SO THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW

A lady, living in or around Oregon City, has thrown her bonnet into the ring and is a candidate for a county office. We make mention of her debut so that when the voters of East Clackamas meet her on the primary ballot in May they can acknowledge a slight acquaintance.

Estacada is climbing up. While as yet possibly you cannot see it, you can feel it. Optimism is sticking around every where. The Progress believes that as the march forward commences that the Commercial Club should be born again and a progressive secretary placed in charge of its affair. Pay him a little for his work and if he is a live wire and an apt hand at having his eyes open, much good will be accomplished and Estacada grow.

We confess that we do not read everything we see about the road question. If we did, there would be no time to do anything else.
We believe in less talk and more work, and are also very firm in our belief that all money derived from taxation for road purposes should be spent on the roads in the political division from whence it came.
Therefore, East Clackamas money should not be put in a hole over near Oregon City, and our people ought to fight all the time to prevent just such a thing from being done.

It looks as though Oregon might lose its senate. Perhaps it is well.
Arizona lost hers last year and has not advertised for its return. The senate was originally created for the purpose of being used as a brake on the other house when the latter got too gay. The senate got so dignified that the common herd couldn't touch it with a ten-foot pole and as a result naturally degenerated into the place that Big Business used as a playground.
Then when the people went to governing themselves they renovated the senate along with several other places that had become filled with dirt and muck, and now these same people are thinking and debating among themselves, "why is a senate?"

"Dry" Campaign Outlined H. L. Sheldon, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Oregon, has outlined the campaign that will be undertaken to make Oregon dry at the November election. He declares that if the women of Oregon will register and vote in November the state will go dry.
Mr. Sheldon says that it is intended to organize every precinct in the state to get men and women to sign pledges to vote the dry ticket by 10 a. m. election day. Mr. Sheldon points out that in the election of 1910, 149,000 voters did not vote at all. The problem is to get the people who are indifferent to realize their responsibility and register and vote, and this will be made all over the state.

The most prominent and ablest advocates of prohibition in the United States will take part in the campaign.

MOODS OF THE RHINO.

Emotions It Exhibits at the Sight and Odor of Men.
The recognized presence of mo-ruses in the rhinoceros several centuries, which in the order of their intensity I should put as bewilderment, fear, dull curiosity and truculence. If the men are merely seen usually the only emotions aroused are bewilderment and curiosity; if smelled fear is the usual result, but in a certain number of cases even the sight or the smell of men arouses senseless rage.
Some rhinos are always cross and evil tempered, but many others which are normally good natured now and then have fits of berserker fury. Anything suspicious which arouses their interest may also arouse their hostility.
White has an evil attraction for them.
My friends the McMullans while traveling through a rhino country found that the two white horses of their cavalcade were so frequently charged that they finally painted them khaki color.
I have never seen them charge other men and domestic animals entirely unprovoked. Twice I have known of one charging an oxen wagon. In one case an ox was killed, in the other the rhino got entangled in the yokes and traw-lock, and the driver, an Africaner, tumbled it lustily with his great whip until it broke loose and ran off, leaving the ox open tumbled in wild confusion.
—Theodore Roosevelt in Scribner's.

MAKES OLD PEOPLE
STRONG AND WELL

We want to get the news to all old people at—at Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion a remarkable new food-medicine which we firmly believe is the best remedy ever made to overcome the weakening debilitating effects of increasing old age. It helps to rebuild wasted tissues, strengthen the nerves, and give new energy and a lively feeling to the body.
It contains no alcohol or dangerous drug. It may not make you feel better for a few days, but if you do not feel much better and stronger before you have taken a quarter as much as you have of other medicines that have not helped you, we will gladly give back your money.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion contains pure Olive Oil and the Hypophosphites which, though they have long been endorsed by successful physicians, are here for the first time combined. The result is a real body, nerve and blood-building food-medicine that we believe is superior to anything else in overcoming debility, weakness and liability to disease, and to tone and strengthen the nerves and enrich the blood. You who are weak and run-down—you who are often troubled by various cold weather ailments, use Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion to get and keep well and strong. It is a sensible, pleasant-tasting aid to renewed strength, better spirits, glowing health. If it doesn't help you, come and tell us and we will give back your money without a word. Sold only at the 7000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00.—Estacada Pharmacy, Estacada, Oregon.

GARFIELD

The regular preaching service will be held Sunday, Feb. 15, at the Nora Memorial church.

As usual, the young people thoroughly enjoyed the dance at the Country Club last Saturday evening.

The talk given by Prof. Peck of the O. A. C. at the Country Club was very beneficial. Many good practical ideas for beautifying the home and school grounds were advanced. Prof. Peck is probably the best posted man in his particular branch of landscape gardening on the Pacific coast, and Garfield people feel complimented in having him favor them with his time.

Central Eagle Creek

Quite large crowd from Eagle Creek attended the basketball at Estacada and reported an exciting game.

Our two merchants, Peter Cogswell and J. M. Henkle, made a flying business trip to Portland Friday.

Ward Douglas hauled a load of pork to Portland Monday.

Pilot Saunders has been sacking a large crop of potatoes.

Prof. Frank Fuchs, a noted violin instructor, is visiting in Eagle Creek.
He expects to stay until the first of April. He will form a class. Ed Johnson is taking an advanced course from the professor.

Homer Clover has purchased an attractive bunch of Holstein calves.

Eagle Creek school is doing nicely this winter under the able management of Dorcas Heddin and Lillian Appleman.

Elmer Anderson is still growing.
The little fellow is 6 ft. 2 in. tall already.

Noah Stingley is still studying domestic science.

SPRINGWATER

Mrs. Jackman visited her sister Mrs. Patton Friday of last week.
Mrs. Wooster was quite sick a

ALSPAUGH

Mrs. Dick Githens and Mrs.
John Githens and daughter Hazel were entertained at dinner by Mrs.
Henry Githens Thursday.

Edgar Hieple is very sick with inflammatory rheumatism. He is under the care of Dr. Morse.

Frank Boyer had the misfortune to break his leg.

Echo and Hazel Githens were Portland visitors Saturday.

Mrs. Fred Ely and children are visiting with J. W. Dowty and family.

Mr. Frank is purchasing some fine stock for his farm.

EAGLE CREEK

Mr. Brasch and J. P. Strahl had a road building bee last Thursday.
They invited some of their neighbors to come and help cut out a road from their place to the main road. There was quite a crew at work and they got most of the work done that day so one could drive over it with a wagon. And they put a little more word on the road and now they have a very good road out from their place.

Mrs. Judd called on Mrs. Howlett last Thursday.

Mrs. Bessie Douglass went to Portland the latter part of last week.

Pay Woodie and son Leslie, who have had the measles, are up and about again.

Mrs. Clark visited with Mrs.
Howlett one day last week.

H. S. Gibson made a business trip to Portland last Wednesday.

Mrs. Bertha Douglass, who went to The Dalles to see her father, who was very ill and died while she was there, returned home last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moelneke, Miss Rose Hatz and Fred Moelneke were the guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Roy Douglass Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Woodie and family and Claude Woodie spent Saturday evening at the home of
R. B. Gibson.

THE ZERO MARK.

Origin of the Mathematical Symbol That Stands For Nothing.
It is the peculiar triumph of the mathematicians who constructed the Hindu Arabic numerals that they were led to invent a symbol for "nothing." The invention arose out of the difficulty which was encountered when circulation was transferred from the ancient abacus board and became a written operation.

On the abacus board, which may perhaps be seen still in infants' schools, the rows of beads or counters represented the numerals 1 to 9, but each counter or bead in the row above represented ten times as great a value as in the row below. Thus 501 could be transferred from abacus board to paper without difficulty, but 5 (0) 1 taken from the abacus might be 51, since the vacant place was no longer indicated.

Accordingly mathematicians were led to invent a character for the vacant place. The invention of this symbol for "nothing" with the crowning, transcendent achievement in the perfection of the decimal system and lay at the base of all subsequent arithmetical progress. Among the Hindus the symbol was at first a dot, but it was soon superseded by a circle, O. Its symbol, says Professor E. R. Turner in a magnificent article on the numerals, has undergone greatly, and its name has a pedigree of its own. The Hindus called it sunya—void. In Arabic this became sifr.

In 1202 Leonardo Fibonacci translated it siphirum. In 1330 Maximus Planudes called it talpura. During the fourteenth century Italian writers shortened it to zero and zero, which became zero, now in general use.
Meanwhile it has passed more nearly to Arabic form into French as chiffre and into English as cipher, taking on new significances.

Apple growers of the Northwest, who have been asking for legislation to standardize apple boxes, should be greatly interested in a bill before the House at the present time to further this interest. The bill is aimed to standardize "the box so that the pack may compete more successfully with the standard barrel pack. Growers may aid this work by writing their congressmen in the interests of the bill.

A few years ago a car of hogs leaving Condon was quite a novelty; now scarcely a week passes without half a dozen shipments of these animals, besides a car or two of beef cattle. The country is slowly but surely getting back into stock raising, and in a few years more there will not be a farmer who will not have his couple of cars of stock to turn off every year.—Condon Times.

Keep in mind the Cannery and Good Roads meeting which will be held in Estacada, Saturday, Feb. 21.

There's a Reason Sometimes the purchaser is not to be blamed for sending away to a mail order house. The Republican has persistently preached the doctrine of trading at home. However, there are two sides to this matter just the same as there is to everything else. "A farmer who was carrying an express package from a city mail order house," says the Pomotrope, "was accosted by a local merchant: 'Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me? I could have saved you the express and besides you would have patronized a home store, which helps pay the taxes and builds up this locality.' With characteristic frankness, the farmer asked: 'Why don't you patronize your home paper and advertise? I read it and didn't know you had the goods I have here, nor do I ever see your name in the papers inviting me to come to your store.'"—Exchange.
