

School Notes

The winners of the Adelphic-Websterian football game, which was played on the morning of November 25th, did a rather unusual thing that evening; for instead of being entertained by the losing society, the Adelphics entertained the Websterians in honor of the event. Since a large number of the students had left Wednesday afternoon for their homes, the attendance was smaller than it otherwise would have been, nevertheless, speeches, puzzle games and refreshments were the features of the evening.

Last Monday night at 6:30 the girls of the Websterian society, assisted by Miss Jones, gave a supper to the boys of the society. (Mr. Ford and Mr. Guthrie being two of the boys) in honor of the 18-0 defeat administered by the Adelphics in football. After supper, games formed the principal amusement until ten o'clock when everyone departed, after a unanimous vote that the boys on the football field and the girls on the entertainment committee certainly showed "Websterian Spirit".

The Adelphic Literary Society will give the following college programme, Friday afternoon, December 4th at 2:05. Everyone invited. Fair Harvard..... Harvard Chorus

Gun Club to Shoot Again

The Estacada Rod & Gun Club are planning to hold another rifle and shot gun shoot, at the club grounds, Christmas Day, with turkeys and chickens for prizes.

The Thanksgiving shoot was well attended and many good scores were made. The affair was well conducted and the "Thanksgiving bottle", which characterized last year's shoot, was not in evidence. "That bottle" can do little harm at a fly casting tournament or on a fishing trip, but it does not fit in well around guns.

The club was able to show a profit of about $12. for the day, which will likely be invested, as part of the $36. necessary to purchase a new Leggett trap. The management hopes to have the new clay pigeon trap ready for the Christmas shoot and it will add much to the enjoyment of the sport, for the shooting can be carried on much faster and double birds can be thrown. Everyone is invited to attend and take part, and those not wishing to compete for prizes, may enter for the sport of it.

Choral Concert

Elsewhere in this paper will be found the program to be rendered by the Springwater Choral Society, at the Springwater Presbyterian Church, Saturday evening, December 12th.

The majority of the people in this community have had the pleasure of hearing many of these musicians individually, at various local entertainments, but not many have had the pleasure of attending one of their big choral concerts.

The public generally are prone to look far afield for high grade musical entertainment, when in reality, it is in our midst. This chorus is under the direction of Mr. David Horner of Dodge, who, for many years, prior to locating here, was choir master in one of the large English churches. His sons, Fred and Harold, have fine voices and as soloists they have been heard in Estacada several times. It is unnecessary to call attention to the beautiful playing of Mr. and Mrs. Aue, as their reputation is too well known. Miss Mary Folsom is a local girl, whose piano playing has already charmed more than one audience.

This concert will be the best that has yet been given by this organization and a big crowd of people should attend. Arrangements can easily be made for Estacada people desiring to be present, to join together and obtain suitable conveyances.

Barton Bridge Dedication Delayed

Word has been received that the formal dedication of the Barton bridge, probably will not take place until about next May, owing to the poor condition of the roads nearby. At that time a big affair is promised and with the Barton and Logan people behind it, it will make the Clackamas river proud to be allowed to pass under it.

Hunters Return

Edgar and Henry Heiple of Eagle Creek, returned recently from a five days session with the wild geese in the Arlington district. They brought back 41 birds and distributed them among their many friends. The boys were the guests of Fred Wade of Olex, a cousin of Wilbur Wade of Currinsville, who showed them the best kind of a time and with his auto took them to and from the best hunting grounds.
