What People Are Doing

Eddie Scheel of Bissell has been ill for the past few days.

F. A. Kolpin of Portland visited relatives in Estacada Sunday.

Miss Kitty Reagan spent the week end with her parents.

J. M. Hinkle of Eagle Creek, is erecting a new residence.

Jerry Jones and wife have returned from the mountains.

Carl Kimmel is on the sick list this week, and unable to attend school.

H. S. Jones and wife of Portland, were the guests of relatives at Eagle Creek, the first of the week.

James Taylor of Dufur, is now staying with his mother, Mrs. Courter of Eagle Creek.

M. C. Glover of Eagle Creek made a sale of a pure bred Jersey calf to Ad. Wiederhold of Bissell.

Cloe Halbert from Tillamook is registered for another term in the Estacada High School.

Mrs. Theo. Harders of George spent a few days at the home of her mother in Estacada, last week.

Mabel Keller, after one year of absence from school, has resumed her work in Estacada High.

Mrs. Fitzgerald of Portland spent Saturday, and Sunday at the home of Henry Githens in Currinsville.

Mrs. Freda Kirchem of Logan, was an Eagle Creek Grange visitor Saturday.

J. C. Peterson, who underwent an operation at the Good Samaritan hospital a few weeks ago, has returned to his home in Springfield.

Dr. Steiner and wife of Sandy were Estacada visitors Monday evening, returning Tuesday morning.

J. H. Sevier of Viola has purchased a large motor truck, for use in hauling produce to the Portland market.

Mrs. I. D. Wright accompanied her sister, Miss Hill, to Portland last week, where Miss Hill intends entering high school.

Monday, the work of preparing the Currinsville school house for the coming term was started. It will be resingled and a new heating plant is to be installed.

C. C. Miller of Viola and Gladstone has purchased the plumbing business of C. M. Sparks of Estacada. Mr. Miller is well known here and the Progress and his many friends wish him success.

The Epworth League of the M. E. church have changed the date of their reception to the High school students and teachers from Friday to Thursday night. The change was due to Gov. West's schedule to speak here Friday night.

Stanley Turel and family of Dodge are to move to Estacada in a few days. Mr. Turel and family will be especially welcomed to the city, as it will mean the addition of six more students to the Estacada schools.

A home gathering was celebrated at the Woodie home, Sunday, in honor of the new bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Woodie. A sumptuous dinner was served at one-thirty o'clock, and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

E. S. McCormick of Eugene, who was appointed to fill the vacancy of County School Supervisor, left vacant by H. M. James of Estacada, called at the Progress office Saturday and will keep this office posted on the school improvements in his district.

The Estacada district display, as shown at the recent county fair, won the first prize in its class and was awarded $50.00. Other individual exhibitors, such as Ed. Shearer, John Ely, A. O. Whitcomb and T. J. Reagan, also received cash premiums for their exhibits. Another year, Eastern Clackamas should run away with the lion's share of the premiums, if entries are made, and if competition is no stronger from elsewhere, than it was this year.

Owing to an oversight, mention was not made in last week's issue, of the death of Mr. J. J. Judd of Barton. Mr. Judd was one of the old residents in this part of the county and his sudden death, Sept. 16th, was a great surprise to his many friends. For some time past he had been a sufferer from intestinal troubles, which finally caused his death. The funeral was held at the Foster cemetery, last Sunday.

In Our School

The Adelphe and Websterian literary societies have been re-organized this year and new officers have been elected. Both societies plan to have good programs, which they hope will be of interest to the public as well as to the school. Faculty advisors have been chosen for the two societies, Miss Dillon for the Adelphe and Miss Jones for the Websterians. Dora Currin was elected president for the Adelphe Society and Paul Frazier, secretary. In the Websterian Society, Leroy Gard received the presidency and Elva Adams the secretaryship.

High School Visits Gresham Fair

About forty students of the Estacada High School, accompanied by the high school faculty, one grade teacher and several of the grade pupils, visited the Gresham fair last Friday morning. The crowd left Estacada on the 8:55 car, arriving in Gresham at 9:35. On leaving the car the students proceeded to terrorize Gresham's football bunch with their dreaded high school yell.

Arriving at the fair grounds the Estacadians were admitted free of charge for which they showed their appreciation by giving nine rahs for the fair management. They then divided into two parties; the boys visiting the stock exhibit with Mr. Guthrie, and the girls inspecting the other exhibits under the watchful eye of Miss Jones.

The exhibits of horses and dairy cattle were especially good, and Mr. Guthrie held an attentive audience, as he pointed out their good and weak points. Some choice O. I. C. and Poland China swine were also shown.

At twelve o'clock the company retired to the exhibition building for lunch. Mr. Ford, after devastating a lunch counter, was liberally supplied from a basket brought by some of the girls, and it became necessary for him to leave on the two o'clock car.

After lunch, the boys visited the grain and horticultural exhibits and found them almost as good as usual, despite the exceptionally dry season, while the girls started for the live stock buildings with Mr. Guthrie. Most of them, however, deserted to be "canna-mo-boob-o-lized" in the goat and dog show, which, by the way, was "the only one of its kind now in existence."

On the way home, the usual hilarity was indulged in and every one was kept dodging to the tune of "Peanuts in the Air." Besides having a most enjoyable time, the students acquired many new ideas which will prove helpful in their study of agriculture, and all seemed to consider the day as one well spent.

Hunt Championed

The Oregon City Courier has given a great deal of space in their recent issues to the supposed evasion of the prohibition question, by Guy T. Hunt, of Garfield, the Republican candidate for the legislature.

Mr. Hunt probably had good reasons for not answering the question as put to him by the editor of the Courier, but the fact remains that their attack on him has undoubtedly hurt his candidacy throughout this county.

Mr. A. O. Whitcomb of Garfield has now come to the front as the champion of his neighbor and has written a strong letter to the Courier, stating emphatically where Mr. Hunt stands and his reasons for not having come out in the open before. Mr. Hunt is for prohibition, personally, and all people in this section of the county, are conversant with his fight against "booze" in connection with the Garfield Country Club.

If the people of the state vote dry, he will enforce that law, and if they vote the state wet, he will enforce the laws regarding the prohibition of liquor into any present dry territory, or territory that may be voted dry at a latter date.

Eagle Creek Grange held its regular Saturday meeting with about 20 of the members in attendance. The meeting was a pleasant and instructive one. A fine dinner was partaken of and a larger attendance is expected next month.

The report comes from Springfield, that many of the voters in that district, said they would gladly vote for any measure that would help Estacada pave its streets, rather than vote for a Union High School. Maybe we are being laughed at.

Editorials

Single House Legislature

Election time will soon be here, and just now we are hearing much of the prohibition amendment. But we must not think that this is the only amendment coming up this fall that demands our attention. There are many other bills that should be voted on, and voted on carefully. Among them, one of the most important is, the Single House Legislature Bill.

This bill is proposed by the State Grange, Oregon State Federation of Labor, Farmers' Union and other such organizations.

In the early days of our nation it would have been a hard thing to find a city that was not governed by two groups of men comprising the governing body of the city, because they copied their system from the English Parliament. Today, if we were to look for a city controlled by the Two-House system, we would find comparatively few of them. They have done away with the bicameral system, and have established instead, a One-House Council system.

The State Senate has become a thing of the past. The legislatures of the different states were copied after the Two-House system of Congress. Congress copied the bicameral system from England. The two houses may be needed in Congress, but in a State Legislature where they do not consider foreign relations and where their business deals with only local questions, then the government is much more like a city.

The Two House system today causes much more expense on account of the extra clerk hire. In the year 1909, the Legislature of Oregon spent almost ten times as much for clerk hire alone, as the One House Legislature of British Columbia.

Today it takes a Philadelphia lawyer to know what is going on in the complicated Two House system of the State of Oregon. These secret methods would be largely abolished if our State was controlled by One House, for then each member could be held responsible for his own acts.

The State Senate no longer acts as a check on the bad bills. It is useless as far as the check is concerned, because in this progressive state of Oregon we have higher and better checks than the Senate, such is the Governor's veto, Initiative and Referendum, and the Supreme Court.

The opponents of this measure point out that the Single House has been tried and is found wanting, but in every instance they point out it was not given a fair trial. It was stated that the legislatures of Georgia, Pennsylvania, and Vermont tried the unicameral system "but the instability and passion which marked their proceedings so apparent that the people of each of these states caused their constitutions to be revised and the dual-chamber system established and maintained as it is in all other states of the Union." But we must remember that these states tried this Single Chamber system just after the American Revolution. Can we expect a new form of government, such as the Single House to have a successful origin, at a time when the country is in a turmoil such as our nation was in at that time?

For similar reasons we find that the One House system was not successful in France, because it originated during the French Revolution. But in every instance where the proposed system has been given a fair trial we find it still in use. All the larger cities are controlled by a Single Chamber, seven of the nine provinces of Canada have the system in successful operation, all but six of the Swiss states are governed by one body, while Norway has had the system for a hundred years.

Oregon was among the first to adopt the Initiative and Referendum, the Corrupt Practice Act, and other progressive laws, it is now to be hoped that the majority of the voters at the coming November election, will see far enough in the future and vote on the affirmative side of the State Senate Constitutional Amendment.

Mr. Bettes, a former minister of Michigan, gave a prohibition lecture at the Methodist Church last Wednesday evening. He endeavored to convince the people that Oregon should "go dry" in the November election, by giving a series of jokes. The audience was certainly entertained for about an hour. Because the lecture was not well advertised, many, who might have been interested, did not attend.

P. R. L. & P. Co. officials will be in Estacada Thursday for the East Clackamas Fair meeting, and on Friday will attend the George Community Fair. Ed. Werlein will speak. Among those present will be F. D. Hunt, R. M. Townsend, and T. W. Cross.
