Portland's Rose Festival, this year, while somewhat damaged by rain, nevertheless proved a great success. Nothing better than the electrical parade has been seen in the best days of the Mardi Gras. Visitors from many states were present and thoroughly enjoyed the festival. The Elks convention is the next big card at Portland and it promises to exceed in interest anything of a like nature held in that enterprising city.

For a number of years the efforts of people to secure a bridge across the Clackamas at Barton have been turned down with regularity at Oregon City. A year ago the P. R. L. & P. offered to donate $7,000 outright if the county court would order the bridge built. Nothing happened. County division has stirred up the sentiment at the county seat and the Live Wires have held a meeting, appointed a committee and will urge the county court to build or promise to build. One benefit of county division agitation is seen right here—it has waked the Oregon City politicians to the necessity of paying some attention to Eastern Clackamas, instead of ignoring it as formerly.

M. & F'S PROVE A PUDDING

Estacada swamps 'em 9 to 2 and should have had shout—Jack McCurdy makes his debut as an umpire

Wearing a savvy seven dollar Panama, which he borrowed, Jack McCurdy debuted as "umps" Sunday and presided with great grace and aplomb over a game which Estacada copped 9 to 2 from Meier & Frank's club. The visiting outfit played ball a good deal like members of the Old Ladies Home. They should have been shut out. Arbitrator Jack had a lot of close decisions to make and he didn't miscue once. What's more everybody knew it, including Jack. Once Backstop Balor of Portland, became peeved and hit the U. S. with the ball about four feet from Jack's brogans, in an effort to make somebody believe he had tagged a runner at the plate.

"Gently, gently, Tally," admonished Ump McCurdy, "because you can't play ball don't blame me."

After that the M. & F's ate out of his hand.

Neil Bronson was strictly right and the visitors chopped at the ball like a man with the d. t.'s killing snakes. Ten went by the strikeout route and the visitors' two lone runs were due to wild pegging by Neil's pals, who otherwise played a good game.

Heitsman a fine backstop.

Cap Leviticus caught just one ball behind the bat, his meat digit being split by a foul tip. He stuck by the guns though at second and Simmons went to third, Heitsman backstopping. The latter did great work and knocked the ball out of shape. In fact all hands connected and only four fanned. In the third round Townsend, Leviticus, Schultz, Simmons, Morton and Bronson basted the enemy and the hits mixed with home plays netted 7 runs. Doc Douglass scored in the fourth on an error, Leviticus, sacrifice and Heitsys' smash. Alaska Ennis scored in the sixth on his single and one by Cap. We copped nine stolen bases. It should be said that the M. & F's regular stinger wasn't on hand, the sub proving easy.

Owners of Experimental Farm visits properties.

Believing that the Estacada country is one of the most favored fruit sections of the coast, W. R. Reid, owner of the experimental orchards in the Garfield district, is in the city, with Mrs. Reid, and will likely remain here a part of the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Reid have traveled over a good section of the coast this spring and have visited their holdings at North Yakimah. On the Garfield property of eight acres they have about 50 in fruit, eight of which is in strawberries. M. Reid is arranging to plant more small fruit for already he is getting an income from what he has.

"Better strawberries and small fruit can't be found in any fruit section" declared Mr. Reid. "In fact I believe the strawberries here beat anything I've ever seen."

Mr. Reid will likely take a trip to Central Oregon shortly to see what it shows as a wheat country. He is interested in milling. He believes a cannery would pay well here and at his ranch may install a small plant to can surplus fruit.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

Road Supervisor Hunt was in town Monday.

Ed. Miller of Viola was in Estacada Saturday.

Howard Smith of Springwater was in town Saturday on business.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. Palmateer of Garfield, Sunday, a son.

R. G. Trowbridge, the Garfield merchant, was in town Monday.

August Johnson, of Vancouver Wash, visited his son Postmaster A. N. Johnson over Sunday.

William Strotz and R. C. Deming of Garfield have returned from the Rose Festival.

Mrs. Anna Hallbert of Emporia Kan, mother of Mrs. R. M. March, arrived for a three months visit with her relatives.

W. R. Reid of Sleepy Eye Minn, who purchased the experimental orchards in Garfield a year ago, is looking over his property.

Petitions for and against single tax were circulated here the past week. The signers against single tax outnumbered those favoring it, about five to one.

R. A. Verkes of Seattle, manager of Verkes & Co. coffee brokers with offices Spokane, Portland and Seattle, has been visiting R. M. Standish and family last week.

Alderman Underwood and Mrs. Underwood, Marshal Ames and Mrs. Ames, C. W. Devore, L. E. Belfis and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Heylman were among the Estacadians who took in the Rose Festival Friday at Portland.

F. M. Gill, nominee for representative on the republican ticket, was in town Saturday. He was circulating petitions for placing Oregon Agricultural college and the U of Oregon on a millage basis, to do away with the log rolling by the legislature each session.

Burgess Ford, principal elect of the Estacada schools was here last week looking over the field and making plans for the coming school year. Since he was elected principal here, he has been offered a chair in the Willamette university, but declined it.

Prof. H. M. James is varying the monotony of school affairs by spending a month, working for the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company. The professor is wielding an ax and digging pole holes and otherwise acquiring a fine line of exercise.

Fred Bartholemew left Monday for Eastern Oregon where he will resume his duties as forest ranger. He will visit Echo, Ione Pendleton, Stanfield and Heppner, before packing for the mountains. He will return to Estacada in October.

The picnic of the M. E. Sunday school will take place tomorrow, June 21 at Ely's grove, opposite Mrs. Heiple's home at Curriville. The Curriville school will also take part and the Curriville band will furnish music. The announcement that the picnic was to take place at Fern Camp was erroneous.

A despatch from Salem states that L. R. Alderman state superintendent of schools has held that the evidence against Thomas L. Velace a teacher a Viola, was not sufficient to justify dismissal at the hands of the directors. Lovelace was let out after a dispute between him and Director Cockerline. The teacher says he will try to collect his salary for time he was kept out. The case will likely be tried in court.

Senator Jonathan Bourne writes the Progress that the Department of Agriculture at Washington has just issued its 1911 Agricultural Year Book—a bound volume of several hundred pages containing much interesting and instructive information regarding agriculture, horticulture, stock raising, etc. Each Senator and Representative has copies of this Year Book for distribution and any farmer can secure a copy by sending to one of the members of the Oregon delegation.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Sparks and Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Boney returned from a trip to Corvallis, where Mr. Sparks went to look over some property. The journey embraced 208 miles and was made without mishap in Mr. Sparks' machine. John Page and family former Estacadians, are well satisfied with their home at Corvallis. Of all the towns seen on the trip, Mr. Sparks says he likes Salem best. There has been much improvement there within the past few years.

Al-Will, manager of the P. R. L. & P. power plant, spent Sunday at his home near Clatskanie. Mrs. Will who has been in ill health of late, will likely go to Portland for treatment in the near future. It is possible she may undergo an operation.

I O O F. No. 175, hereafter will meet on Friday evenings at 8 o'clock, instead of Saturday evenings, as heretofore. The lodge will meet, therefore tomorrow night under the new schedule.

For Sale—Rubber tired surrey cheap, in good condition. Inquire of Stewart at McCurdy Lumber & Hardware Co.
