Hunt's Bill Passes House

Representative Hunt's road bill, repealing the law that bids must be asked for all work costing $1,000 or more; was passed by the house and as no opposition to it has appeared yet, it likely will pass the Senate.

Representative Hunt is trying to keep his friends back home posted on the legislative matters, for he is having copies of all bills mailed to interested parties and is taking time to write personal letters, relative to same.

School News

Contributed

Last Friday afternoon the Adelphics gave a very successful programme. Due to the fair being on this Friday no programme will be rendered. The students with the aid of the advisors endeavor to put numbers on the programme which will not only be new and entertaining but also in many cases very instructive. So on Friday afternoon, plan to visit the school and you will find that you will become differently inclined towards the school and more interested in the work.

Having been defeated 47 to 18 last Saturday evening the H. S. Basketball team returned home from St Johns in a rather quiet manner. The team seems to have met, in almost all the games played this season, with teams which have surprised them in both size and experience. But forgetting past defeats it is hoped that the "tide" may turn for the better, putting our team in the lead.

The many friends of J. C. Peterson of Springwater will be sorry to hear that it was necessary for him to return this week to the good Samaritan Hospital in Portland, to undergo another operation.

Corbett Pastor Preaches

W. F. Reeder, who is pastor of the Christian church at Corbett, Oregon, occupied the pulpit of the Estacada Christian church last Sunday morning and evening. During the course of his talks he proved rather sensational in his criticism of some of Estacada's institutions and recreations, which he believes need remedying. During his stay in Estacada, he was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Woodie.

"Mrs. Stubbin's Book Agent"

Everyone is invited to get acquainted with her or him, and incidentally enjoy one of those famous Currinsville Ladies Aid Society's Chicken Suppers, at Ely's Hall, Feb. 12th at 8 P.M. Admission 15c and 25c. "Mrs. Stubbin's Book Agent" is the name of the play that is to be given as part of the program.

Secrecy

Has your wife been acting queerly for the past two weeks; wearing a startled look, and a surprised expression every time you came upon her suddenly?

Dont worry old man! She is merely planning her masquerade suit for the coming C. I. C. Masquerade Dance next Monday night.

Priscilla Club Meet

The Priscilla Club of Currinsville met at the home of Mrs. H. H. Yount on Saturday, Feb. 6th. About 20 members were present with one visitor, Mrs. Cutter of Cal.

The roll was called and each member answered with a quotation which proved very interesting and amusing. The general business was transacted when a dainty lunch was served.

Mrs. J. F. Standish and daughter Margaret of Portland, and Miss Martha Standish of Grand Rapids, Mich. spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Dunlop of Garfield, where Miss Standish is remaining for a week's visit.

Frank Cockerline of Viola, the poultry expert, certainly has'nt time to count his chickens before they hatch, as the eggs now in his three big incubators number almost the 2,000 mark. His brother Clark is going into the business on an equally large scale.

P. F. Standish of Garfield, county fruit inspector, while attending the convention of state fruit inspectors at Corvallis, last week, was elected vice president of the Oregon State Assn. of Fruit Inspectors.

C. A. Jacques of Lower Garfield has accepted a position with Jennings Furniture Co. of Portland, which he accepted Feb. 1st.

Mrs. Roger Cary of Estacada, who has been in Portland for the past five weeks, attending her mother, Mrs. W. R. Stokes, who has been ill with pneumonia; returned home the latter part of last week.

Mrs. F. F. Irvine and son Roy, of McMinnville, are visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Ellison of Estacada.

Jas. Taylor of Currinsville departed last Saturday for Bellingham, Wash., where he has a position as a mechanic.

Miss Ethel Hale is visiting this week with relatives in Salem.

Mrs. C. C. Saling of Currinsville, entertained Sunday at dinner for her neice, Ruth Saling, in honor of her 14th birthday.
