WAR BELIEVED ON To Control

Austria Moves Secretly on Servia: Sudden Blow is Possible.

Empire Is Believed Determined to Force War Despite Concessions Two Acts Committed.

London-New proof that Austria is fully determined to make war on Servia is seen in Monday's developments, while the possibilities of a ger eral European war seem greater than ever have confronted the present gen-

The Servian reply to the Austrian ultimatum was an acceptance of almost all the imperious demands, except that Austrian officials shall participate in the investigation and fix the responsibility for the anti-Austrian Servia proposed an appeal to the powers at The Hague for the settle-ment of that feature. Notwithstandpowers at The Hague for the settlement of that feature. Notwithstanding this humiliating surrender, which was more than Europe expected of the little nation, the Austrian government gave the Servian minister his pass-ports, which may be construed as a virtual declaration of war.

Austria also committed an act of war by arresting the chief of the Servian general staff, General Putnik, near Budapest, but he was soon re-leased by the emperor's command.

A formal declaration of war is not expected, because Servia is not a party to The Hague convention, which requires this. The suspension of all parliamentary and judicial institutions have been decreed in Austria and an ironclad censorship has drawn a cordon of secrecy around the country, so that the outside world is in complete ignorance of everything happening there, except what the government wants the world to know.

Even now the Austrian army may be closing in upon Servia and delivering a sudden blow, as Japan did when she sent her fleet against the Russian ships

While Austria announces a "partial mobilization," the Austrian ambassador at London has issued a significant notice to all Austrians liable for military service to return home.

The only possibility of averting war is that at the eleventh hour Servia shall reconsider her reply to the Austrian note and bow to all the demands. Even then Austria proposes to exact payment for all her expenses in connection with her military measures.
