Local News
Tomorrow is Good Friday.
Boost for the East Clackamas Fair.
Track Meet Saturday at Estacada.
Mrs. Gertrude Grim visited Portland Friday.
Mrs. Emily Lady was a Portland visitor Saturday.
R. W. Cary transacted business in Portland Friday.
Mrs. Ellen Patterson visited Portland Saturday.
Members of the C. I. C.—remember the meeting next Saturday.
Mrs. C. F. Howe and daughter Leah were in Portland Saturday.
Attend the play at the Garfield Grange hall, Friday night, April 10.
"A Family Affair" at the Ely Hall at Currinsville, Friday night, April, 24.
Among the Estacada visitors in Portland Saturday was Miss Gertrude Dillon.
Mesdames J. W. Reed and A. E. Sparks were in Portland Friday night to hear Parsival.
Ed. Hunt made a trip over to Oregon City Monday evening, returning the next day.
Mr. and Mrs. H. Dillon enjoyed a visit Saturday night and Sunday with their daughters from Salem.
Guy Graham and Hurley Fellows left Estacada Tuesday for Alaska where they will spend the summer.
Mrs. Ida R. Holder left this week for Salem to spend a month with friends. Mrs. Holder taught in the Salem school at one time.
Mrs. T. Yocum visited her daughter in Portland and returning home Monday brought her little granddaughter with her.
Mrs. B. F. Ford entertained a number of ladies Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mr. Ford's mother and sisters. Those present report a most enjoyable time.
Sanford Cox moved into the house belonging to the bank on upper Broadway last week and Charlie Sparks moved back into his own house on Terrace Addition.
Mrs. Ford and daughters Eva and Sadie of Oregon City arrived Monday to visit at the home of Mrs. Ford's son, B. F. Ford for a few days. Rev. Ford joined them Tuesday evening which completed the family gathering.
Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Howe went to Portland one day last week to meet Mrs. Howe's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Foehlinger of St. Paul, Minn. Mr. Foehlinger's son preceded them to Estacada and has bought the Jas. Linn farm where the father and mother will reside.
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Ecker left Estacada Tuesday for Independence, Oregon, where Mr. Ecker will go into the newspaper business with George O. Dodge who has been working on the Progress for the past seven months. They expect to purchase the Independence Monitor. The Progress wishes them all kinds of success.
E. W. Bartlett was in Oregon City Tuesday and attended a meeting of the Live Wires where he gave a talk on the attitude of the people in the country toward Oregon City, discussed the road bonding question and talked of the plans Estacada has for entering into an agreement with Oregon City to secure pure mountain water.
Mrs. W. F. Cary entertained a few friends Monday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Clyde Ecker, who was to leave Estacada the next day. The game of 500 was played until five o'clock when the hostess served light refreshments. The score cards were suggestive of the departure of the guest of honor, being suit cases in shape and containing baby ribbon handles. The napkins also were adorned with a suit case or traveling bag. The favors were given to Mrs. W. S. Pyle and Mrs. Somers. All report a very pleasant afternoon.

SPECIAL MEETINGS
The special meetings at the M. E. church are meeting with good success. Mr. and Mrs. Park the evangelists are both very pleasant speakers and are giving some excellent sermons. Tuesday night Rev. Park took for his subject, "Should Christians Dance". The church was crowded with a very attentive audience. He hit the dancers pretty hard and went after card players as well. His sermon was the topic of general conversation all next day and sometimes discussed with very much spirit from both sides of the question. Wednesday evening Mrs. Park occupied the pulpit and the subject of her sermon was "Profit and Loss". Mrs. Park speaks with kindness and true consideration and her sermons are convincing and seem to win the hearts of the people, as was evidenced by the large number who went to the altar that evening.
The meetings will continue this week and perhaps longer.

The East Clackamas Fair
At the meeting of the committee of the East Clackamas fair, held Saturday afternoon in the C. I. C. rooms, reports from various committees indicated that the plans are rounding into shape for a live successful fair in September.
It is planned to have competition among the Granges of the district, which if taken up in the proper spirit, will insure a fine display and much interest.
A sub-committee on a prize list was appointed to report at the next meeting, also a committee on the publication of prize list.
The committee is anxious that every section of Eastern Clackamas county be represented by exhibits, and wishes to urge everyone with a piece of ground, a domestic bird or animal, the ability to cook or can or sew, to get into some contest. Don't come empty handed to the 1st Annual East Clackamas fair and after looking at the results of your neighbor's forethought, care and public spirit, say, "Why, I could have raised something as good as that." This will indicate to the man who hears you that you either lack in public spirit or veracity. Boost, boost, boost for the East Clackamas Fair.

Some Increase in Population
This part of Oregon may be deficient in raising swine and corn, but it is prolific enough when it comes to increasing the population, as the following from our birth reporter indicates: Born to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sagner March 19, a boy; to Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Fisher March 21, a boy; to Mr. and Mrs. Orin Blue March 22, a girl; to Mr. and Mrs. B. Loony April 3, a boy; to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tanner April 6, a girl.

There will be a Track Meet at Estacada, Saturday afternoon, commencing at 1:30, Portland Academy vs. Estacada High. Admission 25 cents.

The Garfield Grange will present "The Corner Store" at the Grange hall, Friday evening, April 10. Admission 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. Supper served at the hall after the play. The Grange people put on a play last year which is said to have been very much of a success and they will surely give good satisfaction.

George O. Dodge left this morning for Independence, Oregon, where he has purchased the Monitor at that place and will be associated in the newspaper business with C. T. Ecker. Mr. Dodge has assisted in the Progress office since the present editor has had charge and we can recommend him as a young man of excellent morals and principals. With Mr. Ecker who has had considerable experience in newspaper work, there is every reason to believe that they will "make good".
