Threats to Kill Send Cannon to County Jail
Owning the warlike name of Cannon—Jim Cannon to be exact—naturally he had trouble. Jim came to town Monday, acquired a jag and after threatening to "get" Marshal Ames he wound up his performance by whooping like a Pute up near the Methodist church. Ames have in view, the Cannon roared and when the smoke lifted the gun had been spiked. The Cannon's racket, however, aroused the neighbors and it took the marshal, Mayor Reed, J. R. McCurdy and other citizen soldiery to wheel the inflammable piece into the armory.
Tuesday Cannon was first handed $10 for disturbing the peace by Police Judge Devore, then Justice Givens, sitting in his first case, held Cannon in $500 to keep the peace. He had to go to jail. Five witnesses, J. R. McCurdy, G. Peters, Joe Joyce, Roy Morrow and C. W. Wisner corroborated the marshal in the statement that Cannon had repeatedly threatened to kill him. Cannon claimed he was addressing his remarks to Ames' dog.
Fred Muhlenberg, a companion of Cannon, was fined $10 for disturbing the peace. Mr. Muhlenberg smashed out a window in a saloon.
