Industrial fair associations are being organized in various Oregon counties that will further the work of the school children along these lines. Such organizations have already been perfected in Sherman and Morrow counties and also one for Linn County at Albany. The Sherman County court has appropriated $650 for the fair and a list of attractive premiums is offered for the best showings. Other counties are falling into line and the State Fair also promises to be better than ever next fall.

The railroads of the state have done a very helpful thing toward promoting the work of the school children's county industrial fairs, having agreed to carry the children's exhibits to and from the State Fair free of charge. Exhibits must be assembled at one or more convenient points in each county and all sent in together. This means that the children in the most remote parts of Oregon will be encouraged to enter the contest and will have every advantage that those nearer the State Fair location will enjoy.
The prize list is larger and more attractive than ever before and it is hoped that early preparations will be made for collecting and shipping the exhibits.
