Killing the Fly Early Saves Grief Later On

"Overcome the feeling some people have that flies are not so bad after all. Having done that, convince them that a flyless town is possible."

"Many persons do not really think flies are very nasty. They fish them out of milk and gravy, but they eat the gravy and drink the milk. Convince them that the fly is deadly.

"Remember always the motto: 'Cooperative good will.' You can chase the same fly all summer but you have to catch it only once. Better, let it catch itself. Begin early; one pair in April may mean millions of flies in July."

The Home Merchant

The home merchant. Who is he?

He is the chap who gives you credit when you are financially broke, and carries your account until you are able to pay.

He is the chap who gives you back your money or makes exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought.

He is the chap who stands behind his guaranty, and makes restoration of all losses that you may sustain on the goods you buy.

He is the chap who meets you at the door with a handshake, and lets you out with a message to the "kids," and a real come-again goodby.

He is the only chap who meets and greets you on the street every day in the year, and takes a neighborly interest in your family and your affairs.

He is the chap whose clerks and bookkeepers and other employes live in Estacada and spend their money with you and with other Estacada people.

He is the chap who pays heavy taxes to help support Estacada schools, and maintains the Estacada fire department, lighting and water service.

He is the chap who helps support Estacada churches and charity organizations, lodges, and talks for Estacada and boosts for Estacada every day in the year.

He is the chap who visits you when you are sick, sends flowers to your family when you die, and follows your body out among the trees and tombs, as far as human feet may travel with the dead.

He is the home merchant—your neighbor—your friend—your helper in times of need.

Dont you think you ought to trade with him, and be his friend and his helper in the time of his need?

Dont you know that every dollar that you send out of Estacada for merchandise, is sent to strangers—to men who never spend a dollar in Estacada—to men who would not trust you for a box of matches—to men who would turn you over to the police if you should enter their offices?

You dont save much, frequently nothing, when you send your money out of Estacada, and you take all the risk yourself of short weight or measure and of getting damaged or inferior goods. And dont you know that the growth and prosperity of Estacada depends very largely upon the success and prosperity of the home merchants? Out-of-town people judge our city by the appearance of our stores and the degree of enterprise shown by our merchants. And our home merchants can not succeed unless home folks give them loyal support.

On the occasion of the celebration of the 89th birthday of James J. Gibson of Eagle Creek, there was a gathering of 32 relatives and friends at his home, who partook of a bounteous dinner. Mr. Gibson came to Oregon from Iowa in 1867, and has been a resident of his adopted state ever since.

- Do not milk with dirty hands
- Do not use a wide top pail
- Do not allow milk to stand in the stable

Things a dairyman should do.

- Keep cows clean
- Wipe tanks and udders just before milking.
- Avoid dust in the stable at milking time
- Have clean hands and clothing while milking and handling milk
- Thoroughly cleanse and scald all utensils and keep in clean place
- Use a small top milk pail

THE POULTRYMAN.

Ice water is a fine thing for summer, but it is hard on poultry in winter.

Red wates have enjoyed the tender flesh of the youngsters this past summer and fall. See that they don't do it again.

What is the use of keeping any fowls that will not pay for their board? Market the losers.

Feed your poultry well on good wholesome feed but see that there is no waste.

Plan to raise a good supply of chicks next spring from the very best stock you have.

Be sure that the male at the head of a flock of poultry is pure bred.

Feeding For Winter Eggs.

It is certain that profits and results from the hen coop will not be satisfactory if feeding for winter consists of corn or meat made from corn alone for neither is sufficiently nitrogenous and does not supply proper material for egg laying unless fed in combination with other foods, such as milk ground bone, clover and vegetables. The hens should be fed in such a manner as to induce scratching and exercises. Wheat, maize barley and sunflower seed have been found very good food for promoting winter laying, and much success has attended the feeding of a warm mash of cut clover and barley meal bran, green cut bone and skim milk.
