Best Wishes for Xmas
The Progress wishes every reader and those who are not readers, a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. All things considered the past year has been kind to most of us and there is every reason why all should join in felicitations.
Good cheer, charity to ones neighbor, a get-together spirit should possess us all. Out of it Estacada and the surrounding country none better in the state—will come profit, materially and spiritually.

Now that the democrats have announced their intention of holding up all appointments sent in by President Taft, until President-elect Wilson takes his seat, there is a tremendous uproar from the Oregonian because of the public crib tendencies of the party. But in rapping the democrats for keeping the republicans away from the "trough", the Oregonian unconsciously admits the republicans who have had sixteen years at office holding, are still enamored of the loaves and fishes. For goodness sake, let the dems have a chance at the offices. They have been out in the wilderness a long time.

Meetings to levy special road tax are in progress now throughout the county. There should be a liberal respond by the taxpayers, for without good roads the country can't develop. It does no good to say that the district doesn't get its share of the road money—that's a condition that can't be cured right away. The thing to do is to fix the roads.

The Oregon City Live Wires have decided to help Judge Beattie to the U. S. Marshalship. That should settle all doubt on the question. Others seeking the marshalship should quit now and save their faces. After the Live Wires have placed Judge Beattie in his new job, they will select his successor.

The Oregon City Courier is still hammering away on the typhoid fever situation. It wants the city council to wake up and the Commercial club to quit talking about Christmas trees and help get a pure water supply. Flushing out hydrants with typhoid fever germs doesn't purify the water, says the Courier.

From every section of the state comes strong endorsement of J. N. Teal for Secretary of the Interior. He is, without doubt, one of the best equipped men for the position in the entire nation.

The Dodge hall which was restored to its foundation by J. W. Reed last week, was the scene of a basketball game Saturday which was won by the Y. M. C. A. Pontes over Springwater. Since the storm blew the hall off the foundation the Springwater boys had no chance to practice and this had something to do with their loss.

Alderman William Underwood, last week closed a deal at Portland, whereby a resident of the city becomes the owner of the Underwood property of ten acres and an unfinished house near Morrow. The consideration was $2,700. The Portland buyer is a man of family and will finish the house and move into it soon.

Chas. E. Short, a business man of Portland was here last week. Mr. Short was the purchaser of the second town lot sold in Estacada and Short Street is named after him. Thirty years ago Mr. Short was editor of a paper at Crawford, Neb. and proved his familiarity with the business, by yanking the Washington hand press a few times. Mr. Short said he hadn't seen one of these presses for thirty years.

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season took place Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Saling when they entertained five couples at a 7 o'clock dinner. The table and the rooms were decorated in harmony with the holidays, the table having a Christmas tree as centerpiece. From it presents to the guests were distributed. After all had partaken of the fine dinner, three tables of whist competed, a Christmas cake going to Mrs. E. E. Saling who won the ladies prize and a pie to R. H.
