The correct way to pronounce it is Es-ta-ca-da, accent on the third syllable, a having the sound of a as in ah in the two last syllables.

Easter is a christian festival to celebrate the resurrection of our Lord, Jesus Christ. It is nowhere in the bible, or by the apostles, spoken of or authorized. The Jewish Church had many feast days and it was natural for the early christian church to introduce them. The time and manner of holding the Easter festival has occasioned much strife with the different branches of the church. These differences and strifes were finely brought to an end by the Church of Rome. The Roman christians adopted the ordinary gentile usage, which within certain limits placed the observance of the crucifixion on Friday. The rule governing it may be briefly stated as this: Easter day is the first Sunday after the 14th day of the calendar moon which happens on or next after the 21st day of March. This calendar moon, however is not the moon of the heavens but an imaginary moon created for ecclesiastical convenience in advance of the real moon. The most people think the moon that shines in the regulation, but this is an error. Easter day, as commemorating the central fact of our religion has always been the chief festival of the christian year.

To carry the message of progress and to encourage the commercial bodies of the state to greater efforts along publicity lines, Field Secretary Saver, of the Oregon Development League, has left the Portland headquarters for an extended trip through Eastern Oregon. He will cover 2100 miles on his journey and will call upon many commercial bodies that have never received an official visit from the League. Mr. Saver will advise with dormant commercial clubs and help revive them and will establish new ones where they are needed.

The country to be traversed, Eastern and Central Oregon, is developing fast, due to the new railroads now being built, and it is considered important that the new cities get a start along the right lines in publicity work. Intelligent methods will do much to win settlers for this region of great future possibilities.

The biggest month in colonization movements Oregon has ever had has just closed, bringing thousands of new citizens to the state. Favorable rates attracted people from all parts of the country who are valuable additions to the population. Every part of the state has profited by the heavy gain in new people. It is up to the older residents to make the new comers feel at home for if they like this state they will induce their friends back home to come out also.

Madras wants a land office to handle the business that now goes to The Dalles or Lakeview from the vicinity of that town. With the settlement of Central Oregon and the many newcomers filing on land, there is business enough around Madras for such an institution and Senator Chamberlain has been asked to establish one there.

Colonists Are Coming In Great Quantities

Several families have arrived in Estacada from the Eastern influx of settlers. The railroads report the greatest colonist travel this season they have ever had. More than 35,000 colonists were booked for the Pacific Northwest. We have the following people from Missouri who have settled on the flat near the schoolhouse, R. Crump and family, E. P. Crump and family, A. B. Lewis and J. W. Wood. These all belong to one party that came in two weeks ago and intend locating in this region.

Saved his mother's life
"Four doctors had given me up," writes Mrs. Laura Gaines, of Avoca, La., "and my children and all my friends were looking for me to die, when my son insisted that I use Electric Bitters. I did so, and they have done me a world of good. I will always praise them as a precious blessing to women troubled with fainting and dizzy spells, headache, weakness, debility, constipation or kidney disorders. Use them and gain new health, strength and vigor. They're guaranteed to satisfy or money refunded. Only 50c at all druggists."

and yet sleepless Hiram Scranton, of Clay City, Ill., coughed and coughed. He was in the mountains on the advice of five doctors, who said he had consumption, but found no help in the climate, and started home. Hearing of Dr. King's New Discovery, he began to use it. "I believe it saved my life," he writes "for it made a new man of me, so that I can now do good work again." For all lung diseases, coughs, colds, la grippe, asthma, croup, whooping cough, hay fever, hemorrhages, hoarseness or quinsy, it's the best known remedy. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly talking to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Body Of Wilbur Childers Found

Body Of Young Man Is Recovered From Icy Waters Of The Clackamas; Taken To Portland

The body of Wilbur Childers, who was drowned on the evening of March 30th while he and two companions were attempting to cross the Clackamas at the upper dam of the P. R. L. & P. Co., was recovered on Monday by Clyde Schock.

Since the accident happened men in the employ of the company, also other friends, had done everything they could to recover the body. S. W. Childers, father of the young man, had been there for more than a week and was told he would receive every assistance from the company and others, so long as he felt they should continue the search. He finely gave up the effort and returned home, as the water had become muddy from the rains. Monday was a bright, clear day and Mr. Hulise, having provided what he calls a water glass of his own construction to aid them, search was resumed. At 11 a. m. Clyde Schock discovered the body lying in about fifteen feet of water, just in the backwater of the Cazadero dam, which extends about two miles up the river from the dam site. The body had been carried about five hundred yards from where the accident happened. The coroner at Oregon City was at once notified, also the family. It was about 6 p. m. when they arrived at the upper dam. The party came to Estacada in an automobile and were met here by the "Goat," a car from Cazadero. In the party were three officials of the P. R. L. & P. Co. of Portland, the coroner and two officers from Oregon City. W. Blech, Walter Marks, C. F. Allen, Frank Osfield, Frank Kocsis and S. Drew were the coroner's jury. Accidental drowning was their verdict. As no embalmer had arrived the body was left in the water until his arrival Tuesday morning when it was embalmed and taken to Portland on the one o'clock car. The body was in a good state of preservation when found. The young man had many friends here who are grieved by his untimely death.

Popular Traveling Man Married

Tom P. Window, traveling representative of the Pacific Coast Biscuit Co., always genial and pleasant to meet, was more so on this trip. We found that in addition to the ever popular "Tom" being registered at The Estacada there was also a Mrs. Tom P. Window and upon inquiry found that he was on his honeymoon trip, having been married April 18th. He spent the 19th and 20th at the Estacada, but kept up telephoning the usual buget of orders to his house in Portland, thus combining business and pleasure.

A FLAME OF PAIN.

The Shock That Comes With the Bite of the Electric Ant.
When you happen to sit down to rest or take notes near a colony of electric ants some wandering hunter is sure to find you and come cautiously forward to discover the nature of the intruder and what ought to be done. If you are not too near the ant town and keep perfectly still he may run across your feet a few times, over your legs and hands and face, up your trousers, as if taking your measure and getting comprehensive views, then go in peace without raising an alarm. If, however, a tempting spot is offered or some suspicious movement excites him a bite follows. And such a bite! I fancy that a bear or a wolf bite is not to be compared with it. A quick electric flame of pain flashes along the outraged nerves, and you discover for the first time how great is the capacity for sensation you are possessed of. A shriek, a grab for the animal and a bewildered stare follow this bite of bites as one comes back to consciousness from sudden collapse.

This wonderful electric ant is about three-fourths of an inch long. Bears are fond of it, and test its power. Its home logs to pieces and roughly devour the eggs, larvae, parent ants and the rotten or sound wood of the cells, all in one spicy acid hash. The Digger Indians also are fond of the larvae and even of the perfect ants, so I have been told by old mountaineers. They bite off and reject the head and eat the tickly acid body with keen relish. Thus are the poor biters bitten, like every other biter, big or little, in the world's great family.—John Muir in Atlantic.

Too Smart to Be a Lawyer.
E. Davis Noxon was one of the ablest lawyers in central New York. A young man entered his office as a student and was given Blackstone to study. At the end of a month he asked Mr. Noxon what he should read next. "Do you understand Blackstone?" "Yes," was his answer. "Read Kent," was the order. In another month he announced that he had finished Kent and "What next?" "Have you read Blackstone and Kent?" "Yes." "Do you understand them?" "Yes." "Well," said Mr. Noxon, "you had better go at some other business; you are too smart to be a lawyer."—Boston Herald.

Always Busy.
