Marshal Ames was on the sick list last week.

Charles Dubois returned to Forest Grove Friday.

Miss Irma Graham was here from Portland Saturday to attend the fair, returning home Sunday.

Jim Smith, who is in the forest service, visited Estacada for two or three days last week.

Otto Paulson of George postoffice favored the Progress with an order for the paper for a year this week.

Miss Rachel Reed will leave Saturday for Seattle where she enters the University of Washington.

Mrs. G. W. Ross of Marshfield, Ore., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hughes of Morrow.

Harry Tracy and C. E. Cole of Portland were guests at the Walter Givens home Saturday and Sunday.

Smylie Lovelace and family have returned to Estacada and are occupying a residence in the north part of town.

Mrs. J. R. Hughes and daughter, Mrs. C. A. Sisson, returned last week from a few weeks' stay at Seaside.

Malcom Woodie, who has been working in the harvest fields in Eastern Oregon, returned to Estacada Sunday evening.

Miss Hattie Belfis, who has been visiting with relatives in Portland for several weeks, returned home the latter part of last week.

R. H. Monckton was a caller at the Progress office Saturday and had his name enrolled among the subscribers to this family necessity.

Mrs. Roger Cary went to Portland Saturday morning to visit her parents. Mr. Cary joined her Saturday evening, returning Monday.

Mrs. H. V. Adix and children returned from a three weeks' outing at Ocean Park, Saturday evening. She reports a most delightful time.

George Hicks, who is in the forest service, came down from the mountains Saturday to visit his sister Miss Tressie Hicks for a few days.

Mrs. Henry Palmateer, son and daughter of Silverton, Or., were here to attend the wedding of Miss Shankland and Mr. O'Neil last Wednesday.

Mrs. Marian Lady arrived from Sheridan, Ore., last week and will again make Estacada her home. She will occupy her own residence near the Christian church.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Ford of Astoria, Or., visited at the home of their sister, Mrs. Elmer Shankland, and attended the wedding of their niece, Miss Jennie Shankland.

The management of the moving picture theatre requests the Progress to say that the reels will only be run through twice at each performance. If you want to see the pictures be on time.

Mrs. Fred North of Cazadero was called to Oregon City the first of last week to see her brother who is ill at that place with typhoid fever. She returned Saturday and reports that her brother is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCurdy left for their new home in Kansas City, Mo., last Saturday. Mr. McCurdy is a good business man and the family will be greatly missed in Estacada. The Progress is sorry to have such people leave our little city but wishes the family all kinds of good luck in their new home.

Mrs. A. K. Morton and son Robert returned Thursday evening from Ocean Park. Mrs. Frazier, who went over with Mrs. Morton, remained for a few days longer visit. While at Ocean Park Mrs. Morton made a specialty of walking so as to be more competent for the exalted position of president of the Jolly Hiker's club. After a few more hikes, she will probably be eligible to join the Mazamas.

JUVENILE FAIR GREAT SUCCESS

A good attendance marked the second Juvenile Fair held in the park pavilion at this place last Saturday. The weather was ideal and many families enjoyed a picnic dinner. There were 66 exhibitors who had 141 entries on display and some of the children who furnished these exhibits, won two or more premiums.

The exhibits included work of pupils in different school grades and showed the interest taken by children of this vicinity in making the fair the success it was. The girl's needlework was exceptionally good, especially that done by those under twelve years of age. Particular merit was in the display of cakes, bread and canned fruit, and in some cases it was difficult for the judges to decide where to place the ribbons. The floral display was a creditable one, and here, as well as in other departments, the boys came in for a share of the premiums.

A collection of native woods furnished by the boys, is worthy of note, as also was the mechanical novelties. A derrick designed and made by Paul Frazier, was considered wonderful, as also was the bird houses and other articles.

The farm products occupied a prominent place, the best display of vegetables being made by George Harkenrider.

The "Shearer" chicken contest proved an interesting feature and it is said that the girls carried off the greater number of honors in this contest. Last spring Mr. Shearer gave twenty of the school children ten eggs each, which were hatched out and the chickens brought to the fair. Of course not all were successful, but there were some exhibits which were considered the best Juvenile displays ever shown in the county and worthy a place at the state fair. A Brahma crate belonging to Ruth Githens was one of the attractions, while Abbie Waggoner carried off the prize offered for the best Plymouth Rocks. There were splendid showings of other kinds of chickens also.

The Progress is sorry that it can not report the entire list of premiums given at this fair. There was no record kept, but it is hoped that next year the Progress will be able to give the prize winners' names in all departments. Another regrettable fact is that all articles were not marked, after the judges finished their work, so that people would know the name of pupils who contributed the articles. We are not saying this for criticism, but merely as a suggestion.

After dinner Prof. Griffith, of the Oregon Agricultural College, and County Supt. Garv gave interesting talks and the Currinsville band furnished some excellent music. A few races followed the speaking, Kenneth Bartlett having charge of these sports. The winners were as follows: 50 yard dash boys under 16, Morley Browne; 50 yard dash, boys under 12, Raymond Lovlace; 50 yard dash, girls under 16, Ruby McWillis; 50 yard dash, girls under 12, Irene Saling; shoe race, 25 yards, free for all, 1st, Floyd Saling; 2nd, Fred Sutterfield.

A community fair was decided upon for next year, in conjunction with the Juvenile fair, and the committee appointed to make arrangements for same is as follows: Mrs. A. W. Bodkin, John Ely, F. J. Harkenrider, Chas. Duncon, H. M. James and J. A. Shibley.

M. H. Boyle and wife and little son left Estacada Wednesday afternoon for Seattle where they visited friends for a couple of days and then went on to Polson, Montana, where they expect to locate. Mr. and Mrs. Boyle were not residents of this place very long, but while here made many friends. Mrs. Boyle will be especially missed by the people of the Christian church where she acted in the capacity of organist most of the time she was here.

ATTENTION PUPILS

The school books will be ready for sale at the Estacada Pharmacy about August 25. The books which were in use last year but now dropped will be taken in exchange (if whole and fit for use) for other books of same nature. About half price is allowed for the old books. Owing to the confusion and amount of time required to exchange books, do not delay until the last moment and be disappointed. Remember, books are sold for CASH only. Positively no credit.

Our Provision Counter

Is a boon to the woman who wants to change from the beef, mutton, lamb or pork of every day use. Sugar cured hams and bacon, perfectly spiced sausages and frankfurters, bologna and liverwurst that to see is to get greedy for. Come and look them over.

George Vannetta, who came here to attend school, has been employed in the postoffice and drug store and will assist there out of school hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Dietrich, who have been occupying the cottage where Mrs. Graham resides, left for their home in Portland last week. They were spending their vacation in Estacada.

The editor of this paper rises up and calls Mrs. B. O. Boswell "blessed" because of the large sack of apples she left in the office during our absence Saturday. They were surely fine.

Mrs. Fred Jorg was a delightful hostess to the Civic Improvement club yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance and a general social affair followed the business meeting. Refreshments in the shape of sandwiches, cake and punch were served. This is the first social event, aside from the initiatory meeting, which the club has enjoyed and the ladies voted Mrs. Jorg a delightful entertainer.
