The State and the Individual.

The state may make it easy for a man to acquire a small holding, but it cannot give the man the energy, the industry, which are necessary if the boon is to be an abiding blessing to him. The state may help men over bad times, but it cannot give men the moral character which enables those who possess it by their energy, determination, industry, to place themselves beyond the reach of temporary disaster. - London Strand Magazine.

Not Qualified.

"I have tried to make a fashionable gentleman of you," said the reproachful father. "I know it," replied the remorse-ful young man. "But the smell of a chrysanthemum disagrees with me, I look funny in a silk hat, and I always get a cane twisted up between my ankles. If it's all the same to you, I'd rather go to work." -Washington Star.
