The political game is warming up in Oregon. From now until the primary April 19, there will be all kinds of campaigning. Senator La Follette, candidate for president will make a number of speeches in the state, spending about a week here, before going to California. He will be in Portland Apr. 16. During that week, Dr. Hill of New York and Ex-Congressman Cole of Ohio will make speeches for President Taft, and Roosevelt speakers will also be in the field. In Clackamas county the state and county candidates are puzzled by the apparent lack of interest politically. Yet the registration is heavier than it was two years ago and just what it means is bothering the palpitating seekers for office.

Ten years old and one of the leading newspapers of the Pacific coast! When C. S. Jackson, publisher of the Portland Journal, came to Portland, ten years ago last week, he entered a field strewn with the wrecks of former competitors of the morning newspaper. Wisacres shook their heads doubtfully, but Mr. Jackson bucked into the harness with the energy and grit which had made him a success in East Oregon, where he once managed a stage line and ran a newspaper that became a power in his section. He told the public what he proposed to do; how he would run an independent newspaper; how he proposed to fight his battle; how the Journal should be a real public forum. And he stuck to it. He made good emphatically. His plant and business, today, are worth a lot of money. The tenth anniversary edition which was issued last week is a credit to him and his managing editor, George M. Trowbridge, and the staff of workers on the Journal.

Social Functions.
Mrs. J. W. Reed, Friday evening, gave the second of two companies for the week, in entertainment of her friends. The home was prettily decorated with wildflowers. Whist, at five tables, was the principal form of amusement. Mrs. C. C. Saling and Prof. H. M. James were rewarded for high scores. A fine luncheon rounded out a thoroughly enjoyable evening. Miss Mary Oakley of Seattle and Mr. M. G. Oakley of Newburg, sister and brother, respectively of the hostess, were out of town guests. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames, Adix, Yocum, James, C. C. Saling, Standish, Currin, the Misses Hewitt, Oakley and Reed, and Messrs. Worden and La Follette.

Members of the Estacada baseball club were hosts to a goodly number at an invitation dance held at the Estacada Pavilion Saturday evening. A five piece orchestra furnished good music and refreshments were served by Earl Schultz and Bob Morton. The proceeds went to the treasury of the baseball association. A number of Portland people attended.

At Dodge hall, tomorrow evening, the Springwater baseball club will entertain with a dance and oyster supper, their numerous supporters and friends.

Miles Standish, Miss Helen Standish and Miss Margaret McIntosh of Portland were the guests of Phil Standish and J. C. Deming of Garfield at the dance here Saturday night.

Road Supervisor Hunt and about a dozen farmers went over the Wooster road to Garfield and as a result it is likely the two miles cut-off will be opened. A subscription to help pay the expense was taken. Many volunteered work.

J. S. McCurdy of the McCurdy Lumber & Hardware Co., is the author of the excellent ads of the company now appearing in The Progress. His style and method of attracting the intellect as well as the eye of a customer, could well be emulated by professional ad men.

R. M. Townsend, property agent at the P. R. L. & P. was here, Saturday, checking up, preliminary to the departure of J. C. Bradford, who has resigned his position as superintendent of the company saw mill. Mr. Bradford has taken the superintendency of the Nehalem Lumber Co. of Tillamook and has gone to take up his duties.

W. E. Worden, who has been pharmacist at the local drug store for some time, has resigned his position and shortly will begin swinging an ax, clearing land on his homestead near Elwood. Miss Sturgeon who owns the drug store is a registered pharmacist and will have charge of the business from now on.

E. B. Tongue and A. W. Norblad, rival candidates for district attorney visited with the voters of Estacada Saturday. A lively scrap is on between the two. Mr. Tongue, however, is confident he will be nominated. He is standing on his record in office and believes he is entitled to re-election. He was accompanied by Detective Carpenter of Portland.

An application may soon be made to the state fish and game warden for a half million small trout to stock the Clackamas river above River Mill dam. The fish are now available and can be secured by application of any person in authority. The popularity of Estacada and vicinity as a fishing resort is well known.

The fishing season which began April 1, was officially pried open Sunday when a large number of anglers from Portland arrived. The streams for miles around were whipped and there were reports of good catches. Estacada fly-casters like W. A. Heylman, have landed several good strings. Mr. Heylman picked out 51 below the River Mill dam last Thursday.

William Davis of Garfield who went to Aberdeen, Wash., recently with the intention of locating, has returned to Estacada. His farm in Garfield is in charge of a son-in-law. Mr. Davis will visit a number of relatives before determining what he will do. He watched with some interest the doings of the I. W. W. at Aberdeen and was disgusted with the organization.

Never neglect any trouble that can be remedied with glasses however slight. Thousands of people suffer from headaches and other reflex troubles when glasses would make their eye work a pleasure. There is no mistake more common than to think that wearing glasses creates a necessity for wearing them. Dr. Ervin Sells with Estacada Jewelry Co. every Wednesday, 10:30 to 4:30.

Sydney Fisher who left here for Troutville, Virginia, a year ago returned Sunday, bringing with him G. R. Hiner, a Virginia neighbor, who will locate in Garfield, where Mr. Fisher proposes to resume living. He says that he found Virginia not to his liking and that Oregon is his real element. Also, he found Ballard Looney ready to return Looney left for Virginia about two weeks ago, after selling his ranch at Garfield.

Marshal Ames is of the opinion he won't have a chance to kill off any of the numerous curs which infest the town. The scrub ki-yis, as well as the blue blooded dogs are wearing tags—not all of them but most of them. Whenever the marshal sees a homeless wanderer ripe for plucking, some sympathetic individual forks over a dollar and saves "Rover's" life. In canine worship, Estacada appears to be the Constantinople of Oregon.

At the Portland Kennel club dog show held last week, Dr. H. V. Adix's entries of Airedale terriers, received awards under the direction of the Northwest Airedale Futurity show. Dr. Henry Jarrett the judge, declared the dogs were among the best he had seen in the entire country. Dr. Adix won first for Pacific Coast bred dog, Laddix Lieutenant taking the prize. He also won one second and six third prizes. Mrs. Joe Nicholson's Lord Fife, a bull dog, also won a prize. Mrs. Nicholson lives at River Mill.

MRS. W. F. GARY IS DEAD

Well Known Young Matron Expires at Her Home, of Lingering Illness—Funeral Largely Attended.

Mrs. Oshanna Ruth Dale Cary, aged 24, died last Friday afternoon at her home in Terrace addition, after a lingering illness of several months. The end came peacefully.

Her funeral, which was held Sunday from the Methodist church, was attended by hundreds of people from the town and surrounding country, testifying to the honor and affection in which she was held.

Probably no young matron in the community was more universally esteemed than Ruth Cary. From the time when she was stricken, down to the hour of her passing, she had the sympathy and love of all her friends who did what they could to make her remaining days happy.

Her patience, her unswerving devotion to all whom she held dear, her good cheer and hopeful nature, through her illness all served to make the parting more affecting, yet not a relative, friend, or acquaintance, but felt that her reward in the hereafter, was commensurate with the saintly life she had lived.

Mute tributes of love, her legion of friends covered her casket with fragrant loads of floral emblems. The church from which the funeral was held was beautiful in its Easter flowers. Rev. W. F. R. Browne, her pastor, spoke feelingly of the occasion and gave words of comfort to the bereaved husband and relatives.

The church was filled to overflowing and out on the lawn, hundreds stood patiently while the service was in progress. Nearly the entire audience went to the cemetery where a brief service was held.

The pall bearers were: W. S. Pile, Charles Sparks, Warren Barr, Edward Borer, Fred Jorg and Clyde Schuck. Deceased was born at Latrobe, Pa., Jan. 10, 1888. She came to Estacada with her family, September 1905, October 7, 1908 she was married to William F. Cary. She was 24 years, 2 months and 25 days of age at death. She joined the Methodist church in 1904 and was a member when she died.

Surviving her are her husband, father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dale, and three sisters and three brothers as follows: Mrs. F. M. Gill, Mrs. O. E. Smith of Estacada and Mrs. J. E. Stubbs of Hood River; George E., William M. and Clarence Dale of Estacada.

The relatives of the deceased, dearest through The Progress, to thank the friends whose sympathy and help, served to smooth her last illness. Their kindness will always be held in grateful remembrance.

BOIL YOUR WATER!

Mary Stubbs is to be arrested today for pollution of Wade creek, the source of Estacada's water supply. A dead horse, owned by her, was hauled into the runway of a spring, which leads into the creek about 100 feet above the city intake, about a month or six weeks ago.

Mayor Reed and Marshal Ames this morning removed the carcass of the decayed horse and the reservoir is to be scrubbed today. In the meantime the mayor urges everybody to boil the water before using. A special meeting of the council is to be held.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

Candidate for Second Term.
E. B. Tongue.

I will honestly, vigorously, faithfully and impartially perform my official duties without fear or favor and accord to every individual, irrespective of party, politics or personality, a square deal under the law, keeping always uppermost in mind the interests of the taxpayers. I will protect the innocent as well as prosecute the guilty. I will require every case to stand upon its own merits and prevent private cases from being tried at public expense. I cannot be clubbed, slandered, bluffed or driven to squander the taxpayers' money on useless, malicious or frivolous prosecutions.

Lower Electric Rates!

As a result of economic methods and the acquirement of additional facilities, the Portland Railway, Light and Power Company takes a great deal of pleasure in announcing to the citizens of Estacada and the surrounding territory an important reduction in its electric light and power rates.

It has been the constant policy of the Company to give good service at reasonable rates. The company is more interested than anybody else in building up a bigger, busier and better Portland, and it fully recognizes the important influence of low rates and good service. The new lighting rate is 9, 7 and 4c per kilowatt hour. Details of this reduction and the conditions involved can be secured upon application at any of the company's offices.

IMPORTANT: Several months will be required to change over the 31,000 accounts which this reduction in lighting rates will affect. In order that our patrons may be put to the least possible inconvenience, new contracts will be mailed beginning May 1st. The company earnestly requests that these be signed, witnessed and returned to the company's representative in Estacada as promptly as possible, thus avoiding the possibility of waiting in line at the office.
