Garfield Tract Sold

Negotiations have just been consumated, which comprise the sale of 100 acres of the W. R. Stokes property in Garfield, to a Mr. Henry Wulf of Portland.

The Stokes property consists of about 140 acres of the highest improved land in this section, being largely planted to thrifty young apple trees. The purchaser is a capitalist with similar interests in Hood River and other points and his investing in this section, is a good indication of its future. For the time being, the property will be in charge of Mr. Laing, its present overseer.

This deal was handled through the agency of E. S. Wooster of Estacada, who is one of the best real estate men in the county and one of Clackamas' optimistic land dealers.

BOATING ACCIDENT AT ESTACADA Local People Come To Rescue

A double drowning was narrowly averted last Sunday afternoon in Lake Estacada, only by the the cool headedness and prompt action of W. B. Simmons of Estacada and Jas. Freeman of Portland.

A man and woman from Oregon City, had been gathering ferns along the steep rock banks of Estacada lake fr m a boat and in attempting to stand on the bow and reach a higher plant, the boat swamped.

About one hundred yards from the accident, a party comprising Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Simmons, Jas. Freeman and a friend were fishing. Owing to the load in Simmon's boat it was necessary for him to first unload the ladies on a nearby log jam before attempting a rescue of the struggling pair.

By the time Simmons and Freeman reached the scene of the accident, the victims were hanging onto the edge of the nearly submerged boat. When rescued the couple were severely chilled and the man was too badly cramped by the cold water to help himself.

The scared pair went to the Estacada hotel, where after being dried out, they were taken by C. W. Devore in his auto to Oregon City.

During the excitement, Simmons lost a valuable rod, reel and tackle, but the man rescued has since made good this loss and with profuse thanks has sworn to hereafter keep away from water.

The Poor County Is Sued Again

Chas. DeFord of Barton, who last January was injured severely while at work in the Barton gravel pit, has begun suit against Clackamas county to recover $25,000. damages.

The plaintiff is 43 years old, has a wife and three children, and alleges that owing to the injury to his spine, back and ribs, he is unable to resume his former work.

Estacada High School Lead

Assistant State Superintendent of Education, Frank K. Wells of Salem, who last week visited the county schools, reports that the Estacada High School comes the nearest to being standard of any high school in the county. A few books and a few science instruments represent the deficiency, which stands between the present school and a perfectly standardized one.

Fair Stockholders Plan 1915 Season

$1. PER YEAR

Deason

Out of the 636 shares in the Clackamas County Fair association, 354 were represented at the annual meeting Saturday afternoon in the county courtroom.

Judge Grant B. Dimick, C. N. Wait, W. H. Bair, W. W. Everhart, George Randall and George Lazelle were elected directors. Mr. Lazelle is the only new member of the board and he takes the place of O. E. Freytag, who is now at the Panama Pacific exhibition as a special representative of Clackamas county. The directors will meet within a few days to elect officers. The stockholders recommended that Ward B. Lawton be re-elected secretary of the association.

The directors were authorized to borrow money to pay off the floating indebtedness of the association and to pay one mortgage which is overdue. The total indebtedness of the association is about $7800 and the value of the fair grounds at Canby, excluding improvements, is conservatively placed at $10,000,

The dates of the fair have been set for September 20 to 23 which will give exhibitors plenty of time to enter their displays at the state fair at Salem. The Southern Pacific trains will stop at Canby this year so that the walk from Canby to the grounds will be saved by visitors who plan to make the trip by train.
