News Notes From All Sections

Possibly owing to lack of news or spring planting, no news items were received this week from Garfield, Springwater, Alsbaugh, Currinsville or Bartor.

Postmaster A. N. Johnson of Estacada has received about two table-spoons of alfalfa bacteria for inoculation of the seed before planting. This small amount of the bacteria is sufficient to treat seed for a one acre planting. Mr. Johnson is getting his land ready now and expects to raise a couple of acres of alfalfa for hog food.

A. E. Morgan of Moscow, Idaho spent a few days last week, visiting at the homes of his uncles, C. C. and E. E. Saling of Currinsville. Mr. Morgan was on his way home from a California trip.

Bert Byers, the genial assistant at the B. H. Finch Hardware Store, spent last Saturday in Portland, where he purchased an extra fine line of fishing tackle for the store, comprising one of the most complete lines of piscatorial articles ever offered for sale in Estacada.

John Brown of Gresham, the insurance man, was in town Saturday in behalf of the old reliable Oregon Fire Insurance and other old line companies. He says business is improving in his line.

Reports of last Sunday's baseball game between the married and single men of Estacada, are rather conflicting as to the final score, but the consensus of opinion is that the married boys again proved their supremacy over the kids.

Ennis Townsend and wife have returned to Estacada, where they will remain for a time. For the past few months, they have been located at Oysterville, Wash., where he has been engaged in commercial fishing. If a ball team is in sight for Estacada this season, Ennis can probably be persuaded to remain, and the fans will welcome him.

The Palace Meat Market of Estacada, in keeping with its new coat of paint and otherwise attractive appearance, has a new flooring of linoleum, which makes the shop more inviting.

B. R. Kimmel, who has been working for the past few months at Bull Run, returned last Sunday to his home in Estacada, where he will remain.

The residents on the Boulevard and Stafford Street in Estacada, have already cleaned their lots and the alley between, and are now ready for the Clean Up Day.

The Eagle Creek dance, which was announced in these columns for April 17th, has been postponed until April 24th.

A baby boy was born, March 23rd, to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Dubois of Estacada. Last reports show mother and son to be getting along finely.

The Christian Endeavor meeting, held last Sunday evening at the George church, under the leadership of Chris Johnson, was well attended. Miss Hulda Paulson entertained the society Wednesday evening at an enjoyable social evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Delp of Estacada recently traded their 45 acres in Garfield for a valuable apartment house property, at the corner of E. Oak and Union Aves., Portland and are leaving at once to take charge of their new acquisition.

Marshal Ames of Estacada has been busy for the past few days working on a few of the pre-eminaries, incidental to the coming Clean Up Day, having already cleaned up and burned a large quantity of the rubbish on the city's property.

The Five Hundred Club party, held at the George club house last Saturday evening brought out a crowd of the young folks. Miss Flora Johnson and Carol Lits winning the first prizes, with Otto Paulson and Henry Johnson capturing the "booby" trophies. A delightful party was held at the club house, St. Patrick's evening.
