SO THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW

Men and Women of East Clackamas County: The Cannery is knocking at your door. Are you going to open up and let it in? If you open the door and invite it in, you must open your pocketbook also. Otherwise it will not stop.

Right Now Money Talks! You cannot bring more prosperous times to yourself and neighbors, you cannot increase the valuation of your land, business or other property, you cannot improve the condition of the community, unless you open your pocketbook.

Right Now Money Talks! Men may plan, committees may report the success of other like institutions, speakers may address you and say it is well, and you may gather on the street corners or cross roads and declare it a good thing, yet to get the Cannery and thus be able to enjoy the fruits of its benefit, you must open your pocketbook.

Right Now Money Talks! And don't think for a single minute that the other fellow will surely open his pocketbook and thus it will not be necessary for you to do so, if he does, your help is needed just the same, and he may fool you. He may think as you think and then no Cannery will be built.

Right Now Money Talks! Then another thing; Nobody is going to call around and beg and coax you. You could well afford to pay somebody five hundred dollars to do this very thing if it assured success, you haven't done so, and everybody's business is nobody's business. So if you want a Cannery and you certainly need one, and if you desire to make yourself, town and community more prosperous then at the present time, you will step up lively, hunt the subscription paper and sign your name promiscuously with a $25, $50 or $100 after it. Make the dollar sign and figures more prominent than your name for Right Now Money Talks!

OUR HOME WOMEN HAVE BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Next time you go to the theater or to the "movies" just notice, if you please, how many of our home ladies have beautiful hair—glossy, lustrous, and well-dressed. Then, if you will pick out five or ten of those whose hair seems to be particularly pretty and will ask them what they use on it, we feel sure that at least more than half of them will say "Harmony Hair Beautifier." It is fast becoming the rage with both men and women who are particular about the appearance of their hair.

Sprinkle a little Harmony Hair Beautifier on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil; will not change color of hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Retail Stores, and in this town only by us, Estacada Pharmacy, Estacada, Oregon.

Cary's Mercantile

Will Hold Big Sale

Commencing the first of next week, Cary's Mercantile Co. will start their big sale. By combining their two stores they find themselves not only overstocked, but in urgent need of several thousand dollars in cash. The McMinnville stock is a good one and could have been sold in McMinnville, had they located there permanently, which they decided not to do and therefore has not been brought to Estacada because it could not be sold in a larger town than Estacada, with the idea that you might not be as good judges of values as the buyers in a large town. So the people of this community are going to get some real bargains in GOOD GOODS, guaranteed to be such, and being home merchants, dependent on your patronage and good will in the future, they will not knowingly permit you to be "stung" on a single article.

STANDARD TIME.

Different Now From 1873. When There Were Seventy-one Divisions.

Years ago, instead of four or five standards of railroad time, there were seventy-one! That was in 1873. In 1883 they had cut out some deadwood, as various railroads had begun to consolidate. At that enlightened period there were still remaining fifty-three different standard times. In railroad centers, where the competing roads didn't like one another and refused to unionize in depots, it was not an uncommon thing to find one end of town setting its watches so many minutes ahead or so many minutes behind the other end of town. The lot of the traveler was hard because trunk line service was not developed then as now, and it frequently carried one into the realms of higher mathematics to connect between trains of different systems. The confusion at length became so bad with the extension and ramification of railroads that the officials got together and began holding "time conventions" in an effort to lighten the burden of the clock.

After meetings in St. Louis and New York in 1883 the railroads of this country and Canada drew five lines through the continental map along the meridians fifteen degrees apart, beginning at sixty degrees west of Greenwich, England. The meridians were to drop an hour each step west. Thus when it was noon on the sixtieth meridian it was 11 o'clock in the morning of the seventy-fifth, and so on.

There were drawbacks to this plan, however. It would not be possible for railroads to use an imaginary line, so it was decided to make the change in the hour at the principal stations nearest to this imaginary line. Detroit, Wheeling, Pittsburgh, Parkersburg, Va., and Augusta, Ga., though not situated on an air line, are points of change between eastern and central time. Frequently in the west the change is made at the end of long divisions.

It is interesting to follow the standard time line on a map. One's first impression is of amazement at the zigzag line that jumps hither and yon and not infrequently even turns back on itself, though all the time following its general direction north and south, on one side or the other, of its own special meridian. The map is plotted off into distinctive colors by these zigzag lines, and any particular division is known as red, blue, green or yellow, according to whether it is intercolonial, eastern, central, mountain or Pacific time. The eastern colonies of Canada recently adopted eastern time, thereby cutting the standard divisions down to four.

Mean local time of course does not correspond to standard time except on the meridians themselves. Thus Savannah is thirty-six minutes behind the sun, while Detroit is thirty-two minutes ahead of it.—Philadelphia Press.

Jas. Gibson of Barton, an old pioneer of '67, was an Estacada visitor Saturday and favored this office with a call. Mr. Gibson is 88 years old and the Progress hopes to have him for its valued subscriber for many more years to come.

The Invincibles, a class of young ladies of the M. E. Sunday school, taught by Mrs. T. J. Reagan, entertained the Crusaders, the young men's class taught by Mr. Guthrie, at the home of Mrs. Reagan last Friday evening. Various games were played and luncheon was served. All report an especially good time.

GARFIELD

Prune orchards are being planted this spring by Harry Stokes, a tract of 7 acres; Sam Dunlop, 10 acres; Dr. Hewitt, 10 acres.

A good crowd, considering the fine weather for spraying and seeding, turned out for the annual pruning demonstration on the W. R. Reid orchard last Saturday afternoon.

Walter Lemon is back for a visit, from Eugene, Ore.

Miss Roberta Reid and a party of Portland friends spent the week end at the W. R. Reid ranch.

Is Estacada a dry town? If so, where do the men found intoxicated in Estacada and the adjacent country get the booze? Someone please reply.

The Garfield Dorcas Society will hold an all day session at the home of Mrs. Sheares, Thursday, March 19. The captains of the two sides, contesting for increased membership will make their report. A cordial invitation is extended to all new members to attend.

School Items

By Our High School Reporter
The regular monthly meeting of the Student Body will be held tomorrow afternoon.

The members in the high school play are practicing faithfully and it promises to be a great success when it is given, which will be either the last of this month or the first of April.

The Sophomore boys are going to lock horns with the Freshman boys, and there will also be a girls' game, Pinks vs. Blues, in the very near future. This is not given by the Student Body but is being managed by the two classes, but if any money is made over expenses they are going to turn it into the Student Body treasury.

"No more humdingers." Those were the fatal words uttered by Coach Ford to the track boys when they assembled last Monday to hear what the training rules would be for this season. Active track practice started the first of the week and we all look for a good team.

A cupboard for keeping lunch is one of the improvements added to our school last week. For some time those who have been bringing their lunches have complained that either mother forgot to put in everything she said she would, or else someone got hungry along in the forenoon and helped themselves. The latter proved to be correct because one would not have to look long to find someone in the grades who would say he did not like bananas, especially when they had either visited a drug store or chemist's laboratory. Hence, the cupboard with a padlock.

A spelling match, in which ten schools of Supervisor James' district will be represented, will be held in the Estacada High school assembly on March 27th.

Several loads of sawdust were hauled on the Athletic field last Monday. It will be used in putting the field into shape for track practice.

The Basketball season is over. E. H. first team was defeated in the following games: Portland Academy, Forest Grove twice, Y. M. C. A. Hustlers, Springwater, Commercial Club and Parkplace. They won from the Alumni Faculty, Parkplace and Gresham.

Coach Guthrie entertained the basketball boys to a "feed" last Tuesday night. It was served by the ladies of the M. E. church at the home of Wm. Dale. After everyone had done justice to everything set before him, with the exception of the track boys to the cake, each one was called upon for a toast. Mr. Ford acting as toastmaster. Our coach responded to a Telegram, relative to next year's basketball team, in which he made some excellent prophecys. After the speech making the election of next year's captain took place, only those playing with the first team being allowed to vote. After much electioneering, bribery and corrupt voting by the rival candidates it was announced that Leroy Gard had been duly elected captain of the 1914-15 basketball team. Those present were F. B. Guthrie, B. F. Ford, Kenneth Bartlett, Captain Graham, Albert Shankland, Hurley Fellows, Robert Morton, Captain elect Gard, Chester Womer, McColly Dale, Leo Havens, Paul Prazier, Clyde Denny and Will Bartelmy.
