for years has the movement been so noticable as now. All parts of the Pacific Northwest are being benefitted, it is said, by this desertion of the cities and return to the soil. Confidence is expressed that this will balance production and consumption and bring prices of farm products down to lower levels.

Salem, the capital city, will hold its annual cherry fair on July 7, 8 and 9. The event promises to be a big affair and is being widely advertised. People from the entire valley will attend and unusual preparations are being made to entertain them. There will be keen competition between the valley counties for prizes in the cherry exhibits and amusement features of the fair will be better than ever.

Large appropriations for Oregon waterway improvements are available by the passage of the Rivers and Harbors bill by the recent Congress. More than $1,000,000 will be spent in perfecting the jetty at the mouth of the Columbia River and additional funds are provided for dredging the Lower Willamette and Columbia rivers. The improvement of the upper Willamette and Columbia is provided for, as is the Celilo Canal, which gets $600,000.

The people of Highland are now petitioning the county court for a road from their section to Estacada, their natural place to do business and bring their produce. It is very important to the business men of our city to see that such a road is built. These people are anxious to have a road here as it is much more convenient than to be compelled to go to Oregon City.

Portland ends the cereal shipping year May 31, holding second place in the entire country as a wheat exporting city. New York alone has a greater volume to its credit. During the past 12 months Portland has sent away 6,350,033 bushels of wheat, valued at $5,791,304.

The Misses Emma Petsch, Gus and Non Kindorff were Portland friends who spent the Fourth with Mary Womer.

W. P. Ferrell, who resides on the Clackamas bottom west of Eagle Creek, has sold his ranch of seventy-four acres to Harry Greenside of Spokane. There are about two hundred peach trees on the place, a few of which are in bearing, but most of them have just been set out. Mr. Ferrell has reserved four acres of spuds and about one fourth acre of carrots that he desires to sell.

A picnic party went to Eagle Creek Falls to spend the 4th in a quiet social way and report having had a splendid time. The party was made up of Mayor Reed and his family with Rev. Parounagian and family as their guests, A. E. Sparks and wife with Miss Blanche Kerchner of Iowa and the Misses Worth and Heylman of Portland as their guests and T. J. Reagan and family. They returned to the city early in the evening.

Harkenrider-Paulsen

At the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Harkenrider, Miss Matilda Harkenrider was, on June 26th, united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Julius Paulsen of George. The bride and groom are very well and favorably known throughout this county, as well as the families of the contracting parties as they are old settlers and property holders of this section. A large company of friends and the families of the bride and groom were in attendance at the wedding. The home was beautifully decorated. The sisters of the bride acted as bridesmaids and the brother of the groom was best man. A reception was tendered the newly married pair in the oak grove and a sumptuous dinner was served. Rev. H. W. Kuhlman officiated at the wedding.

The bride and groom departed on an evening car for a short honeymoon trip, returning on Sunday July 3rd they went over to George the home of the groom. It is the intention of the newly married couple to reside in George.

B. R. Kimmel and family spent the 4th in Oregon City.

Rev. Parounagian and family of Gresham spent last week with friends in Estacada.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Woodward of Oregon City are spending the week with the parents of Mrs. Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Womer. Roy is doing painting at the Cazadero power house this week.

The big fight is over and Johnson remains the champion. Numerous fights and a score of dead as the result are reported from all over the country. North and South alike resenting the fact that a negro is the champion fighter of the world. What would the result be if we had a worlds champion peace maker. He could in our judgment find plenty of profitable employment among us and his adherents in this vicinity would likely share the same fate as has the ardent supporters of preserving the color line.

Sells Liquor Without A License

"Bill" Irwin, thinking the 4th a good time to get a little easy money and Estacada a good point, presumably on account of his being a former Garfield boy and well known, decided to go into the "bootlegging" business and for a time it is said seemed to do a flourishing business but Marshal Rhoades about 5 o'clock swooped down upon him, confiscated his stock in trade consisting of beer and whiskey and "six-shooter Bill" found lodging in one of the cells of the city "lock-up" where he spent the night. It was thought advisable by the authorities to place a night guard on to watch the place so that no opportunity could be given for his escape.

On Tuesday morning he was brought before the recorder and pleaded guilty to violating a city ordinance in selling liquor without a city license. The recorder imposed a fine of twenty-five dollars and five dollars costs and thirty days in the city jail. The jail sentence was suspended on condition that Irwin would at once leave the city and not return, otherwise it should remain in full force and should he again return he can be arrested and placed in jail.

Ray Wilcox on Saturday drove with his wife and baby to Cazadero so that Mrs. Wilcox could take the car for Estacada. They had just got off the hack at Faraday when the horses took fright and ran up the track as far as the stone crusher before being caught. The horses were not injured but the hack was a complete wreck.

On Tuesday J. P. Altizer was arrested on complaint of the city marshal and brought before the Recorder for violation of a city ordinance in reference to selling near beer or malt tea without a city license. As Altizer requested additional time that he might secure the services of an attorney. The case was set for trial on Friday July 8th at 3 P. M.

In the case of the City of Estacada vs. J. M. Foster for violating a city ordinance in selling near beer without a license, to be heard on Tuesday last at 2 o'clock, Foster with his attorney, J. B. Horsford, appeared and as the attorney in this case has had no time in which to examine it he asked for a continuation which was granted. Friday July 8th at 11 A. M. being the time set for a hearing
