D. Wright a government packer was brought in out of the mountains last Friday suffering terrible pain from the effects of being poisoned by eating canned goods. Dr. Adix attended the man and took him to a hospital at Portland where he is said to be rapidly improving. Georgie Hicks of Estacada was with Mr. Wright at the time he became ill and the little fellow bravely stuck with the pack train until the men who were sent out to relieve him arrived.

G. A. Stone of Barton was brought to Estacada Monday by Constable R. Bates, who arrested Stone on a warrant sworn out by a humane officer of Portland charging him with cruelty to dumb animals. The information alleges that Stone beat a horse with a loaded quirt and a club injuring the animal so badly that it was necessary for the humane officers to kill it. Stone plead not guilty to the charge in Justice Givens's court Monday evening and will appear for trial Saturday morning at 10:30. Stone is said to be in the employ of the man at Barton who some weeks ago was fined $20 on a similar charge.

Jeff (other name unknown) who runs the eating house "ferninst" the Kellogg amusement parlors has improved the appearance of the front of his building by applying thereto several coats of paint. And now comes forth Fred Jorg of the Palace Meat Market who says that he is going to paint his building also. He will infringe upon the color sights of the McCurdy Co. and use the yellowist yellow paint that he can get. Should other property owners who are seriously contemplating brightening up their store buildings choose the orange color, this will be no place for a Hibernian.

Motion Pictures

The program at the Family Theatre Saturday evening contains excellent subjects. The feature picture will be a Selig farce comedy on the subject of Woman's Suffrage entitled, "When Helen Was Elected."

The other pictures will be a dramatic description picture, "A Forest Fire," by Edison. This picture was produced under the supervision of officers of the forest service of the Sierra National forest, California; a Pathe comedy, "The Tenacious Lover," Sunday night; A Max Luder comedy, "An Escape of Gas;" Biograph Drama, "Butchery," and a Lubin subject, "A Struggle of Hearts." Show commences promptly at 7:15 in order to give the patrons an opportunity to see the pictures first.

BLUE COATS PICNIC

A large and well behaved crowd attended the Portland policemen's picnic here last Sunday. The day was an ideal one for an outing and a jolly time was had by all. The picnickers commenced to arrive about 9:30 A. M. and the excursion trains loaded with people continued to arrive up until noon. A good program of sports was carried out in the afternoon and the policeman's band, said to be the best organization of its kind on the Pacific coast, played continuously from the time of their arrival until seven o'clock in the evening. The class of music furnished by this band was far superior to that played by bands previously here. The dance in the pavilion was as usual well attended but was in contrast with the majority of Sunday dancing crowds as there was no noise and the dancers were quiet. No special police were necessary to keep the peace as the very best of order was maintained and it is quite evident that the rowdy element of Portland had no desire to attend a picnic which was under the supervision of the men who stand for law and order. Here's hoping the cops and their talented musicians will come again.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

W. Givens was pleasantly surprised when on going to church on Sunday morning last, he found that during his absence, extensive repairs had been made on the interior of the church. The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church wishing to show Mr. Givens their appreciation of services rendered the church, had the floor of the pulpit platform raised and carpeted. Carpets were also laid on the floor in the aisles of the church and a ailing built around the pulpit. Mr. Givens previous to the regular service made a short address, thanking the ladies for their kindness to him and the spirit in which it was given. Mr. Givens has filled the pulpit in the church for the past year in a way that reflects great credit not only on himself and congregation but the community as well. He has made many sacrifices in order to give his time and attention to the upbuilding of the church.

INTO THE PRIMITIVE

For several men of this city the lure of the dim trail has been too strong for them to resist and Wednesday morning the advance guard of a party of nine shouldered their roll of blankets and hit for the foothills. The advance guard was under the charge of Lieutenant Bill Underwood who dressed for the journey and armed to the teeth presented a picturesque appearance. Sergeant Warren Barr and Corporal J. Evers Simmons were the other two members of the skirmish line. Sim's outfit consisted of a can of sardines and a dog while Warren's robust form was clothed in a black satin shirt and a fishing license. The main army left Thursday morning consisting of Messrs. Chas. Lee and Neal Bronson, Clyde Schock, Wm. Brown and Cushman who will join the skirmishes at Three Links. While loading their supplies on a wagon here "Cush" the Bostonian insisted on seasoning the beans with coal oil but after he had succeeded in doing so, a vote was taken by the other members and much to the Boston man's dismay the beans with the scent were thrown out. The men will go about 50 miles into the mountains and work for Uncle Sammie, tearing down the hills and filling up the valleys in an endeavor to build a trail which the government is trying to put through to God knows where. The road which will be constructed by the party will be baptised the "trail of the lonesome pine." The party expects to remain in the interior until Nov. 1st.
