

Garfield Cheese Factory

After the special road meeting held by District 49, last Saturday, at the Country Club, the meeting turned its attention to the organization of some dairying industry for that locality.

The concensus of opinion was in favor of a cheese factory, in preference to any other form of milk and cream disposal. A committee was appointed to gather all of the data available on this subject, same to be submitted before a special mass meeting of the farmers. The original project comprises the entire Garfield country, with a centrally located factory.

These farmers mean business, and Mr. Spachman has guaranteed to increase his herd of cattle to twenty head or over.

G. T. Hunt has suggested that this matter come up at the same meeting with the cannery subject. It would not be advisable to conflict these important enterprises. A meeting should be held in Garfield proper, inasmuch as the people of that community are most vitally interested, although every farmer should be interested ultimately.

This plan is along the lines of standardizing the breeds of local cattle, with such strains as Holsteins or Jerseys.

Chas. Bard, recently of Springwater, but at present located at Garfield, Wash., in a letter to the Progress reports that the Holstein cows are making money for him and he is especially interested in the proposed Upper Garfield cattle club. Bard states that he expects to return to Estacada within another two years and will bring with him his herd of high grade Holsteins.

Baker-Linn Wedding

The wedding of Jas. Linn of Curriusville and Miss Audrey Baker of South Estacada, took place in Vancouver, Tuesday, November 17th.

The couple are living at the Linn home and were given the regular charivari Thursday night, with its dynamite accompaniment.

Garfield Band Nets $50.25

The entertainment and lunch box auction, which was given at the Garfield Grange Hall last Saturday night, brought out a big crowd that filled the hall beyond the standing room limit.

A delightful program was rendered, with selections by the band, solos, both male and female, recitations by children and grown-ups and dialogs by the boys. While the boxes did not realize the amount of money which they were worth, they were all sold and at good prices.

Following the auction, a lunch was served in the dining room, where the contents of the boxes were mixed with the good things prepared by the ladies.

Dancing and Shooting

This title is not meant to convey that Estacada dances are connected in anyway with shootings, but to call attention to the three big dances, which are scheduled for this week. Thanksgiving eve at the Eagle Creek Hall and Thanksgiving night, the annual C. I. C. dance at the Estacada Pavilion and everyone is invited to both affairs.

Saturday evening, Nov. 28th there will be a dance at the Garfield Country Club, from 8 to 12 P. M.

Don't forget the annual shoot at the Estacada Rod & Gun Club Grounds during the day. Bring your rifle, shotgun or revolver.

Ladies Aid Clear $28

If the Mexicans or Spaniards, who are supposed to have invented "hot tamales" could have tasted one of them as cooked and served by the Ladies Aid of the Estacada M. E. church last Friday, they would have quit cooking and joined the army or started a fresh revolution for another taste. The only objection was the scarcity of the corn husked dainties, as the late comers had to go without and no second helpings were possible.

Some Gold Brick

The Ogle Mt. Mining Co., our nearest mining project, brought out their brick of gold, Nov. 18th, from the mine, to civilization.

Inasmuch as this brick represented the season's output and weighed 447 ounces, worth about $20. per ounce, its contemplated trip through the mountains was not advertised in advance. Another year of steady operation should see many such amounts of gold brought out.

Corn Contest

Through the efforts of the George Commercial and Social Club, a contest is being contemplated with a prize for the best showing of home grown corn, at next year's fair.

The George people are making arrangements to obtain the best of seed corn, so that all contestants will start on an equal footing.

As a suggestion, in order to get acclimated seed, John Ely, Edward Still and others, grew perfect corn last year.

School Notes

Gladys Carpenter, School Editor

As school will not reopen until Monday, the many high school pupils from away have gone home to visit, and the football boys are planning to have their share of the Thanksgiving "eats" since they are now out of training.

Debate tryout will take place Friday, December 11th.

A very good Thanksgiving programme was rendered by the Websterian Literary Society, Friday the 20th. A number of visitors were present.

The second of the grade spelling contests was held last Friday. First honors went to the Fifth grade whose average was 87.2%; the Sixth grade made the lowest average which was 78.3%. Those contests will be held regularly every two weeks to prepare the grades for the district and county spelling contests in the spring.

Death of Mrs. J. A. Marchbank

Mrs. Jas. A. Marchbank of North Yakima, Wash., formerly of Springwater, died last Saturday after a lingering illness.

The body was brought to Estacada last Monday afternoon and the burial was in charge of Undertaker Henthorn. The funeral services were held at the Springwater Presbyterian Church with interment at the Springwater cemetery.

Mrs. Marchbank was Miss Jennie Howell of Springwater and leaves a number of relatives and friends in that community.

Mrs. Marchbank is survived by her husband and four children.

The Progress and their many friends express their sincerest sympathy to them in this bereavement.

There were about seventy people in attendance at the Eagle Creek Grange meeting last Saturday. It being the Saturday before Thanksgiving, the lady members prepared a regular Thanksgiving dinner. Mr. H. E. Davis, president of the Gresham Fruit Growers' Assn., gave a talk on the Gresham cannery.

Adolph Weiderhold of Bissell recently brought to Estacada a 1195 lb. steer which he sold to Fred Jorg of the Palace Market for 6 cents per pound. If the owner had taken the time and gone to the expense of marketing the critter in Portland, he would not have made as much money on the deal, as the Portland price was $7.35 that day.
