Improvement On Rural Route

Beginning last week, A. Demoy, in charge of the mail distribution on R. F. D. No. 1, Estacada, is driving a snappy team of mules, hitched to a good buggy, in place of his former two wheel cart of one horse power.

The horses, formerly used on the route are for sale, for their successors have proven to be faster and ultimately will be taught to bray, to announce the arrival of the mail.

The work of plastering the new building, to be used by Dales and the East Clackamas Supply Co. in Estacada, is being done under the direction of L. H. Burd of Lents. It is expected the building will be ready for occupancy by June 1st.

Notice—Clean Up Day Team Owners

Will the owners of teams, who worked on Clean Up Day, if they have not already been reimbursed to the amount of $2. per donated team, sign vouchers and present them to the City Recorder at once. Such money as was contributed for this work, has been turned over to the city and the council made an added contribution.

Committed To Asylum

Miss Alfontz Monckton, daughter of Rufus Monckton of Springwater, was committed to the state insane asylum at Salem last Saturday afternoon.

Wolf Or Dog?

Marshal A. G. Ames of Estacada is boiling hot over an article that recently appeared in an Oregon City paper in which it claimed that the wolf, trapped by Ames last month and on which he later collected the county bounty, was only a wild dog.

The statement is also made that Ames did not collect the state bounty, but that while attempting to do so, the species of the animal was discovered.

Ames emphatically denies this and claims that he has been paid both county and state bounties, and further deposes and says that the animal looked like a wolf, acted like a wolf and was a wolf and anyone disputing it will either have to eat their words or the wolf.

Late reports show that the Oregon City paper printed the story without having thoroughly investigated the facts and it has since been brought to light that Ames wolf was a wolf, but that someone else had received a bounty on an animal of doubtful species. To date Ames has not received the apology that should be forthcoming.

All You Want For 35c

The ladies of the Methodist church are promising a rare treat for the local epicures in the coming chicken and waffle dinner, to be held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Dale in Estacada, on the evening of May 25th, at 6 P. M. (P. S. The waffles will be swimming in real maple syrup.)
