Eastern Clackamas Pleases Banker

Wm. T. Wright, president of the First National Bank of Union, Or., accompanied by Mrs. Wright, spent the week end in Estacada, at the home of their son, Irwin D. Wright. During an auto trip into the surrounding country, Mr. Wright expressed great surprise in the present development of this section and as an experienced western banking man, predicted a great future for Estacada, owing to its unlimited contiguous fertile country.

Mr. Wright's brother, Wm. T. Wright, Jr. of Portland motored out Sunday afternoon, bringing his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gottfried Herbst of Pullman, Wash. to join the family reunion.

Wm. Wright, Jr., who is vice-president of the Scandinavian-American Bank of Portland, accompanied by his father and mother, returned home Sunday afternoon, but Mr. and Mrs. Herbst are remaining for a few days visit. Mr. and Mrs. Herbst, who are in charge of the musical conservatory of the Washington State College, rank among the leaders in musical circles in the west.

Cherry Feast

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Currin of Currinsville last Sunday afternoon entertained about forty of their friends, at their annual cherry eating feast. The Currin yard presented a gala appearance with a crowd of young people busily engaged in stripping the family cherry trees, eating their fill and smearing the balance on their dresses, collars, hands and faces. When the last auto load of cherry flavored frolicers departed, the genial host proceeded to clean up the remains and doctor up the thoroughly stripped trees.

Store Discontinued

Announcement is made by H. G. Trowbridge of Estacada, that his former store, the Garfield Mercantile Co. will be discontinued this week. All stock and furnishings are being moved into the East Clackamas Supply Co.'s building, in Estacada, of which Mr. Trowbridge is manager.

Dorcas Society Receives $17.00

A representative crowd of people from Estacada and surrounding country attended last Saturday night's performance at the Family Theatre and certainly received their 25c worth of show. The play given by the Garfield Dorcas Society, entitled "The Trouble at Satterlee's" was a treat and the acting of the local amateurs was the equal of professionals.

The leading part, as taken by Mrs. Bess Hyde Whitcomb, was excellent and received repeated applause. Miss Roberta Reid's interpretation of the lady principal of the girl's school, was a finished piece of acting, representing a modern prim and decorous old maid teacher. The leading comedy part was handled by Mrs. Kate W. Botkin and her impersonation of a scared Irish maid, kept up a continual laugh. Mrs. Grace Davis Jacobs portrayed a frivolous boarding school girl, who admirably assisted her room mate, Mrs. Whitcomb, in handling the plot. The other pupils at Miss Satterlee's finishing school were the Misses Ednah Deming, Ida Wagner and Elizabeth Reid and they amply filled the parts of typical papa's spoiled darlings receiving a boarding school polish.

An extra good bill of moving pictures followed the play and culminated the evening's enjoyment.

Handles Them Bare Handed

Miss Caroline Wiederhold of Bissell this week successfully hived two swarms of bees, without assistance. She accomplished this feat bare-handed and without a face covering and escaped any stings.

There are a number of expert bee handlers in this country, among them being J. B. Bowman of Garfield and S. Turel of Dodge.

Last week, D. L. Erdman of Sandy nearly lost his life, when he undertook to handle a swarm of bees that had left their hive. Mr. Erdman, who is an expert bee culturist, did not take the ordinary precaution of covering his hands and face and was consequently so badly stung, that he was unconscious when help arrived.

Play Shed Attraction

At a special meeting of the Parent-teacher association last Thursday it was decided that it would be a good thing to have a supervisor at the play shed on Saturday afternoons so that mothers might know that their children were taken care of while the mothers were free to enjoy themselves. Mrs. Ames was appointed chairman of a committee to see that some competent person was in charge each Saturday afternoon from 2 till 5 o'clock. The play shed will be locked on other days.

George Celebration

Arrangements are being perfected for a monster July 4th celebration to take place at the George Club house and grove, on Saturday, July 3rd. A fine program has been arranged, with dancing afternoon and evening.

Everyone is invited to attend and the Estacada people are especially urged to bring their lunches on that day and celebrate with their neighbors.

Government Loses

The United States Supreme Court, in their decision in the case of the O. & C. Land Grant has decided against the government and in favor of the Southern Pacific Co., thereby reversing the decision of the federal district court of Oregon.

The court has ordered a delay of six months, during which time Congress is expected to conserve the federal interests.

If this decision stands, it will mean the payment of $61,143.86 into the treasury of Clackamas county, covering the 1914-'15 taxes.

Oregon City Buys In Estacada

M. E. Park, the genial manager of the Oregon City Pacific Highway Garage, made a trip to Estacada this week to purchase a Ford machine from the local agent, J. W. Reed. This machine was to fill an Oregon City order, as the county seat garage was sold out.
