Checks for the Communion Table.

The author of "The Sabbath in Puritan New England" mentions a custom which prevailed in several New England churches that made it the duty of the deacons to walk up and down the aisles of the church at the close of each service and deliver to every person who in their judgment was fitted to commune a metal check, which entitled him at the next celebration of the Lord's supper to join in the sacred ordinance. On the communion Sabbath it was the deacons' duty to see that every one who presented himself at the Lord's table had this check and to collect it from the communicant before passing to him the bread and wine.

All to Do Over Again.

It is an open question of the old fisherman in the following story ever got the right answer to the problem that was puzzling his head. A writer in Everybody's Magazine, at least, leaves one in doubt on that score. The riddle was this: "If a herring and a half costs a penny and a half, how many herrings can you buy for a shilling?" The old fisherman had worked on it for some time.

"What did you say the mackerel and a half cost?" he asked at last.

"I didn't say mackerel; I said herring," explained the skipper.

"Oh, that's different," said the other. "I've been figuring on mackerel."

The Old Horse Room.

Alvin Adams when the express business was in its infancy had an office and two horses in New York city. One of these horses was a fine, fast animal, and the other an old, broken-down nag. Packages that were to be delivered immediately he sent out behind the fast horse. Of goods that didn't have to be rushed he would say, "Leave them for the old horse."

In every express office to this day there is an "old horse" room, where undelivered and unclaimed packages are kept.—Argonaut.

His Definition.
At a London board school the teacher had explained to the children the meaning of the word "ability." "Now children," she went on, "what word would express the opposite to ability?" A sharp faced little boy at the end of the end form bobbed up his head and exclaimed, "Please, teacher, nobility!"—Work and Play.

Near Its Final Stage.
Mr. Dorkins—Maria, I think I can make this dining table last a while longer by replacing a few of the top boards with new ones.
Mrs. Dorkins—Well, go ahead and patch the top of the old thing up if you think you can, but I want you to understand that it's on its last legs.

PILES
"I have suffered with piles for thirty six years. One year ago last April I began taking Cascarets for constipation. In the course of a week I noticed the piles began to disappear and at the end of six weeks they did not trouble me at all. Cascarets have done wonders for me. I am entirely cured and feel like a new man." George Kryder, Napoleon, O.

Eloping Up-to-Date.
The costless man puts a careless arm around the waist of the hapless girl. While over the dustless, mudless roads in a horseless wagon they whirl. Like a leaden bullet from hammerless gun.
By motionless powder driven, They fly to taste the speechless joys By endless union given.
The only luncheon his careless purse Affords to them the means Is a tasteless meal of boneless cod, With a dish of stringless beans. He smokes his old tobaccoless pipe, And laughs a mirthless laugh When papa tries to coax her back By wireless telegraph.

The Ambiguous Cook.
Mrs. DeLasker—Did your cook leave on account of the extra 15 cents a week that the Itazir woman offered her?
Mrs. Von Holmer—I can't tell; she said she was going to leave because she wanted the change, and I don't know whether she meant the money or the new place.

FOREST FIRES RAGE
Six Known Dead and Millions of Feet of Timber Gone.
Schoolteacher and Niece in Lonely Homestead Cabin Fall Victims—All Efforts Fail to Save.
Spokane, Wash.—Six lives have been lost in fires which are raging in the district around Spokane. For hundreds of miles in every direction is a cauldron of flame, a seething furnace which is taking its toll of life and property. It is the Coeur d'Alenes, all over the Idaho Panhandle, in the Colville district, north around Nelson and Kaslo, far westward, extending clear to the coast, the fire fiend is king.
No real estimate can be placed upon property loss from the fires. Great tracts of timber have been burned. In the Coeur d'Alenes some of the finest standing timber of the entire district has been wiped out. For miles in every direction the mountains appear as huge bonfires. North, east, west and south of this city the same condition exists and every day the loss of property is growing greater and the death list is being added to.
A forest fire driven by a sweeping gale through the dry pine forest on Mill Creek, 18 miles northeast of Colville, surrounded the homestead cabin of Miss Pearl Brewen, aged 22, a teacher in school district No. 156. Before assistance could reach her she and her little niece, 1 year old, daughter of Hon. J. S. Wyman, of Plains, Mont., were burned to death. Dozens of determined men vainly sought to reach the cabin, but were driven back.
W. W. Clark, residing on the south fork of Mill Creek, arrived at Colville and reported to Prosecuting Attorney H. G. Kirkpatrick the harrowing details of the schoolteacher's death. She was in her lonely homestead cabin, her niece spending the day with her. The gruesome tragedy was the result of a forest fire set by W. A. Trowbridge, a near neighbor, clearing a slash.
Trowbridge has been arrested, with two other men, and he will be taken to jail. The settlers are very angry, and Sheriff Graham is prepared for emergencies. Millions of feet of timber have been burned in the last few days.
Warden Hanson has arrived at Colville with Trowbridge in custody, and Prosecuting Attorney Kirkpatrick, who with Coroner A. B. Cook and Undertaker W. S. Prindle, was just leaving the court house for the scene of the death of Miss Brewen, ordered the prisoner to the custody of Sheriff W. H. Graham.
According to Mr. Clark, Trowbridge had been warned personally not to set fire, that it was contrary to law. Hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of timber is being destroyed and there is but little hope of checking the flames until rain falls.

Men Die as Heroes.
Nelson, B. C.—Leaving safety to look after others, Foreman Charles Norman, of the Lucky Jim mine at Kaslo, lost his life in a bush fire, which, fanned by a high wind, swept over the mine. Four other men were suffocated and about 30 escaped.
A party of prominent mining men, including Finckee, Miller and Colonel Davidson, from Spokane and Webster; Loper and Proctor, of Nelson, on coming out of tunnel No. 5, noticed fire rapidly approaching. They went to Whitewater and assisted in getting the women and children away. Norman went to the mine camp to warn the men in the cabins. Otto Swanson led the men to the back of tunnel No. 4. Not being room there for all, several went to another part of the tunnel, where smoke was swept through the ventilating chambers, suffocating Col. Peterson and W. A. Chesney. Dave Peterson was found suffocated at another point. Meanwhile Norman went to look for Ted Lucas, who is still missing. He was cut off by the flames and his body was found at the entrance to the tunnel.
Forests Blaze Near Hoquiam.
Hoquiam, Wash.—A force of 1,000 loggers is engaged in patrolling the logging districts north of Hoquiam to prevent forest fires from breaking out anew. No damage has been done yet, with the exception of $5,000 worth of timber destroyed Saturday. Hot prevailing weather has a tendency to dry out mosses and brush, making timber easy prey to the flames. The territory burned over is estimated at 4,000 acres. Forest fires are raging in Little North river country, located 16 miles southeast of here.
Fire Might Have Been Checked.
Seattle, Wash.—Five hundred thousand feet of logs that had been cut and were ready for delivery have been destroyed by a forest fire now raging near Tolt, in this county. The fire is the worst that has broken out this side of the Cascade mountains this season. It is eating its way into valuable green timber owned by the O'Neil Timber company, limited. The fire might have been checked in its early stages before it destroyed the large quantity of logs had the contractors taken the pains to put in a few fire fighters.

Bad Storm Sweeps Nevada.
Reno, Nev.—The worst storm Nevada has experienced in years at this time of the year started late Tuesday afternoon breaking the longest dry period the state has ever known. The precipitation has been nearly two inches, which exceeds the total for the five preceding months combined. Streetcar traffic was demoralized by a flash of lightning which burned out the transformers. The cars were out of commission all night.
Big Mill Threatened by Fires.
Tacoma, Wash.—Forest fires on the McKenna branch of the Tacoma Eastern railroad threaten the Bryan sawmill, according to reports received here. A lively fire is raging and it is feared the force of men fighting the flames is inadequate to save the mill.

Cleaning the Henhouse.
If you wish to rid your henhouse of lice and mites now is the time to do it.
Clean them perfectly, whitewash the sides and roosts, remove all litter from the nests and whitewash them outside and in. Take out all droppings and litter on the floor and sprinkle ashes over the floor every few days.
Fumigate the house once or twice a week with sulphur or tobacco smoke. Make a war on the insects for the next two months, and you will not be troubled much with them during summer.

Strawberries Grown in City.
To show that strawberries can be grown in the heart of the city, Willis A. Hendricks of East Twenty-first and Albert streets brought to the office of the Oregonian a number of boxes of Magoon and Oregon Improved berries containing an average of twenty berries to the box. The berries were grown on an ordinary city lot without irrigation. Mr. Hendricks had 1,000 plants on his lot and at the first picking he picked a total of 56 boxes of the berries over five inches in circumference and one measured 7 1/2 inches in circumference.—Portland Oregonian.

His Question-Answer.
"Are marriages made in heaven?"
The lecturer paused, as if for an answer to his interrogation; whereupon a man with a hunted look glanced furtively over his shoulder, swallowed hard, moistened his lips and said, huskily:
"Do strawberries grow at the north pole?"

Mixed Feed for Horses.
In large city stables feeding the horses the hay and grain as mixed feed is the general practice and gives the best results. Keepers find that horses can be worked hard and kept in good condition on cut hay and cornmeal. The amount of hay fed varies from 8 to 14 pounds a day in different stables, and of grain from 7 to 20 pounds a day.

Good Rotation.
A good rotation is corn, grain, clover. Hay land should be topdressed with stable manure, and best results were obtained by applying this little and often. Where land remains in grass a long time a light sowing of clover from time to time is beneficial, reseeded in summer after the hay crop has been removed.

The Great Problem.
"Please advise me."
"Well!"
"Shall I marry a girl who is my temperamental opposite and quarrel with her the rest of my life, or shall I marry a congenial soul and get tired of her?"

No Cause for Alarm.

Its Action Followed by a Voice That Warned.
"Patrick H. McCarren once told me of a funny incident that happened in Rome," said a Brooklyn lawyer. "McCarren said that on his first visit to Rome, after he had seen the Coliseum and the Forum, he visited the Ara Coeli church, on the left of the Capitoline Hill. He climbed the grand stairway leading to the church, the finest open air stairway in the world. He pushed back the heavy leather curtain, and, entering, he found a service in progress. So he put his hat on the marble floor at his side and took a seat.
"After ten minutes or so he decided he would go and reached down for his hat. But a restraining hand was laid on his, and he desisted. He knew, of course, that some churches don't like people to leave in the midst of a service.
"Ten or fifteen minutes more passed. The service still continued. Senator McCarren got impatient and again reached for his hat. But again the unseen hand restrained him from the rétro.
"A little later, however, the senator quite lost patience. This was, he told himself, an important service, of course. Nevertheless, he did not propose to miss his luncheon, and it would harm no one if he slipped out quietly.
"So a third time he reached for his hat, and the invisible hand a third time detained him. He persevered, however. The silent hand pushed and his silent hand pushed against it. But just as he was conquering in the struggle a voice said in good American: "Cheese it, boss; that's my hat you're taking."

Rich Father—When I was a young man of your age I was compelled to keep an accurate expense account and wasn't allowed to be out at night later than 11 o'clock.
Son and Heir—Sorry to hear it, governor; your father couldn't trust you as safely as you can trust me.

Postponed.
Dolly—Why aren't you at the cooking school?
Polly—Teacher's laid up with dyspepsia.—Cleveland Leader.
