Owing to the recent deaths and illness in our midst in the past few months, many people are thinking about and considering the more serious phases of life and, while every effort should be made to physically guard against diseases, too much effort cannot be exercised in building up our moral lives and making us more fit to meet our Maker, when the time comes.

While the spraying machine is cleaning up the nearby fruit trees, it is a shame that they cannot spray the moss from a few other conditions now current in and about Estacada, including our sidewalks, pavements and even our own backs.

Estacada people had better begin agitating the annual Spring Clean-up now. The alleys are full of tin cans and waste and the streets are not much better in places. Such a clean-up as was held three years ago would add a great deal to local values and the joy of living.

Have you stated your attitude yet to the County Court on the subject of Advertising Clackamas County at San Francisco or at our home Fairs? If not, get busy and don't holler afterwards.

A Garfield resident has suggested that Eastern Clackamas County ought to appoint a "Lookout Committee" whose unpaid duties will consist of keeping a watchful and friendly eye on the doings of the various offices and commissions at our County Seat, in order to keep our people well posted on how the county is run and to go on record for or against the various expenditures and their methods. Too much of our kicking against county management is due to our ignorance and lack of interest in these vital matters.

Will it add to the high cost of living, if Estacada gets absolutely pure water from the South Fork to replace the present nourishing soup, that flows through our mains?

Last Sunday's Portland Oregonian reproduced an essay written by one of the Juniors of the Estacada High School, on the subject of the superiority of the Estacada Schools. The essay was a good one, especially well written and paid honest tribute to our schools, and their management. As always, the Estacada Schools are our best asset and as ever our best advertisement.

Fruit Inspector P. F. Standish has made arrangements with W. R. Reid of Garfield to do power spraying in and about Estacada. Those desiring work done, should get their trees in shape at once by pruning and scraping off the heavy moss. The machine will be ready for work in about one week.

High School Dramatics

The young people of the Estacada High School will present their annual play, entitled The Elopement of Ellen, next Friday evening, January 29th, at 8 P.M., at the Boner Theatre in Estacada. The school plays in the past have always afforded the best of entertainment and this year's bids fair to eclipse the former ones, for the participants have practised their respective parts for many weeks and all of them have unusual histrionic ability. The following is the program and with the musical numbers, promises a treat to all who attend.

Can You See Any Joke to This?

A prominent farmer of this locality, last week, asked that his For Sale advertisement be placed in the reading columns of the Progress where it would be seen.

He was informed that there was "nothing doing" as the reading columns were for news and a mixture of ads among the items would cheapen the whole paper and lessen the value of the reading matter. He agreed with the Progress' stand on the matter, but feared his want advertisement would not be seen in the Want Ad column. His ad appears this week in the proper column and in leaving he asked, "Who is the party that is offering to sell a stump puller, as advertised in last week's issue?" That was only the fourth inquiry that day about the same stump puller, and still he wondered if people read that column.

Progress Want Ads certainly bring the inquiries and have to date sold a large amount of miscellaneous articles, such as cattle, hogs, poultry, buggies, horses, implements, etc.

Wood Cutters Protected

Representative Hunt recently submitted a bill in the Legislature allowing woodcutters the right to place a lien against the wood cut, covering their wages. This right has always been allowed to carpenters, against a building and should be extended to the woodcutters. The bill passed the house with little opposition and it is hoped that it will pass through the Senate as easily.
