Continue Struggle. San Francisco-At the end of the first month of the strike of the shop employes of the Harriman lines, both sides in the Pacific Coast division are declaring their forces unimpaired and that they are ready to continue the fight. Officials of the railroad point to the fact that traffic has continued uninterrupted and that the shops at Sacramento, Los Angeles, Dunsmuir, Oakland and San Francisco have been kept in operation with almost full forces at work.

Leaders among the strikers point to the fact that there has been almost an entire absence of violence and declare it is their intention to continue the strike peaceably. E. L. Reguin, pres-ident of the San Francisco local of the Shop Employes' Federation, is hopeful of a victory for the strikers. "We were prepared for the strike when we began," he said, "and we are prepared to continue it. We knew it would be a long, hard fight, and test all our resources, but we have something to fight for and we will fight it out. Our men have refrained from violence and I am sure will con-Officials of the Southern Pacific road AVIATOR IS AT GOAL would make no statement other than tinue to do so.'

ARTIST WHO HAD NO ARMS

Miss Sarah Biffen, de Mentholon and Hiles Held Brushes in Their Teeth or Toes.

Miss Sarah Riffen was a conspicuous example of the skill which armless people sometimes acquire in spite of their affliction. She was minlature painter to Queen Victoria and her work was widely known for its beauty and dellcacy.

She was born without arms, but as a girl, having a great wish to become an artist, she worked earnestly for years until she could paint by holding the brush in her teeth In 1821, according to the Raja Yoga Messenger. the judges, without any knowledge of the means she was compelled to use, awarded her the gold medal of the Society of Arts, a prize sought by hundreds of others.

M. de Mentholon and Bertram Hiles other artists who were deprived of the use of their arms. The former had only one foot, which he used to paint with.

Mr. Hiles lost both his arms in an accident, being run over by a street car when he was only 8 years old and when he was just beginning to acquire skill in drawing. He spent two years in patient toll learning to draw by holding the pencil in his teeth, at the end of which time he won a first-class certificate from a local art school.
