

ESTACADA PROGRESS
(PUBLISHED WEEKLY)
DIRECTIONS:
CHAS. E. DURGIN, President
J. W. REEDY, Vice President
L. E. BELLFIELD, Treasurer
E. S. WOMER, Editor and Manager
Entered at the postoffice at Estacada, Oregon, as second class mail.
Published every Thursday Morning
ESTACADA, OREGON
SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One year $1.00
Six months .50
Single copies 10c
Thursday, Aug. 24, 1911
MR. ASTOR'S GRIEVANCES

Following the lead of the yellow journals and some of the middle-class, sensational preachers, a number of the little weekly publications throughout the country are having their fling at Col. Astor because he has the temerity to please himself in the selection of a wife. The most effective preventive measures in cases where newspaper editors and sensational preachers cannot discriminate between what is their own business and what belongs to others by all the laws of God and man, would be those suggested by the sister of Mr. Astor's bridegroom. That handsome and spirited young lady expressed regret that she hadn't a brother in order that some of the meddlers might be given a thoroughly good horsewhipping. The great trouble with both the sensational preacher and the yellow journalist is that the law is not enforced to any great extent in this country. It would seem that in view of the gross license of the press of America in attacking the reputations of whomsoever they may be pleased to attack and the comparatively few libel suits, that either the lives of men in this country are woefully bad, or else reputation is held cheaply. A comparison of the papers in this country with those of the mother country, where an attack upon a man's private life is invariably followed by a libel suit, places this country in a rather unfavorable light in drawing the line between liberty and license.

The press of the mother country enjoys freedom to the limit, but the members of it are not permitted to forget that others also have rights in the enjoyment of which the law protects them.

It is a matter for regret that there should be sensational preachers and sensational papers, but neither could exist without support, and the supporters are as much to blame as the principals. The evils will regulate themselves in due course, and in the meantime Mr. Astor and his bride will be able to struggle along without the approval of the middle-class ones.

Local News in Brief.

Ask McCurdy Lumber & Hardware Co. Springwater, is to have a grand dramatic entertainment on Saturday evening next, and a large attendance is expected.

The song services at the Christian Church are proving attractive to many. Miss Roy's sweet soprano voice proving a source of much delight.

After September 10th I shall refuse to trust any one for a week's board. Financial losses by reason of having given credit make this step absolutely necessary. Jeff's Little Restaurant. 24 31.

The barn of B. F. Forester at Barton was burned last week, but how the fire started has not been discovered. There was no insurance. Work on the construction of a new barn has already been started.

President B. F. Josselyn, Traffic Manager F. D. Hunt, Consulting Engineer Thomas Pomfrey and Superintendent O. B. Caldwell of the Portland R. & P. Co. were here Tuesday. With the party was D. S. Kimball, a friend of President Josselyn.

Ask McCurdy Lumber & Hardware Co. A well known Dog Moines woman after suffering miserably for two days from bowel complaint, was cured by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by all good dealers.

A fire on the hillside east of town in the early part of the week caused a little excitement for an hour or two, but it was quickly gotten under control. For an hour or so the smoke ascended in dense volumes, and a few sticks until it was ascertained definitely that there was no danger.

The Hotel Estacada

ALL MODERN CONVENIENCES

One of the most delightful resorts on the Coast

Local and Tourist Trade Solicited

PALACE MEAT MARKET

Handles the Best Fresh and Cured Meats Obtainable

Cash Paid for Hides and Market Products

VEAL HOGS BONES	SHEEP CATTLE CHICKENS	LARD EGGS SAUSAGE	HEAD CHEESE FRESH MEATS SMOKED MEATS
-----------------------	-----------------------------	-------------------------	--

We Buy and Sell.

FRED JORG

Great Clubbing Offer

Semi-Weekly Oregon Journal, one year,	$1 50
Estacada Progress, one year,	1.00
Total	$2.50

Both Papers, One Year, $1.50

The Semi-Weekly Oregon Journal

Publishes the latest and most complete telegraphic news of the world; gives reliable market reports, as it is published at Portland where the market news can be and is corrected to date for each issue. It also has a page of special matter for the farmer and home, an entertaining story page and a page or more of comic each week, and it goes to the subscriber twice every week—104 times a year.

The Estacada Progress

gives all the local news and happenings and should be in every home in this vicinity.

The two papers make a splendid combination and you save $1 by sending your subscription to:

ESTACADA PROGRESS.

We can also give our subscribers a good clubbing offer for the Daily and Sunday, or Sunday Journal, in connection with the Progress.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

DIGNIFYING THE INDUSTRIES

This is the title of a beautiful 64-page book, which will show any boy or girl how to SUCCEED. Drop a postal in the mail TODAY and it will be sent FREE. The aim of the College is to dignify and popularize the industries, and to serve ALL the people. It offers courses in Agriculture, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Mining Engineering, Forestry, Domestic Science and Art, Commerce, Pharmacy and Music. The College opens September 23d. Catalog free.

Address: REGISTRAR, OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oregon.

BUY, SELL, TRADE, ETC.

WANTED—Highest price paid for eggs at the Palace Meat Market Fred Jorg.

We have several pieces of property left with us to negotiate a sale for. Intending investors in Estacada will do well to consult us as we may have just what you want. Inquire at the Progress office.

FOR SALE—cheap—A business lot with a five-roomed house, city water and electric lights. H. M. James.

They have it—good fresh vegetables. Go and see them. Fred Jorg.

WANTED—Go hop pickers, good camp and grocers. Address W. G. Glover at once for particulars at Barton, Ore.

FOR SALE—Good saddle and bridle. Dr. Adix.

If you have anything to sell, the best way to make known the facts is advertising in the columns of the Progress.

Try an ad. in the Progress

O. R. JACOBS

Plumbing, Sheet Metal Work, Electric Wiring and General Repair Work done promptly.

I solicit the business you may have in these lines.

Seemed To Give Him A New Stomach
"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M., Young, petter, Editor of The Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sale by all good dealers.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. Prepared by all good dealers.

Entertainment at Springwater.

Saturday evening next, Aug. 26, comedy drama by Springwater Dramatic Club, "Tomkins' Hired Man." A fine play on country life. Admission, 25c; children, 15c. Reserved seats, 35c.

PHYSICIANS AND FEES.

A Medical View of the Doctor's Charge For His Services.

Those who discuss the physicians' fee frequently miss the essence of it. As a matter of fact, under present social conditions the charge made to the wealthy and well-to-do is the normal and proper fee for the services rendered. The physician's fee is therefore usually underestimated, for it extends to a great majority of his patients.

In olden times, when medicine was purely an art and but little science, the fee was unknown. Like other artists, the doctor received an honorarium, the weight of which depended naturally upon the resources of the patient.

The popular impression that physicians make the rich pay for the poor is incorrect. They extend their services to all alike, and all are supposed to pay as much as they can afford for services really priceless and impossible to represent adequately in money values.

Any attempt made to establish standard fees by law is sure to work injustice to the physician. The "standard" fee would have to be some method of enforcing its sure payment. Only with the standard fixed, as now, by the ability of the wealthy is it possible for the poor to receive the benefits of the highest professional skill without losing their self respect.—New York Medical Journal.

POWER OF MUSIC.

The Awakening That Came to Stephenson on Hearing Ole Bull.

Ole Bornemann Bull, who was one of the famous wizards of the violin in the nineteenth century, had little difficulty in swaying an audience by the magic of his wonderful performance on his favorite instrument.

The great violinist was greatly admired by Stephenson, the inventor of the locomotive, although the latter had little appreciation of music in his soul. A call of some nature one day took Stephenson to Ole Bull's home. After the business on hand had been transacted the inventor arose to go, whereupon the master pressed him to remain and hear the tones of a famous violin which had lately come into his possession.

Ole Bull began to explain the marvellous construction of the violin, the perfect exactness required in each minutest part. The inventor became interested in the subject. Finally Ole Bull explained how the sound waves were produced and the relation of the different parts to their production. Then, still explaining, he drew his angle bow across the strings in a burst of exquisite music.

Stephenson listened spellbound. Ole Bull played on. When the music finally died away Stephenson burst into tears and sobbed. "There has been something in my life that was lacking, and at last I've found out what it is."

Thirty Years Together

Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that good time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guess-work in this evidence. Thos. Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and it's the best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. Many families have used it for forty years. It's the most effective throat and lung medicine on earth. Unequalled for Croup, Whooping Cough, Croup, Quinsy or sore-throat. Price, 50c, $1.00. Trial bottles free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Accused of Stealing

R. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Me., boldly accuses Buckle's Arnica Salve of stealing—the sting from burns or scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds—the distress from boils or piles. "It robs cuts, cuts, bruises, sprains and injuries of their power," he says, "as a healing remedy its equal don't exist." Only 25c at all druggists.

Summons.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Clatsop County, Estacada State Bank as copartitioner, Plaintiff, vs. D. F. Warner, Defendant.

To D. F. Warner, the above-named defendant:

In the name of the State of Oregon—You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled court and cause on or before the expiration of six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, to-wit: on or before the 28th day of September, A. D. 1911, and if you fail to answer, for want thereof, the plaintiff will take judgment against you for the sum of One Hundred and Forty-One Dollars and Eighty Cents, together with interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the 18th day of November, A. D. 1910, together with the costs and disbursements with this plaintiff incurred.

This summons is published by order of the Honorable R. B. Bestie, Judge of the County Court for Clatsop County, Oregon, and said order was made and dated the 14th day of August, A. D. 1911, and date of the first publication of this summons is the 17th day of August, A. D. 1911, and the date of the last publication of this summons is the 28th day of August, 1911.

CLAUDE W. DEVORE,
Attorney for Plaintiff,
Estacada, Oregon.

Uncle Silas Sulked.

What Aunt Melissa Had to Say When She Heard the News.

Aunt Melissa Spigott was such an exceedingly energetic talker that the youngsters of the family used to suppose that her tongue must be copper too, because it never went out. Uncle Silas, on the other hand, was an exponent of words as a market-man's of early strawberries.

The too free exercising of this untold member of Aunt Melissa's on one occasion gave Uncle Silas serious offense, which he manifested by a severe silence lasting for several days.

At the end of this period one of the older daughters approached her mother upon the subject with the remark, "Ma, seems 'tho you ought to make up with pa by now."

"Ma's up with pa?" exclaimed Aunt Melissa in great astonishment. "Make up what?"

"Why," returned the daughter, "don't you know poor pa's feeling bad yet? He's still sulking."

"Sulking—for the lands sake! How long has he been a sulker?"

"Ever since you came down on him so hard about snuffing sugar by not stirring his coffee; that's three days ago."

"Why, you don't tell me, Jantie Maud?" Aunt Melissa looked amazed. "You pore pa been a sulker for three days, and I never mistrusted a thing of it?"—Youth's Companion.

Loaded Silks.

The Way the Fabric Is adulterated to Increase Its Weight.

If properly handled silk is the strongest and most durable of all textile materials, but the evilest processes of manufacture that remove much of the natural gum cause it to lose so large an amount of its weight that unscrupulous dyers and manufacturers resort to "loading," dipping the thrown silk into a solution of behloride of tin. Some are not content with restoring the original weight of the raw silk, but "load" it until its weight is multiplied three or four fold. This operation makes the silks more valuable, but it destroys the durability of the fabric.

Stretching the threads to their elastic limit, so that a given weight will weave a greater number of yards, and steaming to give the material an unnatural lustre are other processes that prove profitable to manufacturers, but costly to the consumers and that cause many people to regard silk as an uncertain and treacherous fabric, with an inexplicable tendency to split, crack and fall into holes, even though packed away in drawers or hanging up.

The use of cheap, inferior and destructive dyes is another practice equally injurious and perhaps still more common.—London Family Herald.

Driven to It

One of the youngest sons of Farmer Timmins, had spent two years in college, during which time he had accumulated more indebtedness—time education. His father paid his bills and left him to shift for himself. The boy had good stock in him, however, and managed by turning over a new leaf, practicing strict economy and doing odd jobs of work as opportunities presented themselves to pay for his tuition, and stayed on.

"How's your boy doing at college?" asked the elder Timmins' next neighbor one day.

"He's getting along all right now."

"I hear he's working his way through."

"Yes," grimly, but with a gleam of pride, answered Farmer Timmins. "He found he couldn't work me any more."—Youth's Companion.

Pineapple Juice.

As an aid to digestion, a really medicinal aid, the pineapple stands alone from the fruit. Its vegetable pepton neutralizes, or perhaps rather digests, albuminous substances in the stomach. Fresh pineapple or, better still, the fresh juice of one placed in direct contact with eggs or gelatine or milk will prove this fact conclusively by producing a bitter-tasting dish. In cases of indigestion, ailments of the throat and in its downward connection the alimentary canal or tract pineapple cannot be overestimated, and it acts with equal force in malarial affections.—New York World.

Fickle Popularity.

"You started with the full confidence of your constituents, and now you're criticised on every hand."

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum merrily. "My experience has been very much like that of a man who good naturedly consents to umpire a ball game."—Washington Star.

A Master of Fiction.

"What is Doubleday's general reputation for veracity, Bidlad?" asked Hiccupooper.

"Well, it's this way," said Bidlad. "If Doubleday could write the way he's had his eye on Sir Walter Scott and Alexander Dumas lashed to the mast."—Harper's Weekly.

No Duty on Anecdotes.

"This sword came from the battle field of Waterloo. An interesting anecdote goes with it."

"It is a really interesting anecdote," said the other man, after listening carefully. "I bought the same anecdote once with an old musket."—Washington Herald.

We are put into this world to make it better, and we must be about our business.—General Armstrong.

Would He His Own Biting.

The British gentleman new to our shores stepped up to the clerk counter and requested of the "clar" a cigar.

"What will you have, a bit cigar?" asked the "clar."

"No! I'd rather bite it myself!" replied the Briton.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Man And Beacoon.

Every man is the center of perpetual rebellion has a subconscious. It is as it were, a beacon which enters a ship upon the rocks if it has not guide lights port.—Amieko.

UNCLE SILAS SULKED.

What Aunt Melissa Had to Say When She Heard the News.

Aunt Melissa Spigott was such an exceedingly energetic talker that the youngsters of the family used to suppose that her tongue must be copper too, because it never went out. Uncle Silas, on the other hand, was an exponent of words as a market-man's of early strawberries.

The too free exercising of this untold member of Aunt Melissa's on one occasion gave Uncle Silas serious offense, which he manifested by a severe silence lasting for several days.

At the end of this period one of the older daughters approached her mother upon the subject with the remark, "Ma, seems 'tho you ought to make up with pa by now."

"Ma's up with pa?" exclaimed Aunt Melissa in great astonishment. "Make up what?"

"Why," returned the daughter, "don't you know poor pa's feeling bad yet? He's still sulking."

"Sulking—for the lands sake! How long has he been a sulker?"

"Ever since you came down on him so hard about snuffing sugar by not stirring his coffee; that's three days ago."

"Why, you don't tell me, Jantie Maud?" Aunt Melissa looked amazed. "You pore pa been a sulker for three days, and I never mistrusted a thing of it?"—Youth's Companion.

Loaded Silks.

The Way the Fabric Is adulterated to Increase Its Weight.

If properly handled silk is the strongest and most durable of all textile materials, but the evilest processes of manufacture that remove much of the natural gum cause it to lose so large an amount of its weight that unscrupulous dyers and manufacturers resort to "loading," dipping the thrown silk into a solution of behloride of tin. Some are not content with restoring the original weight of the raw silk, but "load" it until its weight is multiplied three or four fold. This operation makes the silks more valuable, but it destroys the durability of the fabric.

Stretching the threads to their elastic limit, so that a given weight will weave a greater number of yards, and steaming to give the material an unnatural lustre are other processes that prove profitable to manufacturers, but costly to the consumers and that cause many people to regard silk as an uncertain and treacherous fabric, with an inexplicable tendency to split, crack and fall into holes, even though packed away in drawers or hanging up.

The use of cheap, inferior and destructive dyes is another practice equally injurious and perhaps still more common.—London Family Herald.

Driven to It

One of the youngest sons of Farmer Timmins, had spent two years in college, during which time he had accumulated more indebtedness—time education. His father paid his bills and left him to shift for himself. The boy had good stock in him, however, and managed by turning over a new leaf, practicing strict economy and doing odd jobs of work as opportunities presented themselves to pay for his tuition, and stayed on.

"How's your boy doing at college?" asked the elder Timmins' next neighbor one day.

"He's getting along all right now."

"I hear he's working his way through."

"Yes," grimly, but with a gleam of pride, answered Farmer Timmins. "He found he couldn't work me any more."—Youth's Companion.

Pineapple Juice.

As an aid to digestion, a really medicinal aid, the pineapple stands alone from the fruit. Its vegetable pepton neutralizes, or perhaps rather digests, albuminous substances in the stomach. Fresh pineapple or, better still, the fresh juice of one placed in direct contact with eggs or gelatine or milk will prove this fact conclusively by producing a bitter-tasting dish. In cases of indigestion, ailments of the throat and in its downward connection the alimentary canal or tract pineapple cannot be overestimated, and it acts with equal force in malarial affections.—New York World.

Fickle Popularity.

"You started with the full confidence of your constituents, and now you're criticised on every hand."

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum merrily. "My experience has been very much like that of a man who good naturedly consents to umpire a ball game."—Washington Star.

A Master of Fiction.

"What is Doubleday's general reputation for veracity, Bidlad?" asked Hiccupooper.

"Well, it's this way," said Bidlad. "If Doubleday could write the way he's had his eye on Sir Walter Scott and Alexander Dumas lashed to the mast."—Harper's Weekly.

No Duty on Anecdotes.

"This sword came from the battle field of Waterloo. An interesting anecdote goes with it."

"It is a really interesting anecdote," said the other man, after listening carefully. "I bought the same anecdote once with an old musket."—Washington Herald.

We are put into this world to make it better, and we must be about our business.—General Armstrong.

Would He His Own Biting.

The British gentleman new to our shores stepped up to the clerk counter and requested of the "clar" a cigar.

"What will you have, a bit cigar?" asked the "clar."

"No! I'd rather bite it myself!" replied the Briton.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Man And Beacoon.

Every man is the center of perpetual rebellion has a subconscious. It is as it were, a beacon which enters a ship upon the rocks if it has not guide lights port.—Amieko.

UNCLE SILAS SULKED.

What Aunt Melissa Had to Say When She Heard the News.

Aunt Melissa Spigott was such an exceedingly energetic talker that the youngsters of the family used to suppose that her tongue must be copper too, because it never went out. Uncle Silas, on the other hand, was an exponent of words as a market-man's of early strawberries.

The too free exercising of this untold member of Aunt Melissa's on one occasion gave Uncle Silas serious offense, which he manifested by a severe silence lasting for several days.

At the end of this period one of the older daughters approached her mother upon the subject with the remark, "Ma, seems 'tho you ought to make up with pa by now."

"Ma's up with pa?" exclaimed Aunt Melissa in great astonishment. "Make up what?"

"Why," returned the daughter, "don't you know poor pa's feeling bad yet? He's still sulking."

"Sulking—for the lands sake! How long has he been a sulker?"

"Ever since you came down on him so hard about snuffing sugar by not stirring his coffee; that's three days ago."

"Why, you don't tell me, Jantie Maud?" Aunt Melissa looked amazed. "You pore pa been a sulker for three days, and I never mistrusted a thing of it?"—Youth's Companion.

Loaded Silks.

The Way the Fabric Is adulterated to Increase Its Weight.

If properly handled silk is the strongest and most durable of all textile materials, but the evilest processes of manufacture that remove much of the natural gum cause it to lose so large an amount of its weight that unscrupulous dyers and manufacturers resort to "loading," dipping the thrown silk into a solution of behloride of tin. Some are not content with restoring the original weight of the raw silk, but "load" it until its weight is multiplied three or four fold. This operation makes the silks more valuable, but it destroys the durability of the fabric.

Stretching the threads to their elastic limit, so that a given weight will weave a greater number of yards, and steaming to give the material an unnatural lustre are other processes that prove profitable to manufacturers, but costly to the consumers and that cause many people to regard silk as an uncertain and treacherous fabric, with an inexplicable tendency to split, crack and fall into holes, even though packed away in drawers or hanging up.

The use of cheap, inferior and destructive dyes is another practice equally injurious and perhaps still more common.—London Family Herald.

Driven to It

One of the youngest sons of Farmer Timmins, had spent two years in college, during which time he had accumulated more indebtedness—time education. His father paid his bills and left him to shift for himself. The boy had good stock in him, however, and managed by turning over a new leaf, practicing strict economy and doing odd jobs of work as opportunities presented themselves to pay for his tuition, and stayed on.

"How's your boy doing at college?" asked the elder Timmins' next neighbor one day.

"He's getting along all right now."

"I hear he's working his way through."

"Yes," grimly, but with a gleam of pride, answered Farmer Timmins. "He found he couldn't work me any more."—Youth's Companion.

Pineapple Juice.

As an aid to digestion, a really medicinal aid, the pineapple stands alone from the fruit. Its vegetable pepton neutralizes, or perhaps rather digests, albuminous substances in the stomach. Fresh pineapple or, better still, the fresh juice of one placed in direct contact with eggs or gelatine or milk will prove this fact conclusively by producing a bitter-tasting dish. In cases of indigestion, ailments of the throat and in its downward connection the alimentary canal or tract pineapple cannot be overestimated, and it acts with equal force in malarial affections.—New York World.

Fickle Popularity.

"You started with the full confidence of your constituents, and now you're criticised on every hand."

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum merrily. "My experience has been very much like that of a man who good naturedly consents to umpire a ball game."—Washington Star.

A Master of Fiction.

"What is Doubleday's general reputation for veracity, Bidlad?" asked Hiccupooper.

"Well, it's this way," said Bidlad. "If Doubleday could write the way he's had his eye on Sir Walter Scott and Alexander Dumas lashed to the mast."—Harper's Weekly.

No Duty on Anecdotes.

"This sword came from the battle field of Waterloo. An interesting anecdote goes with it."

"It is a really interesting anecdote," said the other man, after listening carefully. "I bought the same anecdote once with an old musket."—Washington Herald.

We are put into this world to make it better, and we must be about our business.—General Armstrong.

Would He His Own Biting.

The British gentleman new to our shores stepped up to the clerk counter and requested of the "clar" a cigar.

"What will you have, a bit cigar?" asked the "clar."

"No! I'd rather bite it myself!" replied the Briton.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Man And Beacoon.

Every man is the center of perpetual rebellion has a subconscious. It is as it were, a beacon which enters a ship upon the rocks if it has not guide lights port.—Amieko.

WE GIVE SERVICE WE GIVE SERVICE.

TOAST is the foundation of many delicious dishes—Welsh Rarebit, Asparagus, Club Sandwiches, etc. But if yours ordinarily toothsome viands are served on charred, or soggy, or brittle Toast, they lose their delicious zest.

PERFECT TOAST can be made only in the Radiant Toaster. For this reason, RADIANT HEAT forces the absolutely necessary chemical change in the bread. This insures the delicate golden toast that fairly melts the mouth water.

You can upgrade the Radiant Toaster on the finest damask table cloth. The cheerful glow of its coils on a neat porcelain base creates a snug and comfortable atmosphere. It makes Perfect Toast as fast as you can eat it, and at the merest fraction of a cent per slice.

PORTLAND RWAY LIGHT & POWER CO.

Main office: Seventh and Alder.

WE GIVE SERVICE WE GIVE SERVICE.

HENRY V. ADIX, M.D.

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.

OFFICE, ADJOINING RESIDENCE

Local and Long Distance Telephone

The doctor's phone can be connected with your home phone at night if requested. One long ring.

Dr. L. A. WELLS

DENTIST OF SHEARER AND WELLS

Dentists of Portland

Will visit Estacada on Friday and Saturday of each week

Appointments may be made with Dr. Adix.

JOHN STEINER, M. D.

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON

Office next to Bakery. Office hours, 10 to 12 A. M., 7 to 8 P. M.

CLAUDE W. DEVORE

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW and NOTARY PUBLIC

Estacada State Bank Building, Estacada, Oregon

L. E. FOLSOM

makes a specialty of Horseshoeing

You will always find him at the Yonce Barn ready to do work at the right price.

FANTON'S CEDAR SHINGLES

When in need of First Class Cedar Shingles consult me. Shingles delivered at the mill. Nos. 1 and 2 always on hand. W. A. Jones, Sales Agt., Estacada, Ore.

H. R. FANTON - Phone

The Oregon Fire Relief Association of McMinville

with $225,000 reserves, solicits your business through John Brown, Rockwood, Oregon. Phone Gresham, 291. Or leave word at this office I also have the OREGON MERCHANTS and BEAVER STATE INSURANCE CO.

Team Work and Hauling by the Day or Contract

WOOD DELIVERED in any quantity or length. 1st class 4 foot wood slabwood delivered at $2.00 per cord. 16 inch at $2.50 per load.

W. M. YONCE

J. V. BARR

BLACKSMITH

Is still at the old stand and willing to do any of the work in his line

GIVE HIM A CALL

H. B. CROSS - WILLIAM HAMMOND - GROSS & HAMMOND

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Abstracts, Real Estate, Loans, Insurance. OREGON CITY, OREGON

J. W. MILLER

BLACKSMITH

EXPERT HORSESHOEING

All work guaranteed

Let us do your printing.

WHY OWN WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

THE MERRIAM WEBSTER? Because it is a NEW CREATION, covering every field of the world's thought, action and culture. The only new unabridged dictionary in many years.

Because it defines over 400,000 words; more than ever before appeared between two covers. 3700 Pages, 6000 Illustrations.

Because it is the only dictionary with the new word "childless" page. A "Stroke of Genius."

Because it is an encyclopedia in a single volume.

Because it is accepted by the Courts, Schools and is the one supreme authority.

Because he who knows Wise Success. Let us tell you about this new work.

WRITE for specimen of new divided page. C. & C. MERRIAM CO., Publishers, Springfield, Mass. Mention this paper, receive FREE a set of pocket maps.

WHY OWN WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

THE MERRIAM WEBSTER? Because it is a NEW CREATION, covering every field of the world's thought, action and culture. The only new unabridged dictionary in many years.

Because it defines over 400,000 words; more than ever before appeared between two covers. 3700 Pages, 6000 Illustrations.

Because it is the only dictionary with the new word "childless" page. A "Stroke of Genius."

Because it is an encyclopedia in a single volume.

Because it is accepted by the Courts, Schools and is the one supreme authority.

Because he who knows Wise Success. Let us tell you about this new work.

WRITE for specimen of new divided page. C. & C. MERRIAM CO., Publishers, Springfield, Mass. Mention this paper, receive FREE a set of pocket maps.

WHY OWN WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

THE MERRIAM WEBSTER? Because it is a NEW CREATION, covering every field of the world's thought, action and culture. The only new unabridged dictionary in many years.

Because it defines over 400,000 words; more than ever before appeared between two covers. 3700 Pages, 6000 Illustrations.

Because it is the only dictionary with the new word "childless" page. A "Stroke of Genius."

Because it is an encyclopedia in a single volume.

Because it is accepted by the Courts, Schools and is the one supreme authority.

Because he who knows Wise Success. Let us tell you about this new work.

WRITE for specimen of new divided page. C. & C. MERRIAM CO., Publishers, Springfield, Mass. Mention this paper, receive FREE a set of pocket maps.

WHY OWN WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

THE MERRIAM WEBSTER? Because it is a NEW CREATION, covering every field of the world's thought, action and culture. The only new unabridged dictionary in many years.

Because it defines over 400,000 words; more than ever before appeared between two covers. 3700 Pages, 6000 Illustrations.

Because it is the only dictionary with the new word "childless" page. A "Stroke of Genius."

Because it is an encyclopedia in a single volume.

Because it is accepted by the Courts, Schools and is the one supreme authority.

Because he who knows Wise Success. Let us tell you about this new work.

WRITE for specimen of new divided page. C. & C. MERRIAM CO., Publishers, Springfield, Mass. Mention this paper, receive FREE a set of pocket maps.

WHY OWN WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

THE MERRIAM WEBSTER? Because it is a NEW CREATION, covering every field of the world's thought, action and culture. The only new unabridged dictionary in many years.

Because it defines over 400,000 words; more than ever before appeared between two covers. 3700 Pages, 6000 Illustrations.

Because it is the only dictionary with the new word "childless" page. A "Stroke of Genius."

Because it is an encyclopedia in a single volume.

Because it is accepted by the Courts, Schools and is the one supreme authority.

Because he who knows Wise Success. Let us tell you about this new work.

WRITE for specimen of new divided page. C. & C. MERRIAM CO., Publishers, Springfield, Mass. Mention this paper, receive FREE a set of pocket maps.

WHY OWN WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

THE MERRIAM WEBSTER? Because it is a NEW CREATION, covering every field of the world's thought, action and culture. The only new unabridged dictionary in many years.

Because it defines over 400,000 words; more than ever before appeared between two covers. 3700 Pages, 6000 Illustrations.

Because it is the only dictionary with the new word "childless" page. A "Stroke of Genius."

Because it is an encyclopedia in a single volume.

Because it is accepted by the Courts, Schools and is the one supreme authority.

Because he who knows Wise Success. Let us tell you about this new work.

WRITE for specimen of new divided page. C. & C. MERRIAM CO., Publishers, Springfield, Mass. Mention this paper, receive FREE a set of pocket maps.

WHY OWN WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

THE MERRIAM WEBSTER? Because it is a NEW CREATION, covering every field of the world's thought, action and culture. The only new unabridged dictionary in many years.

Because it defines over 400,000 words; more than ever before appeared between two covers. 3700 Pages, 6000 Illustrations.

Because it is the only dictionary with the new word "childless" page. A "Stroke of Genius."

Because it is an encyclopedia in a single volume.

Because it is accepted by the Courts, Schools and is the one supreme authority.

Because he who knows Wise Success. Let us tell you about this new work.

WRITE for specimen of new divided page. C. & C. MERRIAM CO., Publishers, Springfield, Mass. Mention this paper, receive FREE a set of pocket maps.

WHY OWN WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

THE MERRIAM WEBSTER? Because it is a NEW CREATION, covering every field of the world's thought, action and culture. The only new unabridged dictionary in many years.

Because it defines over 400,000 words; more than ever before appeared between two covers. 3700 Pages, 6000 Illustrations.

Because it is the only dictionary with the new word "childless" page. A "Stroke of Genius."

Because it is an encyclopedia in a single volume.

Because it is accepted by the Courts, Schools and is the one supreme authority.

Because he who knows Wise Success. Let us tell you about this new work.

WRITE for specimen of new divided page. C. & C. MERRIAM CO., Publishers, Springfield, Mass. Mention this paper, receive FREE a set of pocket maps.

WHY OWN WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

THE MERRIAM WEBSTER? Because it is a NEW CREATION, covering every field of the world's thought, action and culture. The only new unabridged