Mrs. H. V. Adix entertained a large number of her friends Monday afternoon. The ladies report a pleasant time.

A box of chipmunks in the window of "Bob" Marchbank's restaurant is attracting more attention than a box of monkeys.

Miss Pearl Jones of Gresham is visiting Miss Jessie Dodge at River Mill for several days. Miss Jones is a telephone operator.

J. I. Bonny and family left yesterday for their new home at Hubbard, Ore. Mr. Bonny owns some land at that place and will now try his hand at farming.

S. McLean and family have moved to Portland. Mr. McLean has been in the tailoring business at Estacada for some time and only moved to Portland to better himself financially.

Mr. and Mrs. Stokes drove up from Portland Thursday to visit their daughter, Mrs. K. W. Cary. They were accompanied by Mrs. Stokes' aged father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Mathina, who had never visited Estacada before.

Miss Laura Stormer, who has been an efficient saleslady in the Cary Mercantile Co. store for two or three years, resigned her position and is no longer seen there in the dry goods department. Miss Stormer resigned on account of poor health we understand.

Postmaster Johnson will surely earn his salary for the next two months, as he has to weigh all mail from Estacada to Springwater. Mr. Dumoy, our genial rural route man, will also have to classify and figure postage for the same length of time. If everything doesn't go in the usual "apple pie" order at the post-office, just have patience and think of the poor over-worked postmaster.

Rev. Browne returned Monday from Eugene and is busily engaged in packing up and getting ready to move to Silverton, where he has been assigned a charge. The family expects to leave Wednesday of next week. Mr. Brown preaches his farewell sermon next Sunday morning. There will also be an infant baptismal service at this time. In the afternoon he will preach at Garfield and in the evening at Curriusville.

The Estacada Lumber & Produce Co. have installed a new feed mill.

To find great big bargains, go to the Cary Mercantile Co. store. See new ad.

Miss Elva Adams and Miss Lelah Howe are now assisting at the telephone office.

First football game of the season Saturday, Oct. 4, Portland Acadamy vs. Estacada High. Admission 25c.

There will be a farewell party held at the Wm. Dale home tomorrow night for Rev. Browne and family. Everybody invited.

The editor of this paper is pleased on account of several new subscribers this week, also for the many words of encouragement and praise given us.

There will be a meeting of all who are interested in a walk to connect with the walk at Osborne's place, on Saturday, at 7 o'clock at Demoy's place.

The Rummage sale room will be opened again next Saturday afternoon. If you have anything to contribute to this sale, bring the articles on this day.

Lovers of athletic sports will have an opportunity of seeing a good football game here in Estacada next Saturday. The contest will be between the Portland Academy and Estacada High school boys.

In another place in this paper is a notice of a basket social and voting contest for the benefit of the building fund of the Garfield Country Club, which will be held Saturday evening, October 11, at the Country Club hall.

The Progress editor is under obligations to Mrs. R. G. Palmateer for a pair of silver tipped prunes, so that when our friends come to visit us this winter we can serve prunes, at least. We always did believe in following the doctor's directions in regard to what is healthy for us to eat.

The season opened yesterday in this county when hunters can lawfully kill male Chinese pheasants, quail and grouse. The season lasts all through October. E. J. Kellogg is all excited and can scarcely refrain from locking up his pool hall and shoulder his gun for a raid on the famous plumage birds. Some of the ladies around town might engage feathers for their winter hats from Mr. Kellogg.

The Progress' notice to subscribers has been responded to quite liberally by those whose names are on the home list, which the editor appreciates very much. Those who are on the single wrap list may expect a statement after Oct. 15 if a remittance does not arrive before that time. It is quite necessary for this subscription list to be in better shape or the Postal authorities may take a hand in the business.

The Methodist Conference held at Eugene last week, exonerated Rev. W. H. Kuhlman of Tillamook, who recently brought embarrassment upon himself in Portland while attempting to do some social-service investigation on his own initiative. The committee in considering the case found that Mr. Kuhlman was guilty of technical violation of an ordinance of the city of Portland, but was assured that he was guilty of no moral wrong. The reverend gentlemen's friends in this section will be pleased to hear of this decision.

On account of the urgent request of her mother to join her at Raymond, Wash., where the family recently removed, Miss Tressie Hicks ceased her labors as "Hello" girl at the local telephone and telegraph office, Tuesday, and will leave for Raymond the first of next week. It seems to be a universal source of regret that Miss Hicks retires, for she has given the best of satisfaction as telephone operator. Always kind and obliging and with her womanly graces, she has won many friends in Estacada and vicinity, all of whom extend to her their best wishes.
