Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Miller of Los Angeles have purchased the Harvey Marshall place of 20 acres in Springwater and will reside there.

The Misses Madeline Seeley and Clara Smith of Portland, who went to Timber, to accept positions, returned Monday evening to Estacada. They were not much taken with Timber.

At Borer's theatre Saturday evening, the Wrights Co. will present a three act comedy. There are six people in the company. Only one picture reel will be presented, on account of the length of the play.

Friends of B. O. Boswell are indignant over the statement that he fell down during the fat man's race Fourth of July. Mr. Boswell not only kept his feet, during the big run, but won second prize.

Marshal Ames has cleaned out the thistles around the streets and alleys. Now it is up to lot owners to take care of their property. Thistles on some of the lots are three feet high.

Plans are afoot for the organization of the Estacada Gun and Rod club, to include all lovers of field and stream. It is the plan to hold trap shoots and fly casting contests, and to aid in the protection of game. Announcement of the date of the meeting will be made.

The Portland papers say that Eron Calif, of Cazadero, in 1906 a champion pitcher for the Portland club, was interviewing the McCredies last week, relative to reinstatement in the league. He believes he can come back.

Police Sergeant Peachin of Portland who was shot twice by his wife at Wichita before the latter committed suicide, when temporarily demented, is recovering his health on his father-in-law's place in Garfield. Sergeant Peachin, though weak, apparently is none the worse for his experience.

J. W. Doty, a prominent resident of Eagle Creek, was in town Tuesday. He reports that crop conditions are fairly satisfactory. Mr. Doty is a raiser of turkeys and has a large flock. The birds are allowed to nest where they please and aside from feeding, shift for themselves. They thrive and are a source of profit.

Melvin Shankland of South Bend Wash. is visiting with the family of his brother E. S. Shankland. He will remain here a week and then go to Eastern Oregon. He was met at Portland by Mrs. Myrtle Murry and Miss Jennie Shankland, who spent Elks week there. Devore is her attorney.

Howard Ormiston, an Oregon City boy who was reported to have been kidnapped by a young woman 21 years of age and brought to Estacada, arrived here all right and then went to Portland, where he took in the Elks convention. The woman took the boy along as a guide, having first obtained permission from his mother. When the lad didn't appear, the mother figured her divorced husband was back of the plan.

Evangelist on Elks.

Evangelist Brooke at the revival meeting, last evening, took a hot shot at the Elks, who recently held their national convention at Portland. Mr. Brook was of the opinion that the word "Protective" in the Benevolent Protective Order Elks, meant protection to drunks. His remarks created a mild sensation.
