

ESTACADA PROGRESS

NO. 49 OF VOL. 3

ESTACADA, OREGON, THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1911

$1 A YEAR

ESTACADA STATE BANK

CAPITAL - $25,000

W. D. Jellison, President Thos. Yocum, Vice President

Cashier L. E. Belfils

DIRECTORS:

John Zobrist

Thos. Yocum

L. E. Belfils

A. C. Jellison

W. D. Jellison

Why Not Be Perfectly Safe

If when you buy, or loan, on real estate, you accept an abstract issued by an abstractor without the equipment and proper facilities for the work, you are RISKING YOUR INVESTMENT and inviting loss and injury later on.

Get a Merchantable Abstract from a Responsible Company

OUR ABSTRACTS STAND THE TEST

Clackamas Title Company

Established twenty years
509-511 Chamber of Commerce Bldg.
PORTLAND, OREGON

Member Oregon Association of Title Men
Member American Association of Title Men

Come in and look over our line of FURNITURE and see if we can't please you. That's what we are here for. We have some nice Matting Rugs 9 x 12 which we think will please you, both in price and quality. Some fine rockers that can't be beaten. All kinds of Furniture in stock or in catalogue.

Now is the time you want to go to putting up your fruit for the rainy weather. We handle the

ECONOMY JARS

They are the kind to save the fruit, easy to seal, once sealed they are there to keep.

Yours for business

ESTACADA FURNITURE CO.

W. D. and L. M. Henthorn, Proprietors

LOCAL NEWS AND PERSONAL MENTION

We have good clubbing offers. The Misses Hyde, of Rollo, Ill., were guests at the Whitcomb ranch.

McCurdy and son have rented the R. W. Cary bungalow on Main street and are occupying the same.

Julius Paulsen and wife of George were Portland visitors for a few days, returning on Tuesday.

Miss Mable Anderson, of Portland, is visiting Mrs. Pourtales of the Garfield Mercantile Co.

Do not fail to be at the Garfield Country Club social on Saturday evening August 12. They expect you.

Emanuel Jorg, a brother of Fred Jorg of this city, came out from Portland and spent Sunday with him.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wagner gave a party to the young people on Saturday evening in honor of their son Earl, who had a birthday. Everybody had a pleasant time.

On Friday evening the Good Templars gave a lawn party at the Stokes ranch. A program had been prepared which was enjoyed by those present.

B. C. Looney, who has been packing for Mr. Blockley for two years past, has given up that work, intending to go to ranching again.

Dr. L. A. Wells will be absent on his vacation from August 15 to 15th. His next date at Estacada is August 18th.

A surprise party was tendered E. L. Wooncott at his home in Garfield on Thursday evening by his friends.

Mrs. J. H. Carson and her family are Portland residents who are taking advantage of country life in Garfield. Mrs. Carson is a sister of Mrs. Stokes and will be with her for the next few weeks.

E. M. Valentine, who had been working at the River Mill under Mr. Seal has left for Southern Oregon where Mr. Seal is engaged on another construction work. Mr. Valentine will work for him.

Rev. Dr. Nugent, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Boston, who with his wife are spending the summer with Mrs. Nugent's parents Mr. and Mrs. Whitcomb, has filled the pulpit of the First Congregational Church, Portland, for the last two Sabbaths.

James Babcock, a brother-in-law of A. A. Darling, came in on him unexpectedly last Thursday and gave him a little surprise. It has been several years since they met. Mr. Babcock is a lumberman living in Tacoma. They were both formerly "Michiganers."

The funeral of Henry Dubois, held on Friday last, was largely attended by his friends and neighbors from here, as well as many Portland people. The chapel was crowded and more vehicles were in line to the cemetery than is usually the case. The funeral services were in charge of the local lodge of Masons.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitcomb gave a wienerswurst party on Saturday night at their pleasant Garfield home. A bonfire was kindled, around which the boys and girls, that used to be frolicked as if they still were in their "teens." "Pon pon pull away" and other like innocent games were played and thoroughly enjoyed by the would-be young again crowd.

The Photo Engravers Union and their friends enjoyed their annual outing at the Estacada Park on Sunday. They came in a special with two coaches. A game of ball was played between the newspaper and the commercial engravers for a silver cup. It was won by the commercial men by a score of 14 to 8. A wrestling bout, dancing and other amusements were indulged in.

LOCAL NEWS AND PERSONAL MENTION

G. W. Byerley, a cousin of Mrs. Morrow, is here visiting from Eugene.

Leslie Pershin and family of Portland are visiting with Julius Paulsen in George. They expect to remain for a month.

Robt. Gibson and wife, of Portland, were Estacada visitors on Sunday. Mr. Gibson is an old newspaper man.

R. L. Stevens will preach at the Christian Church on Sunday Aug. 13, both morning and evening. His sermon in the evening will be to working men. All are invited to come.

The Garfield Country Club will give their first basket social on Dell Creek at their new park on Saturday evening August 12. There will be dancing also. Everybody invited. Admission to the dance, gents 50 cents, ladies free.

Mr. Turrel was in Estacada on Wednesday and from him we learn that the fire that has been about him there has been very much subdued. The fire fighters were aided by favorable weather conditions, and while fire was so close to them they felt very unsafe, now he thinks danger is past.

A well known Des Moines woman after suffering miserably for two days from bowel complaint, was cured by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by all good dealers.

Refuse To Pay Bounty

The outing up the Clackamas of Dr. Adix, Ray Eshelman, Jimmie Bowden, Grover and A. R. Haskins has ended and all have returned. They visited the Bagsby Hot Springs on the Colewash also Ausins Hot Springs on the Clackamas and report having a splendid time. While camping on the Colewash the boys took their guns early one morning and went wolf hunting. Fred Hunt who was one of the trail crew went along. He suddenly came upon a band of about thirty wolves and fired thirteen shots at them killing five wolves. Dr. Adix fired at one also, but it refused to lay down and he thinks he might not have hit it. Haskins was the fisherman of the bunch and kept a full supply in camp.

Fred Hunt took the five wolf pelts to Oregon City to the proper authority to secure the bounty, but he was told they smelt too bad to pay a bounty on and he brought them home and had his labor for nothing. Now, right here is where we desire to ask some questions. Does the county pay the bounty to secure good hides that do not smell bad? Or, is it intended as an incentive to induce people to kill off these game destroying brutes? We think the county clerk had plenty of evidence that these five brutes were dead and he had no right to refuse to pay the bounty. This is not the first time the same thing has happened and we want to enter our protest right here against a continuance of that kind of procedure. The bounty is offered because the people who are interested in the protection of our game know the destructiveness of the wolf on deer. If the officials, in paying the small pittance that is allowed for bounty, make it so disagreeable to the people who ask for bounty, of what use is the bounty. The hunters, knowing that they are to be subjected to that kind of treatment, don't want to be bothered with it. If it is so that the county clerk refused to pay the young man the bounty, we think he did what he has no authority to do and if the right party is put to that kind of treatment it won't always turn out that way.

One of the pelts was of an old she-wolf, that with her different litterers of destructiveness, has depleted our game and her death was of much value in protection.

Keeping Money At Home

Following is a little lesson in finance which illustrates very aptly the principle involved in the slogan "Keep Your Money at Home."

Mr. Brown keeps a boarding house in a certain Oregon town. Around the dining table one evening sat Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Andrews, a milliner; Mr. White, the baker; Mr. Jordan, a carpenter, Mr. Laidlaw, a flour, feed and lumber merchant. Mr. Brown took a $10 gold piece from his pocket and handed it to Mrs. Brown with the remark that there was $10 of the $20 he had promised her. Mrs. Brown then handed the money to Mrs. Andrews, remarking: "That pays for my new bonnet."

Mrs. Andrews in turn passed it to Mr. Jordan, saying it would pay for the carpenter work he had done for her. Mr. Jordan handed it to Mr. Laidlaw, requesting a receipt for a bill for lumber. Mr. Laidlaw returned the money to Mr. Brown in settlement for his board bill. Mr. Brown passed the gold to his wife, saying that he had now paid the $20 he had promised her, and she in turn paid it to Mr. White to settle her bread and pastry account. Mr. White handed it back to Mr. Laidlaw, requesting credit on his flour bill, and Mr. Laidlaw again returned the money to Mr. Brown, saying that it settled for his months board. Brown put it in his pocket and remarked that he had not supposed a $10 gold piece would go so far.

To illustrate the purpose of the above narration in these columns, let us suppose that Mrs. Brown had sent to an Eastern mail order house for her bonnet. The $10 would have gone out of circulation so far as Mrs. Brown's town was concerned. No better illustration of the power of money could be had, and a better argument for buying "Made in Oregon" goods and keeping the money in the home state, instead of buying mail order goods from Eastern states, could hardly be advanced.

The dealer must educate his townspeople along these lines. Residents of small cities and towns must be taught that the life of the town depends upon how much money is kept in circulation in the community; that for every dollar any resident spends so much is returned to him, sometimes all, as in the foregoing. Sending money away from home serves to build up other communities, which is not a bad thing. Help neighboring states when you can; it is a laudable thing, but Oregon should come first in all things, and one way to build up Oregon institutions and Oregon factories is by keeping money at home.

Fires Are Still Causing Trouble

The fire situation took on a threatening appearance on Sunday last again. Wind fanned the flames and carried them beyond the fighting line of the fire workers. The crew, however, finally subdued that portion of the fire that had blown past the point they were attempting to stop the fire at. Mendenhall, Ferguson and E. Blockley all gave their personal attention to the fire back of Dodge.

On Monday the forest reserve forces were increased by sixty additional men sent from Portland. Blockley also sent from his camps on the Clackamas additional men. The fire had succeeded by Sunday in reaching the edge of valuable green timber on the east and south in the vicinity of Crawfish Lake.

A new fire started farther down Clear Creek that caused considerable consternation among residents between Dodge and Springwater. There reside there yet many of the ranchers who passed through the big fire that swept that district eight years ago when their homes, barns and fences were burned and many of them left penniless in a very short period of time.

Fire Marshal Ferguson informs us that he has three different men in that region on whom he will serve warrants for violating the closed season fire law and who he claims are responsible for the fires that have been a big expense to fight against already, and will likely cost considerable more before being subdued.

A fire also started in the Dover settlement on Monday on or near the Exon ranch. Word was immediately sent to Estacada and Ferguson who arrived here just before noon, sent men to look after it.

The favorable weather conditions on Monday night, it being misty and threatening rain, was a great help in controlling the fires. The fire law is severe on violators of its provision and great care should be observed by those who of necessity put out fire. The wilful and malicious setting out of fire deserves the extreme penalty against the offender. It only gratifies a single one and may do much harm to many.

To Hatch Bobwhite With Chickens

State Game Warden Wm. L. Finley is making a stand for the protection and propagation of bird life in Oregon for the good they do in destroying the pests of the country. This we believe to be an important thing to do. Not alone for the reason that they destroy many insects and weed seeds, but the bird life of a community adds to its pleasures for a place to live. There is nothing so desolate as our large forest areas without bird life. A scientific investigation has shown the bobwhite to be a great insect destroyer.

It is now in contemplation by Mr. Finley to release a large number of these game birds and supply bobwhite eggs to farmers who will agree to allow them to be hatched by their hens and protect them while young, finally permitting them to wander at their leisure to all parts of their farms. In this way, a system of natural propagation will be devised that will be of tremendous benefit to all parts of the state. Inasmuch as Oregon seems to be a favorite haunt of the bobwhite and is known to lay as many as 100 eggs in a single season, some conception is had of the good work that might be accomplished through this method.

Cazadero Scene Of Wedding

One of the most enjoyable social events in Cazadero for a long time was the marriage of Adolf Heidlman of Cazadero to Mata Sagner of Estacada on Saturday.

Mr. Heidlman has been running the engine at the rock crusher for the past couple of years. He bought one of the houses at Cazadero and had it all fixed up ready for housekeeping, and the wedding took place in it. Rev. Hafner, of the German Lutheran Church, Portland, officiating.

The guests were Dr. Steiner and wife, and Gertrude Sagner of Estacada, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johann, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johann and Mr. Weisner of Portland, J. S. Reagan and family, Mrs. Ida Baker, H. H. Kenney and family, Harry Snyder, and Gus and Barney Shoenberg of Cazadero.

Dinner and supper were served to the guests. Dancing was indulged in during the evening. The guests all have words of praise for the entertainment in its liberality and all wish Mr. and Mrs. Heidlman a pleasant and blissful married life.

All kinds of lumber and building material. Planing mill, Hamlin & Darling.

Livery, Feed & Sale STABLE

W. A. JONES PROPRIETOR
Good rigs and careful drivers always
SPECIAL ATTENTION
Given Hunting and Fishing Parties

WOOD & LUMBER
Local and Long Distance Telephone

We have

3 houses and lots in Estacada

For Sale. They are Bargains and fine properties.

Standish Bros.

We have several bargains in houses, lots, close in acreage, fine farms and a few tracts of choice fruit land, which we would be pleased to show you.

WOODLE LAND COMPANY
Bank building

Read the Want Ads.

Wants To Know When Fire Starts

The State Forester is constantly getting notice through the daily press and from residents of the state of fires having gotten beyond control after several days fighting, that have not been reported to his office until after becoming a menace to the neighborhood. He wishes to urge upon all state fire wardens the necessity of reporting to him all fires as soon after being discovered as possible, instead of waiting until they become dangerous to life and property. One such fire has just been brought to his notice after having burned three weeks, that might have been controlled and probably entirely extinguished if reported earlier so that proper assistance could have been given.

Every state fire warden, or other persons, in case they are unable to get in touch with a state warden, should telephone or telegraph (collect) F. A. Elliott, State Forester, Salem, Oregon, informing him of forest fires before they get beyond control.

Fire Wardens In 22 Counties

Reversing last year's experience, fires serious enough to be alarming began first in Oregon, where in Linn and Clackamas counties about $70,000 worth of logging equipment and the property of several settlers have been destroyed by slashing fires which were, however, soon brought under control by a large force employed by the Forest Service and by private companies. Many other fires throughout the state which caused exaggerated reports also proved to be chiefly on open lands. Organization of the state's patrol system under the new law is practically complete, there being state fire wardens in 22 counties. Timber owners connected with the Oregon Forest Fire Association have about 250 patrolmen. In response to petitions from property owners, some of the counties are also hiring patrolmen. The state has applied to the Secretary of Agriculture for $10,000 under the Weeks law, which authorizes the expenditure of this sum by the Government in cooperation with any state which will add a like amount.